Item 1.01

Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On November 30, 2004, SI International, Inc., a Delaware corporation ("SI International"), entered into a definitive Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Agreement") by and among SI International, Bridge Technology Corporation, a Virginia corporation ("Bridge Technology"), and the Bridge Technology shareholders. The terms of the Agreement provide that SI International will acquire all of the outstanding capital stock of Bridge Technology for $30 million in cash. Pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Agreement, a wholly-owned subsidiary of SI International to be formed for purposes of the transaction will merge with and into Bridge Technology, with Bridge Technology as the surviving corporation in the merger and continuing as a wholly-owned subsidiary of SI International. A portion of the purchase price will be held back by SI International for a period of 18 months in order to secure the post-closing indemnity obligations of the Bridge Technology shareholders.

The consummation of the acquisition is subject to a number of conditions, including the satisfactory completion of SI International's due diligence investigation, SI International obtaining the approval of its Board of Directors and SI International having obtained financing proceeds in an aggregate amount necessary to pay the purchase price and transaction fees. The Agreement also contemplates employment relationships and non-competition arrangements between SI International and the management shareholders, Joseph D. Gould and Ronald A. Dabbieri. There can be no assurances that the acquisition will be consummated.

The December 1, 2004 press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.

Exhibit No.	Description
99.1	Press Release Dated December 1, 2004*

This press release contains various remarks about the future expectations, plans and prospects of SI International, Inc. that constitute forward-looking statements for purposes of the safe harbor provisions under The Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The actual results of SI International, Inc. may differ materially from those indicated by these forward-looking statements as a result of various risks and uncertainties, including the following risks and uncertainties that relate specifically to the acquisition: (i) the risk that the transaction will not be consummated, including as a result of any of the conditions precedent; (ii) the ability to obtain government approvals required for closing the acquisition; (iii) the risk that the Bridge Technology businesses will not be integrated successfully into SI International; (iv) the risk that the expected benefits of the acquisition may not be realized, including the realization of accretive effects from the acquisition; and (v) SI International's increased indebtedness after the acquisition. Other non-acquisition related risks and uncertainties include: differences between authorized amounts and amounts received by SI International under government contracts; government customers' or prime contractors' failure to exercise options under contracts; changes in federal government (or other applicable) procurement laws, regulations, policies and budgets; SI International's ability to attract and retain qualified personnel; and the important factors discussed in the Risk Factors section of the annual report on Form 10-K/A filed by SI International, Inc. with the Securities and Exchange Commission and available directly from the Commission at www.sec.gov.
