PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

Inventoy.com, Inc. ("Inventoy") was incorporated August 11, 1999 in the state of Delaware. We seek to license toy designs to toy manufacturers and to act as a toy inventor's agent in licensing toy designs developed by others. Our licensing efforts will begin with 27 toy designs which we acquired from Kaplan Design Group ("KDG"), a New Jersey general partnership, of which our president and chairman of the board of directors Ed Kaplan and his sons Douglas Kaplan (Inventoy's secretary and director) and Michael Kaplan are partners. We expect to market these toy designs by both direct meetings with toy manufacturers' representatives and through a web site that will give the manufacturers an opportunity to review pictures and descriptions of new inventions at a single source to decide whether a face-to-face meeting would be useful. We have had no operations to date. We do not yet have an operational web site.

In order to gain further funding Inventoy, sold 1,111,000 shares of our common stock from October 2000 through April 2001 in a private placement offering. Ed Kaplan and Douglas Kaplan each own 300,000 shares of Inventoy common stock personally, and Ed Kaplan, Douglas Kaplan and Michael Kaplan are the partners of Kaplan Design Group which owns an additional 3,000,000 out of 5,221,000 shares outstanding.

RISK FACTORS

Investing in our common stock involves a high degree of risk. You should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties described below before you purchase any of our common stock.

Edgar Filing: INVENTOY COM INC - Form SB-2/A

If any of these risks or uncertainties actually occur, our business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially adversely affected. In this event you could lose all or part of your investment.

RISKS CONCERNING OUR BUSINESS

We Have No Operating History.

We are a new enterprise that has no operating history upon which an evaluation of our business and prospects can be based. We must, therefore, be considered to be subject to all of the risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise, including the prospective development and marketing costs, along with the uncertainties of being able to effectively market our products. We cannot assure you at this time that we will operate profitably or that we will have adequate working capital to meet our obligations as they become due. Because of our limited financial history, we believe that period-to-period comparisons of our results of operations will not be meaningful in the short term and should not be relied upon as indicators of future performance. (See DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS.)

We are Dependent Upon Ed Kaplan, Any Reduction in His Role in Inventoy Would Have a Material Adverse Effect.

The success of Inventoy is dependent on the vision, knowledge, business relationships and abilities of Inventoy's founder, CEO and president Ed Kaplan. Any reduction of Mr Kaplan's role in the business would have a material adverse effect on Inventoy. Inventoy does not have an employment contract with Mr. Kaplan.

Competition From Ed Kaplan Associates.

Ed Kaplan Associates, ("EKA") is a New Jersey general partnership, of which our president Ed Kaplan owns ten percent, and his sons Douglas Kaplan (our secretary), Michael Kaplan, and Steven Kaplan (of Kaplan Gottbetter & Levenson, LLP our legal counsel) each own thirty percent. EKA designs toys and markets toy designs to toy manufacturers. Ed Kaplan will continue to work at EKA part time, approximately 20 hours per month. However, EKA does not represent the toy designs of others, unlike Inventoy's business plan.

Toy Designers May be Reluctant to Use Inventoy as an Agent Due to Potential Conflicts of Interests

Toy designers may be reluctant to use Inventoy as an agent due to the fact that our management members have interests in other entities that are also in the business of designing toys and selling those ideas to toy manufacturers. (See MANAGEMENT.)

If the Toy Designs That We Recommend to the Toy Manufactures are Not Commercially Successful Then Our Access to the Toy Manufacturers Will be Greatly Reduced and Our Business Will Suffer Substantially.

Our ability to successfully market both the toy designs we own and those we represent as toy designer's agent will depend on our ability to regularly bring to the toy manufacturers new inventions and designs that are commercially successful. A limited number of commercial failures of designs we recommend would reduce the manufacturers' confidence in us and make it difficult for us to continue to have access to key decision makers for the toy manufacturers, and our business would suffer substantially.

We Could be Named as Defendants in Litigation Brought by Toy Inventors Regarding the Ownership of Toy Designs, Which Could Greatly Interfere With Our Business.

We believe that amateur toy inventors may be suspicious that the toy designs they have revealed to toy manufacturers will be "stolen" by the manufacturer. We will insist that manufacturers follow the industry practice of disclosing promptly any "in-house" designs that would conflict with the intellectual property developed by toy designers we represent. It is possible that inventors may file lawsuits against toy manufacturers who produce designs similar to those of the inventors we represent. As inventors' agent we may be named as a defendant in such litigation and because we have only a small staff any protracted or significant litigation would greatly interfere with our business.

We May Have Difficulty in Obtaining Additional Funding, If Required.

Although we believe that the funds that were raised through our most recent private placement offering of common stock will be sufficient for our needs for the next twelve months, if additional funds are needed, we may have difficulty obtaining them, and we may have to accept terms that would adversely affect our shareholders. For example, the terms of any future financings may impose restrictions on our right to declare dividends or on the manner in which we conduct our business. Also, lending institutions or private investors may impose restrictions on future decisions by us to make capital expenditures, acquisitions or asset sales.

We may not be able to locate additional funding sources at all or on acceptable terms. If we cannot raise funds on acceptable terms, if and when needed, we may not be able to grow our business or respond to competitive pressures or unanticipated requirements, which could seriously harm our business.

Larger and Better Funded Competition May Make It Difficult for Inventoy to Succeed.

There are many competitors that represent toy designers and market toy designs, many of which are larger and more established and with greater experience, and financial and personal resources than Inventoy. These competitors' advantages may result in the competitors having better access to toy manufacturers. These competitors may make it difficult for Inventoy to succeed.

Unless a Public Market Develops for Our Common Stock, You May Not be Able to Sell Your Shares.

There has been no public market for our common stock. There can be no assurance, moreover, that an active trading market will ever develop or, if developed, that it will be maintained. Failure to develop or maintain an active trading market could negatively affect the price of our securities, and you may be unable to sell your shares.

If Our Stock Does Become Publicly Traded, We Will Likely be Subject to the Penny Stock Rules.

Broker-dealer practices in connection with transactions in "penny stocks" are regulated by certain rules adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Penny stocks generally are equity securities with a price of less than $5.00 (other than securities registered on certain national securities exchanges or quoted on the Nasdaq Stock Market provided that current price and volume information with respect to transactions in such securities is provided by the exchange or system). The rules require that a broker-dealer, prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from the rules, deliver a standardized risk disclosure document that provides information about penny stocks and the risks in the penny stock market. The broker-dealer also must provide the customer with current bid and offer quotations for the penny stock, the compensation of the broker-dealer and its salesperson in connection with the transaction and monthly account statements showing the market value of each penny stock held in the customer's account. In addition, the rules generally require that prior to a transaction in a penny stock, the broker-dealer must make a special written determination that the penny stock is a suitable investment for the purchaser and receive the purchaser's written agreement to the transaction. These disclosure requirements may have the effect of reducing the liquidity of penny stocks. If our securities become subject to the penny stock rules, investors in the offering may find it more difficult to sell their securities. (See PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION.)

We May Not Qualify for NASD Over-the-Counter Electronic Bulletin Board Inclusion, and Therefore You May be Unable to Sell Your Shares.

Upon completion of this offering, we will attempt to have our common stock eligible for quotation on the NASD Over-the-Counter Electronic Bulletin Board ("OTCBB" or "Bulletin Board"). OTCBB eligible securities includes securities not listed on NASDAQ or a registered national securities in the U.S. and that are also required to file reports pursuant to Section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Act of 1933, and the company is current in its periodic securities reporting obligations. Inventoy has engaged a broker/dealer to file a Form 211 with the National Association of Securities Dealers ("NASD") in order to allow the quote of Inventory's common stock on the OTCBB. The scope of distribution will not affect the market maker's obligation or intention to file a form 2. For more information on the OTCBB see its website at www.otcbb.com. If for any reason, however, any of our securities are not eligible for continued quotation on the Bulletin Board or a public trading market does not develop, purchasers of the shares may have difficulty selling their securities should they desire to do so. If we are unable to satisfy the requirements for quotation on the Bulletin Board, any trading in our common stock would be conducted in the over-the-counter market in what are commonly referred to as the "pink sheets". As a result, an investor may find it more difficult to dispose of, or to obtain accurate quotations as to the price of, the securities offered hereby. The above-described rules may materially adversely affect the liquidity of the market for our securities. (See PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION.)

There May Not be a Market for the Securities After the Offering, and Therefore Investors May be Unable to Sell Their Securities.

There may not be a sufficient distribution of the securities for a market maker to make a market and begin trading in the securities. We do not currently meet the requirements such as income, shareholders' equity and number of public shares outstanding, to have our shares listed on a stock exchange in the United States or quoted on the NASDAQ over-the-counter market. We have a market-maker who is willing to make a market in our common stock once the stock becomes sufficiently distributed, but we cannot give any assurance that we will achieve sufficient distribution for the market maker. Consequently, the securities may be an illiquid long-term investment. (See PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION.)

We are Controlled by Our Founder, President, Ceo and Chairman of the Board and by Our Secretary and Director Which May Result in You Having No Control in the Direction or Affairs of Inventoy.

Our founder, president, CEO and chairman of the board and our secretary and director (who are father and son) together control approximately 69% of our outstanding common stock. As a result, they have the ability to control our company and direct our affairs and business, including the election of directors and approval of significant corporate transactions. This concentration of ownership may have the effect of delaying, deferring or preventing a change in control of our company and may make some transactions more difficult or impossible without the support of these stockholders. Any of these events could decrease the market price of our common stock. (See SECURITY OWNERSHIP OF CERTAIN BENEFICIAL OWNERS AND MANAGEMENT.)

We Do Not Expect to Pay Dividends.

We do not anticipate paying cash dividends in the foreseeable future.

CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Prospectus contains certain financial information and statements regarding our operations and financial prospects of a forward-looking nature. Although these statements accurately reflect management's current understanding and beliefs, we caution you that certain important factors may affect our actual results and could cause such results to differ materially from any forward-looking statements which may be deemed to be made in this Prospectus. For this purpose, any statements contained in this Prospectus which are not statements of historical fact may be deemed to be forward-looking statements. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, words such as, "may", "will", "intend", "expect", "believe", "anticipate", "could", "estimate", "plan" or "continue" or the negative variations of those words or comparable terminology are intended to identify forward-looking statements. USE OF PROCEEDS

We will not receive any proceeds from the sale of the stockholder's shares offered by this prospectus. All proceeds from the sale of the stockholders' shares will be for the account of the selling shareholders.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Overview

Inventoy was incorporated on August 11, 1999, and seeks to license toy designs to toy manufacturers and to act as a toy inventor's agent in licensing toy designs developed by others. Additionally Inventoy will seek revenue from the sale of banner ads on the web page it plans to create. However, the expectation is that any revenue from the sale of banner ads will be minimal. Inventoy's licensing efforts begin with twenty-seven toy designs which were acquired from Kaplan Design Group ("KDG"), a New Jersey general partnership. Inventoy expects to market those toy designs by both direct meetings with toy manufacturers' representatives as well as through a website that will give the manufacturers an opportunity to review pictures and descriptions of new inventions at a single source to decide whether a fact-to-face meeting would be useful.

Inventoy's plan of operations for the next twelve months includes hiring a web designer to build Inventoy's web page, and soliciting new toy designs. The web page will take approximately four months build and cost approximately $25,000. We plan to hire a web designer later this year. We will rely on Ed Kaplan and Doug Kaplan's contacts in the toy industry to solicit new toy designs. We plan for the web page to also solicit new toy designs. Also, during the next twelve months Ed Kaplan will market Inventoy's current toy designs directly to toy manufactures' representatives.

From its inception to the time of filing this registration statement, Inventoy has been developing its business and had no operations. Inventory believes that it will not need to raise additional funds in the next twelve months.

Intellectual Property

We have no trademark, copyright or patent protection at this time. None of the designs we own are protected by patent protection. Generally, while some toy designs may be entitled to patent protection, the majority of toy designs will not meet the criteria for a utility patent protection. Some designs may be eligible for a limited degree of protection provided by design patents. However, in general most designs are protected only under the law of trade secrets. Under the law of trade secrets, the secret is legally protected only for so long as it is not disclosed to others other than by someone under an obligation to maintain its secrecy.

Competition

We expect to face intense competition both in our efforts to market new toy inventions to toy manufacturers and in our efforts to get new inventor customers for whom we can act as agent. There are several other companies seeking to assist toy inventors, one of the more successful companies is Haystack Toy Company. Insofar as marketing toy designs to the manufacturers is concerned, the major competition will be from the manufacturers' own in-house design departments. There are also approximately 150 independent toy design companies, many of which are sole proprietorships. The principal bases on which industry participants compete is on the perceived value of the toy design concept and the likelihood of it being manufactured and marketed.

Properties

At present, Inventoy owns no real property. Inventoy is currently operated out of Ed Kaplan's home in Boca Raton, Florida. We believe our present office space will be adequate for our needs for the foreseeable future.

Employees

As of July 19, 2001, we had no employees, other than our two officers and directors, Ed Kaplan and Douglas Kaplan and director Ron Beit-Halachmy.

DIVIDEND POLICY

We have never declared or paid any cash dividends on our common stock. We anticipate that any earnings will be retained for development and expansion of our business and we do not anticipate paying any cash dividends in the foreseeable future. Our board of directors has sole discretion to pay cash dividends based on our financial condition, results of operations, capital requirements, contractual obligations and other relevant factors.

Edgar Filing: INVENTOY COM INC - Form SB-2/A

DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

Inventoy.com, Inc. ("Inventoy") was incorporated August 11, 1999 in the state of Delaware. We seek to license toy designs to toy manufacturers and to act as a toy inventor's agent in licensing toy designs developed by others. Our licensing efforts will begin with 27 toy designs which we acquired from Kaplan Design Group ("KDG"). KDG is a New Jersey general partnership, of which Inventoy's president Ed Kaplan is a ten percent partner and his sons Douglas Kaplan (Inventoy's secretary) and Michael Kaplan are each forty-five percent partners. We expect to market these toy designs by both direct meetings with toy manufacturers' representatives and through a web site that will give the manufacturers an opportunity to review pictures and descriptions of new inventions at a single source to decide whether a face-to-face meeting would be useful. In both face-to-face meetings and disclosure of toy designs over the Internet, a submission sheet will be used that describes the toy design and who the authorized manufacturer is who is viewing the toy design. We have had no operations to date.

Initially we will look at the toy design concept to see if it makes sense or has been done before. Then we will evaluate the toy design to determine if it is something we think a toy manufacturer and retailer can and would manufacture and market. Then we will evaluate whether the toy design is expandable into a brand, whether it may be suitable for a series of related toys.

Industry Background

We believe that the business of most toy companies relies on the continuing development of new products as well as the redesigning of existing products for continuing market acceptance. We believe that the leading toy companies maintain a staff of designers, artists, model makers and engineers, and that much of this work is performed by that staff internally. However, we believe that most leading toy manufacturers also deal with a number of independent toy designers.

We believe that in recent years, the toy industry has experienced rapid consolidation. This is in part because the manufacturers want to offer a range of products across a broader variety of categories. The toy industry is also experiencing a shift toward greater consolidation of retail distribution channels, such as large specialty toy stores and discount retailers, including Toys R Us, Wal-Mart, Kmart and Target, which have increased their overall share of the retail market. Large retailers in turn are relying more and more on the large toy companies because of their financial stability and ability to support products through advertising and promotion and to distribute products on a national basis.

We believe that the larger toy companies have pursued a strategy of focusing on core product lines. Core product lines are those lines that are expected to be marketed for an extended period of time, and that historically provided relatively consistent growth in sales and profitability. By focusing on core product lines, toy manufacturers have been able to reduce their reliance on new product introductions and the associated risk and volatility. The combination of fewer manufacturers and decreased emphasis on new designs rather than the tried and true means that the independent toy inventor has fewer and fewer outlets for his inventions, and that each outlet is larger and therefore more difficult to "break into." We believe that these trends make the role of the inventor's agent increasingly important if a new design is to reach the marketplace. Larger manufacturers, particularly, maintain large internal development staffs, and getting a new idea before the decision-makers increasingly require an introduction by someone with a track record in the industry.

We believe that rights to designs and ideas developed by independent toy designers are usually acquired on an exclusive basis. Licensing agreements generally require the manufacturer to pay the designer a royalty on the manufacturer's net sales of the item. The royalty agreements usually also provide for advance royalties and minimum guarantees to the designer.

The Role of a Toy Inventor's Agent

We believe that the vast majority of new toy designs developed outside the large toy manufacturers are developed by professional toy inventors. However, a significant number of new designs do come from amateur inventors. Some of these inventors may have developed only a single product, and most of them don't have experience in dealing with toy manufacturers. We believe that for a variety of reasons the major toy manufacturers prefer to deal through a broker in negotiating arrangements with amateur inventors. We believe that many amateur inventors often suspect that the manufacturer may "steal" his or her invention once it is disclosed. However, often when a concept is presented to a toy manufacturer, the manufacturer has seen the idea before or has developed itself. The manufacturer will state this, usually in writing on a disclosure form. Toy agents and professional inventors are accustomed to this process; and there is a level of trust. We believe that an amateur, on the other hand, often doesn't trust the toy manufacturer and may think his or her idea has been stolen if it shows up on toy shelves the next year. The result is often a lawsuit with the toy manufacturer being portrayed as the "big company" against the "little guy." There is always a risk that a jury will side with the "little guy" no matter what the facts may be. An experienced toy agent is accustomed to the process by which existing inventions are disclosed and as an outsider can explain to the new inventor that if a toy manufacturer steals ideas from toy agents and professional inventors the manufacturer will stop having access to new ideas from this important source.

In addition, we believe that the inventor may have unrealistic expectations concerning the potential value of his invention or may underestimate the amount of additional, development plans required to bring to market. The professional toy agent is familiar with the process of developing the invention from the initial idea through the completion of a prototype. The toy agent also knows the prevailing amounts of royalties and other practices in the industry. The toy agent can independently confirm to the inventor the problems that may be facing the manufacturer in bringing the idea to market, or, if appropriate, persuade the manufacturer that a higher royalty is appropriate.

Sources of Revenue

We expect to earn money primarily from two sources. First, we will seek to license the inventory of 27 toy designs we currently have and possibly additional designs that may be developed by Ed Kaplan in the future. Second, we will receive a portion of the royalties paid to the inventors we expect to represent as agent. Additionally, we will also seek revenue from the sale of banner ads on the web page we are planning to create. We expect that any revenue from the sale of banner ads to be minimal.

We believe that toy inventors usually are paid for their inventions through a royalty on sales of the products they design. We believe that typical royalties range from 3% to 10% of the wholesale price charged by the manufacturer, with most royalties falling at or near 5%. The royalty is based on the price the manufacturer charges to its customers -- usually the wholesale cost. Manufacturers also pay advances, sometimes called earnest money, to show that they are committed to the idea. Usually the advance is based on the royalties that would be earned in the first quarter of shipments. We believe that typically the advance ranges from $5,000 to $50,000. The advance is subtracted from future royalties. Generally, royalties are paid quarterly.

Where we are licensing our own inventions, we will receive the entire royalty. Where we are acting as a broker for another inventor, our percentage will be subject to negotiation with the inventor. We believe that it will generally range from 40% to 50% of the royalty received by the inventor, with the actual percentage negotiated on a case-by-case basis depending upon, among other things, the amount of assistance we have to give the inventor in order to bring his product to a marketable state.

Selection Criteria

Toy designs for which we will act as agent will be selected based primarily on our judgment of the chances of their achieving commercial success and yielding significant royalties. Considerations will include how unique the toy design is, the likelihood of getting meaningful patent protection, the amount of any additional work required to bring the designs to a production stage and management's subjective "feel" for whether the design is in line with current consumer desires. These same considerations will affect the prominence we give to a particular design on our Web pages and the degree of effort put into marketing that design to toy manufacturers.

Importance of Relationships and Reputation

We believe that one of the most important factors that will make our business succeed or fail is the reputation of our president. One of the key hurdles faced by any independent toy inventor is getting his design before the appropriate decision maker at the manufacturer's level. We believe that an inventor with an established track record in the field is far more likely to be able to get the attention of these decision makers in order to present new designs. In addition, our experience is that knowing the key decision makers on a personal level goes a long way toward successfully arranging a personal meeting to present new designs. Our president, Ed Kaplan, has been a toy manufacturing executive for 26 years and ran a toy design company for 16 years, and is well known to most of the major toy manufacturers.

We believe that the terms of the above transactions are commercially reasonable and no less favorable to us than we could have obtained from an unaffiliated third party on an arm's length basis. To the extent we may enter into any agreements with related parties in the future, the board of directors has determined that such agreements must be on similar terms.

INDEMNIFICATION AND LIMITATION OF LIABILITY OF MANAGEMENT

This will limit your ability as shareholders to hold officers and directors liable and collect monetary damages for breaches of fiduciary duty, and requires us to indemnify officers and directors to the full extent permitted by law. Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act may be permitted to directors, officers, and controlling persons under these provisions or otherwise, we have been advised that in the opinion of the Securities and Exchange Commission, indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Act and is unenforceable.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The shares covered by this prospectus may be offered and sold from time to time by the selling stockholders. The term "selling stockholder" includes donees, pledgees, transferees or other successors-in-interest selling shares received after the date of this prospectus from a selling stockholder as a gift, pledge, partnership distribution or other non-sale related transfer. The selling stockholders will act independently of us in making decisions with respect to the timing, manner and size of each sale. The price is set at $.10 per share. The selling stockholders may sell their shares by one or more of, or a combination of, the following methods:

- a. purchase by a broker-dealer as principal and resale by such broker-dealer for its own account through this prospectus; and
- b. ordinary brokerage transactions and transactions in which the broker solicits purchasers.

In addition, any shares that qualify for sale under Rule 144 may be sold under Rule 144 rather than through this prospectus.

In offering the shares covered by this prospectus, the selling stockholders and any broker-dealers who execute sales for the selling stockholders may be deemed to be "underwriter" within the meaning of the Securities Act in connection with such sales. Any profits realized by the selling stockholders and the compensation of any broker-dealer may be deemed to be underwriting discounts and commissions.

Edgar Filing: INVENTOY COM INC - Form SB-2/A

In order to comply with the securities laws of certain states, if applicable, the shares must be sold in such jurisdictions only through registered or licensed brokers or dealers. In addition, in certain states the shares may not be sold unless they have been registered or qualified for sale in the applicable state or an exemption from the registration or qualification requirement is available and is complied with. Inventoy will be profiled in the Standard & Poor's publications or "manuals" which result in an exemption from blue sky state securities registration in 37 states (the manual exemption). Further exemption from registration may need to be done in the following 13 states not covered by the manual exemption, Alabama, California, Georgia, Illinois, Kentucky, Louisiana, Montana, New York, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia and Wisconsin.

MARKET FOR COMMON EQUITY

Shares Eligible for Future Sale

Market Information

There is no public trading market on which Inventoy's Common Stock is traded. Inventoy has engaged a broker/dealer to file a Form 211 with the National Association of Securities Dealers ("NASD") in order to allow the quote of Inventoy's common stock on the NASD Over the Counter Bulletin Board (OTCBB). There is no assurance that our common stock will be included on the OTCBB.

There are approximately forty-seven (47) record holders of common equity.

There are no outstanding options or warrants to purchase, or securities convertible into, common equity of Inventoy.

We have outstanding 5,221,000 shares of our common stock. Of these shares, 1,611,000 shares, will be freely tradable without restriction under the Securities Act unless held by our "affiliates" as that term is defined in Rule 144 under the Securities Act. These shares will be eligible for sale in the public market, subject to certain volume limitations and the expiration of applicable holding periods under Rule 144 under the Securities Act. Non-affiliates currently hold 31% of our outstanding shares. In general, under Rule 144 as currently in effect, a person (or persons whose shares are aggregated) who has beneficially owned restricted shares for at least one year (including the holding period of any prior owner or affiliate) would be entitled to sell within any three-month period a number of shares that does not exceed the greater of (1)% of the number of shares of common stock then outstanding or (2) the average weekly trading volume of the common stock during the four calendar weeks preceding the filing of a Form 144 with respect to such sale. Sales under Rule 144 are also subject to certain manner of sale provisions and notice requirements and to the availability of current public information about us. Under Rule 144(k), a person who is not deemed to have been an affiliate of us at any time during the three months preceding a sale, and who has beneficially owned the shares proposed to be sold for at least two years (including the holding period of any prior owner except an affiliate), is entitled to sell such shares without complying with the manner of sale, public information, volume limitation or notice provisions of Rule 144.

Edgar Filing: INVENTOY COM INC - Form SB-2/A

We can offer no assurance that an active public market in our shares will develop. Future sales of substantial amounts of our shares in the public market could adversely affect market prices prevailing from time to time and could impair our ability to raise capital through the sale of our equity securities.

1. Nature of Business

Inventoy.Com, Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated on August 11, 1999, seeks to license toy designs to toy manufacturers and to act as a toy inventor's agent in licensing toy designs developed by others. Additionally the company will seek revenue from the sale of banner ads on the web page it plans to create. However, the expectation is that any revenue from the sale of banner ads will be minimal. Inventoy's licensing efforts began with twenty-seven toy designs, which were acquired from Kaplan Design Group ("KDG"), a New Jersey general partnership. Inventoy expects to market those toy designs by both direct meetings with toy manufacturers' representatives as well as through a website that will give the manufacturers an opportunity to review pictures and descriptions of new inventions at a single source to decide whether a face-to-face meeting would be useful.

Edgar Filing: INVENTOY COM INC - Form SB-2/A

From inception through April 30, 2001, the Company has been in the developmental stage, developing its business plans, acquiring toy designs and raising capital. There have been no operations or revenues since inception.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles required management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities and matters for disclosure at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Purchased Toy Designs

During the fiscal year ended July 31, 2000 the Company acquired twenty-seven toy designs from Kaplan Design Group (KDG). The Company issued 3,000,000 shares of common stock at par value ($3,000) in consideration. The value of the toy designs represents KDG's out-of-pocket cost of acquiring them. Upon commencement of selling activity, these toy design costs will be amortized over the useful life of the designs, not to exceed three years, unless management determines sooner that the value of a design is impaired, in which case it is charged off to operations.

Item 24. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

The Delaware General Corporation Law provides for the indemnification of the officers, directors and corporate employees and agents of Inventoy.com, Inc. (the "Registrant") under certain circumstances as follows:

INDEMNIFICATION OF OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, EMPLOYEES AND AGENTS; INSURANCE.

(a) A corporation may indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of the corporation) by reason of the fact that he is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. The termination of any action, suit or proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not act in good faith and in a manner which he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful.

(b) A corporation may indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action or suit by or in the right of the corporation to procure a judgment in its favor by reason of the fact that he is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of such action or suit if he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation and except that no indemnification shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable to the corporation unless and only to the extent that the Court of Chancery or the court in which such action or suit was brought shall determine upon application that, despite the adjudication of liability but in view of all the circumstance of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses which the Court of Chancery or such court shall deem proper.

(c) To the extent that a director, officer, employee or agent of a corporation has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any action, suit or proceeding referred to in subsections (a) and (b) of this section, or in defense of any claim, issue or matter therein, he shall be indemnified against expenses (including attorney's fees) actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection therewith.

(d) Any indemnification under subsections (a) and (b) of this section (unless ordered by a court) shall be made by the corporation only as authorized in the specific case upon a determination that indemnification of the director, officer, employee or agent is proper in the circumstances because he has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in subsections (a) and (b) of this section. Such determination shall be made (1) by the board of directors by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who were not parties to such action, suit or proceeding, or (2) if such a quorum is not obtainable, or, even if obtainable a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in a written opinion, or (3) by the stockholders.

(e) Expenses incurred by an officer or director in defending any civil, criminal, administrative or investigative action, suit or proceeding may be paid by the corporation in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of such director to repay such amount if it shall ultimately be determined that he is not entitled to be indemnified by the corporation as authorized in this section. Such expenses including attorneys' fees incurred by other employees and agents may be so paid upon such terms and conditions, if any, as the board of directors deems appropriate.

(f) The indemnification and advancement expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, the other subsections of this section shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those seeking indemnification or advancement expenses may be entitled under any bylaw, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, both as to action in his official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office.

(g) A corporation shall have power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise against any liability asserted against him and incurred by him in any such capacity or arising out of his status as such, whether or not the corporation would have the power to indemnify him against such liability under this section.

(h) For purposes of this Section, references to "the corporation" shall include, in addition to the resulting corporation, any constituent corporation (including any constituent of a constituent) absorbed in a consolidation or merger which, if its separate existence had continued, would have had power and authority to indemnify its directors, officers and employees or agents so that any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of such constituent corporation, or is or was serving at the request of such constituent corporation as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise, shall stand in the same position under this section with respect to the resulting or surviving corporation as he would have with respect to such constituent corporation as he would have with respect to such constituent corporation if its separate existence had continued.

references to "serving at the request of the corporation" shall include any service as a director, officer, employee or agent of the corporation which imposes duties on, or involves services by, such director, officer, employee, or agent with respect to an employee benefit plan, its participants, or beneficiaries; and a person who acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries of an employee benefit plan shall be deemed to have acted in a manner "not opposed to the best interests of the corporation" as referred to in this section.

(j) The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, this section shall, unless otherwise provided when authorized or ratified, continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors, and administrators of such person.

Articles Ninth and Tenth of the Registrant's certificate of incorporation provide as follows:

NINTH:

The personal liability of the directors of the Corporation is hereby eliminated to the fullest extent permitted by the provisions of paragraph (7) of subsection (b) of Section 102 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, as the same may be amended and supplemented.

TENTH:

The Corporation shall, to the fullest extent permitted by the provisions of Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, as the same may be amended and supplemented, indemnify any and all persons whom it shall have power to indemnify under said section from and against any and all of the expenses, liabilities or other matters referred to in or covered by said section, and the indemnification provided for herein shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those indemnified may be entitled under any by-law, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, both as to action in his official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office, and shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director, officer, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of such a person.

Article VII of the Registrant's by-laws provides as follows:

ARTICLE VII - INDEMNIFICATION

Section 7.1. RIGHT TO INDEMNIFICATION. The Corporation shall indemnify and hold harmless, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law as it presently exists or may hereafter be amended, any person who was or is made or is threatened to be made a party or is otherwise involved in any action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (a "proceeding") by reason of the fact that he or she, or a person for whom he or she is the legal representative, is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation or is or was serving reasonably incurred by such person. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, the Corporation shall be required to indemnify a person in connection with a proceeding (or part thereof) initiated by such person only if the proceeding (or part thereof) was authorized by the Board of Directors of the Corporation.

Section 7.2. PREPAYMENT OF EXPENSES. The Corporation shall pay the expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred in defending any proceeding in advance of its final disposition; provided, however, that the payment of expenses incurred by a director or officer in advance of the final disposition of the proceeding shall be made only upon receipt of an undertaking by the director or officer to repay all amounts advanced if it should be ultimately determined that the director or officer is not entitled to be indemnified under this Article VII or otherwise.

Section 7.3. CLAIMS. If a claim for indemnification or payment of expenses under this Article VII is not paid in full within sixty days after a written claim therefor has been received by the Corporation, the claimant may file suit to recover the unpaid amount of such claim and, if successful in whole or in part, shall be entitled to be paid the expense of prosecuting such claim. In any such action the Corporation shall have the burden of proving that the claimant was not entitled to the requested indemnification or payment of expenses under applicable law.

Section 7.4. NONEXCLUSIVITY OF RIGHTS. The rights conferred on any person by this Article VII shall not be exclusive of any other rights which such person may have or hereafter acquire under any statute, provision of the Certificate of Incorporation, these Bylaws, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise.

Section 7.5. OTHER INDEMNIFICATION. The Corporation's obligation, if any, to indemnify any person who was or is serving at its request as a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, enterprise or nonprofit entity shall be reduced by any amount such person may collect as indemnification from such other corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, enterprise or nonprofit enterprise.
