EMPLOYEE STOCK SAVINGS PLAN

Report of Independent Registered Public Accounting Firm

The Administrative Committee

Reliability Incorporated Employee

Stock Savings Plan

We have audited the accompanying statement of net assets available for benefits of the Reliability Incorporated Employee Stock Savings Plan as of December 31, 2002. This financial statement is the responsibility of the Plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this financial statement based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the net assets available for benefits of the Plan at December 31, 2002, in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

RELIABILITY INCORPORATED
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2003

NOTE A EXAMINATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The rules for Form 11-K require financial statements to be examined to the extent required by ERISA. ERISA does not require plans that have less than 100 participants as of the beginning of the plan year to have the financial statements examined. Whereas the plan had less than 100 participants as of January 1, 2003, the financial information for 2003 has not been examined by an independent registered public accountant. The financial statements of the plan for 2002 were examined by an independent registered public accountant, whose report, as it relates to the comparative financial data for 2002 presented herein, is included as part of this report.

NOTE B - PARTICIPATION AND CONTRIBUTIONS

In July 1983, Reliability Incorporated (the Company or Employer) adopted an Employee Stock Savings Plan (the Plan). The following description of the Plan provides only general information. Participants should refer to the Plan Agreement for a more complete description of the Plan's provisions. The Plan is subject to certain provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). The Plan is administered by an Administrative Committee (the Committee) appointed by the Board of Directors of the Company. All assets of the Plan, except for the Loan Fund, are held under discretionary trust agreements.

Any United States employee of the Employer who has completed six months of service including at least 900 hours of service or one year of service including at least 1,000 hours of service becomes a member (Member) of the Plan on the first day of the next month following the date on which the employee becomes eligible and may elect to make contributions to the Plan.

Under the Plan, a Member may contribute, through payroll deductions, up to 100 percent of his compensation (Employee Contribution), as defined in the Plan Agreement. Members may increase or decrease contribution percentages each pay period. Members may elect to invest their contributions in various mutual funds, a common collective trust fund or in The Reliability Incorporated Common Stock Fund (Common Stock).

The Employer matches the Employee Contribution by an amount (Employer Contribution) equal to 50 percent of the Employee Contribution up to a maximum of 2% of the Member's compensation. Also, the Employer annually contributes, for employed Members, a supplemental amount (Employer Voluntary Contribution) equal to 1% of each Member's compensation for the period during which he was a Member. An additional discretionary contribution (Discretionary Contribution) may be made. The amount of the Discretionary Contribution, if any, will be determined annually by the Board of Directors and will be contributed as a percent of each Member's compensation. The Employer did not make a Discretionary Contribution for 2003.

 NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - (Continued)

December 31, 2003

NOTE B - PARTICIPATION AND CONTRIBUTIONS    Continued

A Member receives a vested interest in the balances in the Employer Contribution, Employer Voluntary Contribution and Discretionary Contribution accounts plus allocated earnings and realized and unrealized gains and losses thereon ( Employer Account ) based upon years of service (as defined in the Plan) as follows:

Years of service	Vested interest in Employer Account
Less than 2	0%
2	20
3	40
4	60
5	80
6 or more	100

A Member always has a 100 percent vested interest in the balance in his Employee Contributions plus allocated earnings and realized and unrealized gains and losses thereon (his Employee Account ). Upon death or total and permanent disability, a Member is automatically 100% vested in his Employer Account. All Members become fully vested in all their accounts if the Company terminates the Plan and account balances will be distributed as prescribed by ERISA.

NOTE C - SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Accounting

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting. Benefits are recorded when paid.

Investment Valuation

Edgar Filing: RELIABILITY INC - Form 11-K

Investments in Common Stock and mutual funds are stated at their fair value based on quoted market prices. The investment in the Stable Value Fund is based on the Fund's net asset value, as determined by the issuer based on the fair value of the underlying investments and the investment in the Money Market Fund is stated at cost, which approximates fair value.

Amounts contributed by the Company are invested solely in The Reliability Incorporated Common Stock Fund. Members may begin diversifying out of the Employer contributed portion of the Reliability Incorporated Common Stock Fund beginning at age 55 if they have completed ten years of service. Common Stock may be purchased by Smith Barney Corporate Trust Company ( Trustee ) directly from the Company or in the open market. The Trustee has not purchased any stock directly from the Company since 1998. The purchase price per share for stock purchased from the Company is the closing price on the day prior to the purchase by the Trustee. Gains and losses realized on the sale of Reliability Incorporated Common Stock are recorded on an average cost basis.

Administrative Expenses

Certain administrative expenses are paid by the Company.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Risks and Uncertainties

The Plan provides for investments in various investment securities, which in general, are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, credit and overall market volatility risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such change could materially affect the amounts reported in the statements of net assets available for benefits and participant account balances.

NOTE D - WITHDRAWALS AND TERMINATIONS

A Member may elect to withdraw all or a portion of his after-tax Employee Contributions at any time. Certain restrictions apply to withdrawals of pre-tax Employee Contributions. A Member making a withdrawal from pre-tax Employee Contributions is not permitted to make future pre-tax Employee Contributions prior to the first day of the month following the expiration of six months from the date of such withdrawal.

Upon a Member's termination of employment, the Member will generally receive a benefit in the form of a lump sum distribution.

Edgar Filing: RELIABILITY INC - Form 11-K

The non-vested portions of the Employer Accounts of a Member whose employment is terminated prior to the attainment of six years of service or who retires prior to Normal Retirement Age (as defined in the Plan), are forfeited and allocated among the other Members in the ratio that each such Member's defined compensation for the Plan Year, or that portion of the Plan Year during which he was a Member of the Plan, bears to the total defined compensation for all Members for the Plan Year. Forfeitures do not reduce the Employer's Contribution or the Employer's Voluntary Contributions.

NOTE E - MEMBER LOANS

A Member may borrow up to the lesser of 1) $50,000 or 2) 50 percent of his non-forfeitable accrued benefit. The minimum loan amount is $1,000 and the maximum loan term is five years for general loans and 15 years for home loans. Loan payments are made through payroll deductions. Loans are stated at cost which approximates fair value.

NOTE F - FEDERAL INCOME TAX AND ERISA

The Plan received a determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service dated September 7, 2001, stating that the Plan is qualified under Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code (the Code) and, therefore, the related trust is exempt from taxation. The Plan has subsequently been amended for certain tax legislation enacted since the date of the determination letter. The Plan is required to operate in conformity with the Code to maintain its qualification. The Plan's Administrative Committee believes the Plan, as amended, is being operated in compliance with the applicable requirements of the Code and, therefore, believes that the Plan and the related trust are tax exempt.

NOTE G - INVESTMENTS
