Market Leader is Being Acquired by Trulia

Today is an exciting day for the team here at Market Leader.

Today, it was announced that Market Leader is being acquired by Trulia.

Market Leader, as anyone reading this post on our blog would probably know, is the leading provider of Internet based customer relationship management & marketing software in the residential real estate industry. Trulia is a leading online destination for real estate, enabling real estate professionals to communicate with hundreds of thousands of transaction-ready home buyers and sellers each month. The combined company will have more than 135,000 software customers using Market Leader software AND more than 31 million home buyers and sellers that visit Trulia each month.

So, what does this mean for Market Leader Customers?

It will be business as usual at Market Leader.

Market Leader will continue to operate under the Market Leader brand and continue day-to-day operations largely unchanged. Our products and services you count on to help you grow your business will continue, and our roadmap for frequent product enhancements and new products will continue as well.

We are all excited about this deal, and both our management team and employees will be here with the same responsibilities as before.

Over time, we expect that we will be able to offer you various additional products and services that will arise from integration of the two companies products.

Stay tuned as there are great things to come. Feel free to leave us a comment or ask a question. Below you can find a list of questions and answers we prepared for our customers.

Some Questions you might have:

Q: What are you announcing?

A: Trulia is acquiring Market Leader, and we believe the combined two companies will be the clear online real estate industry leader. The combination of Trulia and Market Leader will provide Market Leader's 135,000 software customers with an incredible opportunity to gain access to the millions of transaction-ready consumers that visit Trulia each month, while providing Trulia customers with the sales and marketing platform they need to close more business.

Q: How is this going to help my business?

A: The merger of Market Leader and Trulia combines massive consumer demand with the only comprehensive software solution in the industry. Market Leader customers will continue to receive all the benefits from Market Leader existing products and services, and, over time, will benefit from new opportunities arising from integration of the two companies' products.

Q: What will happen to the Market Leader products I own?

A: We will continue to support and invest in our current products. In fact, we believe that this combination will enable us to deliver even more enhancements, and more value to all of our customers on an ongoing basis.

Q: Will the price I'm currently paying change?

A: No. This deal does not change your pricing.

Q: Will there be big changes at Market Leader?

A: There will not be big changes at Market Leader. Market Leader will continue to operate under the Market Leader brand, be led by our CEO Ian Morris (that's me) and the current management team, and largely continue all day-to-day operations unchanged. We are all very excited about this combination and what it will do for our customers and our employees.

Q: Who can I call for customer support and questions?

A: You can continue calling the same people, and using the same communication channels, you have been to date. Nothing changes on that front.
