Item 2.02. Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

On February 8, 2005, Roper Industries, Inc. (the Company) issued a press release containing information about the Company's results of operations for the year ended December 31, 2004. A copy of the press release is furnished as Exhibit 99.1.

In the press release, the Company gives its projections for adjusted diluted earnings per share for fiscal 2004 excluding inventory revaluation costs from the acquisition of Neptune Technology Group Holdings, Inc. (Neptune) and the effects from the December 13, 2004 acquisition of TransCore Holdings, Inc. (TransCore) and related financing initiatives. The Company believes it is appropriate to add back inventory revaluation costs from the acquisition of Neptune and the effects from the acquisition of TransCore and related financing initiatives to diluted earnings per share because these items are not indicative of the Company's core operating performance. Management used this adjusted measure of diluted earnings per share during fiscal 2004 to assess the Company's performance and believes it is important for investors to be able to evaluate the Company using the same measures used by management. The Company also believes that analysts and other investors have used similar measures to value the Company and its performance during 2004. The Company believes that diluted earnings per share is the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure to adjusted diluted earnings per share excluding inventory revaluation costs from the acquisition of Neptune and the effects from the acquisition of TransCore and related financing initiatives.
