Beginning on May 14, 2013, Evercore Partners Inc. sent the following communication and presentation to certain stockholders of the Company:

Dear Stockholder:

By now you should have received a copy of our proxy statement, annual report to stockholders and your proxy or voting instruction card. I urge you to read the materials, and in particular, I want to highlight Proposal No. 2, our Board's proposed amendment to our equity incentive plan to increase the number shares available under the plan by 5 million shares. In conjunction with this proposal, we have agreed to use our recently expanded stock repurchase program to ensure that our outstanding shares do not increase due to our annual bonus equity awards over the next three years. We also have committed to maintain our average three year burn rate at or below 2.5%, all of which will be used to attract new professionals to the firm, subject to our ability to reserve the necessary flexibility to address unusual circumstances that may arise. Please review the accompanying presentation which has important data in support of Proposal No. 2.

Our goal at Evercore is to create the premier global independent investment banking advisory firm delivering superior returns to our stockholders. We have made significant progress toward this goal, but in order to continue delivering superior returns we need to continue to attract, retain and motivate the best talent in the business. Sustaining the compensation strategies that have served us well is fundamental to our continued success in attracting and retaining such talent and to our overall continued progress.

Below is a summary of the reasoning behind our Board's decision to recommend that you approve Proposal No. 2:

The ability to issue equity is fundamental to our compensation strategy. For the last five years, over 95% of our annual bonus equity awards were granted to employees who had direct revenue generating responsibilities, enhancing retention and aligning their interests with our stockholders. Equity awards are also a key element of recruiting new Senior Managing Directors – a fundamental driver of our growth. Annual bonus equity awards are delivered as a component of an employee's annual incentive compensation amount and always are based on services already performed and revenue already generated.

Recruitment and retention of employees has driven our success and is necessary for our continued success. Equity compensation is critical in aligning the interests of our employees with those of our stockholders. By making equity a meaningful portion of our employees compensation with vesting and transfer restrictions, we are compensating our employees for their individual performance, and our employees are therefore motivated to conduct the business in a manner that produces superior returns for our stockholders over the long-term. We believe this, in part, has resulted in the long-term value we have created for our stockholders, as evidenced by our total shareholder return over the last five years, which has significantly outperformed our peers and the market.

We are focused on mitigating the dilutive effect of annual bonus equity awards and are disciplined in granting equity awards.

Annual bonus equity awards are made as part of an appropriate compensation package for each of our employees. They are not in any way incremental to our annual compensation awards. Moreover, in the past three years, we have offset more than 100% of the dilutive effect of our annual bonus equity awards through stock repurchases. Our three year average net dilution for 2012, 2011 and 2010, which takes into account shares issued to attract new employees, annual bonus awards and stock repurchases, is less than 1%. Furthermore, in 2012, we adopted an expanded stock buyback program allowing for the repurchase of up to 5 million shares. This expanded program will position us to continue to execute our goal of offsetting 100% of the dilutive effect of annual bonus equity grants. We are committed to sustaining these buybacks.

A reduction in our use of equity-based compensation would require a corresponding increase in our use of alternative deferred compensation programs. If the amendment is not approved, we would be compelled to alter our compensation program to implement alternative deferred compensation programs. These programs do not provide the same benefits as equity, such as alignment with stockholder interests, and would likely involve increased administrative costs.

Our Board recommends that you vote FOR Proposal No. 2. Please take a few minutes to vote your shares today. Your vote is very important.

We value your input on this topic. If you have any questions, please contact our CFO, Bob Walsh or our General Counsel, Adam Frankel. Thank you for your consideration on this important matter.

Unless Proposal No. 2 is approved, we won't have sufficient shares under the plan to support annual bonuses and grants to new hires required to continue attracting and incentivizing our employees to achieve our objectives.

Proposal No. 2 - Amendment to the Plan and Our Commitment to Offset Dilutive Effects

5

The ability to issue equity is fundamental to our compensation strategy.

Equity awards were granted to employees who had direct revenue generating and client-facing responsibilities, enhancing retention and aligning their interests with our stockholders. Equity awards are also a key element of recruiting new Senior Managing Directors and driving the success of our growth. Annual bonus RSUs are delivered as a component of an employee's annual incentive compensation amount (and are based on services already performed and, for award recipients who have client facing responsibilities, revenue already generated rather than on potential performance), and is not in addition to annual incentive compensation. Equity-based compensation is tied directly to an employee's contribution to the business, and not to seniority or role.

Recruitment and retention of employees has driven our success and is necessary for our continued success.

Equity compensation is critical in aligning the interests of our employees with those of our stockholders. By making equity a significant portion of our employees' compensation with vesting and transfer restrictions, we are linking our employees' compensation to the performance of Evercore, and our employees are therefore motivated to conduct the business in a manner that produces superior returns for our stockholders over the long-term. We believe this, in part, has resulted in the long-term value we have created for our stockholders, as evidenced by our total shareholder return over the last five years, which has significantly outperformed our peers in the market.

We are focused on mitigating the dilutive effect of annual bonus equity awards and are disciplined in granting equity awards. In the past three years, we have offset all of the dilutive effect of our annual bonus equity awards through stock repurchases. Our three year average net dilution for 2012, 2011 and 2010, which takes into account annual share bonus awards to employees, share awards for new employees and stock repurchases, is less than 1%. Furthermore, in 2012, we adopted an expanded buyback program allowing for the repurchase of up to 5 million shares. This expanded program will position us to execute our strategy of offsetting the dilutive effect of annual bonus equity grants, and to keeping total dilution from the plan to under 2.5%.

A reduction in our use of equity-based compensation would require a corresponding increase in our use of alternative deferred compensation program. We are focused on mitigating the dilutive effect of annual bonus equity awards and are disciplined in granting equity awards. These programs do not provide the same benefits as equity, such as alignment with stockholder interests, and would likely involve increased administrative costs.
