Item 2.02 Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

Prudential Financial, Inc., a New Jersey corporation (the Company), furnishes herewith, as Exhibit 99.1, supplementary financial information for its Financial Services Businesses reflecting the retrospective adoption of revised U.S. GAAP accounting standards related to deferred policy acquisition costs.

See also the response to Item 7.01 below, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

A. Retrospective Adoption of Revised Accounting Standards Related to Deferred Policy Acquisition Costs (DAC). In October 2010, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued authoritative guidance to address diversity in practice regarding the interpretation of which costs relating to the acquisition of new or renewal insurance contracts qualify for deferral. Under the amended guidance, acquisition costs are to include only those costs that are directly related to the acquisition or renewal of insurance contracts by applying a model similar to the accounting for loan origination costs. An entity may defer incremental direct costs of contract acquisition with independent third parties or employees that are essential to the contract transaction, as well as the portion of employee compensation, including payroll fringe benefits, and other costs directly related to underwriting, policy issuance and processing, medical inspection, and contract selling for successfully negotiated contracts.

The Company adopted this guidance effective January 1, 2012 and applied the retrospective method of adoption. The impact from retrospective adoption of this guidance on Prudential Financial, Inc.'s consolidated balance sheet as of December 31, 2011 was a reduction in deferred policy acquisition costs of $4.1 billion for the Financial Services Businesses and $0.2 billion for the Closed Block Business, an increase in policy reserves for certain limited pay contracts of $0.2 billion for the Financial Services Businesses, and a reduction in total equity of $2.8 billion for the Financial Services Businesses and $0.2 billion for the Closed Block Business. The impact from retrospective adoption of this guidance on pre-tax adjusted operating income ⁽¹⁾ for the Financial Services Businesses and consolidated net income attributable to Prudential Financial, Inc. for the years ended December 31, 2011, 2010 and 2009 are presented in the table below.

Adjusted operating income differs from net income and income from continuing operations determined in accordance with GAAP but is the financial measure that the Company uses to analyze the operations of each segment in managing its Financial Services Businesses. See note (1) to the schedule below.

The following schedule shows the effect on adjusted operating income before income taxes for the periods indicated for the matters described above:

- (1) Adjusted operating income is a non-GAAP measure of performance of our Financial Services Businesses that excludes Realized investment gains (losses), net , as adjusted, and related charges and adjustments; net investment gains and losses on trading account assets supporting insurance liabilities; change in experience-rated contractholder liabilities due to asset value changes; results of divested businesses and discontinued operations; earnings attributable to noncontrolling interests; and the related tax effects thereof. Adjusted operating income includes equity in earnings of operating joint ventures and the related tax effects thereof. Realized investment gains (losses) within certain of our businesses for which such gains (losses) are a principal source of earnings, and those associated with terminating hedges of foreign currency earnings and current period yield adjustments are included in adjusted operating income. Adjusted operating income excludes realized investment gains and losses from products that contain embedded derivatives, and from associated derivative portfolios that are part of a hedging program related to the risk of those products. Adjusted operating income also excludes gains and losses from changes in value of certain assets and liabilities relating to foreign currency exchange movements that have been economically hedged or considered part of our capital funding strategies for our international subsidiaries, as well as gains and losses on certain investments that are classified as other trading account assets. Adjusted operating income does not equate to Income from continuing operations as determined in accordance with GAAP but is the measure of profit or loss we use to evaluate segment performance. Adjusted operating income is not a substitute for income determined in accordance with GAAP, and our definition of adjusted operating income may differ from that used by other companies. The items above are important to an understanding of our overall results of operations. However, we believe that the presentation of adjusted operating income as we measure it for management purposes enhances the understanding of our results of operations by highlighting the results from ongoing operations and the underlying profitability factors of our businesses.
