Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 24, 2013, Innovus Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (“Innovus Pharma” or the “Company”) entered into an agreement and plan of merger (the “Merger Agreement”) with Innovus Acquisition Corporation, a Delaware corporation and a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company (“Merger Sub”), Semprae Laboratories, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Semprae”), certain stockholders of Semprae party thereto (the “Major Stockholders”) and Quaker Bioventures II, L.P., a principal stockholder of Semprae, pursuant to which, on the same date, Merger Sub merged into Semprae with Semprae continuing as the surviving corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company.

Semprae is a company located in New Jersey that was founded by women in 2008 with the goal of improving women’s sexual lives. From the beginning, Semprae has been marketing its proprietary product Zestra™, the first non-prescription product clinically proven to increase arousal, sensation, pleasure and satisfaction in women. In 2011, Semprae introduced Zestra Glide™, an accompanying water based lubricant. Together the two products had gross sales of approximately $1 million in 2013.

As a result of the acquisition, the Company acquired all of Semprae’s assets and liabilities, including its two women’s products, which were added to the Company’s current portfolio of male sexual dysfunction products and other topical products. Semprae also maintains a number of international patents and trademarks on its two products.

In the merger, the former Semprae stockholders are entitled to receive an aggregate of 3,201,776 shares of the Company’s common stock, which shares represent 15% of the total issued and outstanding shares of common stock of the Company as of the close of business on the closing date of the merger, plus an annual cash royalty payment equal to 5% of the net sales of Zestra™, Zestra Glide™ and any second generation of such products up until the time that a generic version of Zestra™ or Zestra Glide™ is introduced by a third party. The Company also agreed to pay by December 31, 2013 a loan of $343,500 that Semprae owes to the New Jersey Economic Development Administration.

Fifteen percent of the shares of the Company’s common stock issued at the closing of the merger were deposited into an escrow for a 12-month period to satisfy any claims for damages suffered by the Company for certain breaches of Semprae’s and the Major Stockholders’ representations, warranties and covenants. The Company may off-set royalty payments if Semprae or the Major Stockholders breach their indemnification obligations. The Company also indemnified the Major Stockholders for damages arising out of breaches of the Company’s representations, warranties and covenants.

The shares issued in the merger to the former Semprae stockholders are “restricted securities” and the Semprae stockholders have agreed to certain restrictions on their ability to sell such shares. Under the Merger Agreement, until January 1, 2018, certain of the former Semprae stockholders agreed not to seek election to the Company’s Board of Directors.

A copy of the Merger Agreement is attached as Exhibit 2.1 to this report and is incorporated herein by reference. The summary of the Merger Agreement set forth above does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Merger Agreement.

The Merger Agreement has been attached as an exhibit to provide investors and stockholders with information regarding its terms. It is not intended to provide any other factual information about the Company, Merger Sub, Sempra or any other party thereto. The Merger Agreement contains representations and warranties that the parties made to and solely for the benefit of each other. The representations and warranties may not be intended as statements of fact but instead as a way of allocating contractual risk between the parties to the Merger Agreement, and may be subject to standards of materiality applicable to the contracting parties that differ from those applicable to investors. In addition, the assertions embodied in such representations and warranties are qualified by information contained in the confidential disclosure schedules that the parties exchanged in connection with signing the Merger Agreement. Accordingly, investors and stockholders should not rely on such representations and warranties as characterizations of the actual state of facts or circumstances, since they are modified in important part by the underlying disclosure schedules and were made only as of the date of the Merger Agreement and as of the closing date of the Merger. Information concerning the subject matter of such representations and warranties may change after the date of the closing of the Merger, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in the Company's public disclosures.

The Debenture bears interest at the rate of 8% per annum. The principal amount and interest are payable on August 31, 2014. The Debenture contains certain events of default for (a) failure to pay the principal or interest thereunder, (b) failure to pay any amount of $50,000 or greater under any indebtedness, (c) any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement made by the Company that the Debenture was incorrect in any material respect on or as of the date made (d) any other default by the Company under the Debenture in any material respect and (e) the commencement of any bankruptcy or other liquidation or reorganization by the Company as described in the Debenture.
