Petrobras postpones tender bid for platforms construction

Company will publish new invitations to bid within two weeks

(Rio de Janeiro, February 11, 2003). PETROLEO BRASILEIRO S.A. Petrobras, (BOVESPA: PETR3 / PETR4, NYSE: PBR / PBRA, LATIBEX: XPBR / XPBRA), Brazil's largest oil and gas, petrochemicals and energy company, announces today in Rio de Janeiro that it is to postpone the tender bids for the construction of the P 51 and P 52 platforms. The final dates for the delivery of the competitive bids were to have been February 12, 19 and 26, respectively.

In the light of this decision and in accordance with its medium and long-term business policy, Petrobras is to re-examine the role of Brazilian industry in the construction of the two platforms.

Petrobras wishes to inform that the new criteria to be adopted in awarding the construction contracts will respect the conditions of international competitiveness. The Company also wishes to inform that it intends to postpone the tender bid for the shortest period possible and expects to announce the terms of the new invitations to bid within two weeks.

Petrobras is committed to reducing this postponement to the minimum such that the forecasted date for the two platforms to go into operation can be maintained for March 2006.
