Nomura to further enhance global presence with acquisition of Lehman Brothers service platform in India

Tokyo, October 6, 2008 Nomura Holdings, Inc. today announced that it has made an agreement with Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc. to acquire Lehman Brothers Services India Private Limited, Lehman Brothers Financial Services (India) Private Limited, and Lehman Brothers Structured Finance Services Private Limited, all specialized service companies based in Powai, Mumbai. This follows Nomura's previous announcements to acquire Lehman Brothers' franchise in the Asia Pacific region and its European and Middle Eastern equities and investment banking operations last month.

The operations in Powai were established in 2005 with the aim to provide operational support, particularly in the area of IT, across the Lehman network. The acquisition will add to Nomura's global network approximately 3,000 employees, including 1,200 IT professionals. This will significantly enhance Nomura's IT functions and other support operations including financial control, operations, risk management, as well as analytical support for various business verticals including Investment Banking, Capital Markets, Research and Prime Services.

In addition, all assets as well as issued and outstanding shares of the three companies will be purchased by Nomura.

The acquisition of Lehman's operations in Powai is an important component of our global expansion strategy. It will allow us to significantly enhance our global service platform to support the business expansion that the combined talents of Nomura and Lehman will drive going forward," said Kenichi Watanabe, President and CEO of Nomura. This transaction further demonstrates our commitment to create a world-class investment bank that delivers maximum value for Nomura's clients and shareholders.
