Performance Technologies Announces
Leadership Succession Plan

ROCHESTER, N.Y. - March 8, 2005 - Performance Technologies, Inc. (NASDAQ NM: PTIX), today announced that current President and Chief Executive Officer, Donald L. Turrell, will leave the Company's executive management at the end of 2005 to explore personal interests.

As part of the succession plan developed by the Performance Technologies' Board of Directors, Mr. Turrell will remain as a board member and will maintain active involvement throughout the transition of the Company's change in leadership.

Edgar Filing: PERFORMANCE TECHNOLOGIES INC \DE\ - Form 8-K

"By announcing my decision now to pursue personal interests," said Mr. Turrell, "it will enable ample time for the Board of Directors to select an appropriate successor. I have had the privilege of leading Performance Technologies over the past eight years as CEO and I believe the Company has some of the most innovative people in our industry, providing the organization with a very bright future. I look forward to assisting with the process to assure an orderly and smooth leadership change."

"Don Turrell has been a dedicated, key member of the executive management of Performance Technologies for nearly two decades," said John M. Slusser, Chairman of the Board. "We understand his desire to now pursue other personal interests and have established a Succession Committee that will oversee the process through which we will select a new Chief Executive Officer. Don will remain as President and CEO until a successor has been named, continue in a transitional role through 2005 and has indicated interest in serving on the Board of Directors thereafter."

Forward Looking Statements

The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 provides a "safe harbor" for certain forward-looking statements. This press release contains forward-looking statements, which reflect the Company's current views with respect to future events and financial performance, within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and is subject to the safe harbor provisions of those Sections.

These forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties and the Company's actual results could differ materially from those discussed in the forward-looking statements. These risks and uncertainties include, among other factors, general business and economic conditions, rapid technological changes accompanied by frequent new product introductions, competitive pressures, dependence on key customers, the attainment of design wins, fluctuations in quarterly and annual results, the reliance on a limited number of third party suppliers, limitations of the Company's manufacturing arrangements, the protection of the Company's proprietary technology, the dependence on key personnel, potential delays associated with the purchase and implementation of an enterprise-wide software system and potential impairments of investments. These statements should be read in conjunction with the audited Consolidated Financial Statements, the Notes thereto and Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of the Company as of December 31, 2003, as reported in its Annual Report on Form 10-K, and other documents as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
