About the Acquisition

Why is BD doing this transaction?

The combination of BD and CareFusion creates a global leader in medication management and patient safety solutions. It accelerates BD's strategy to deliver integrated medication management solutions and smart devices, from drug preparation in the pharmacy, to dispensing on the hospital floor, administration to the patient, and subsequent monitoring.

We expect the combination to enhance our ability to improve quality of patient care and reduce healthcare costs by addressing unmet needs in hospitals, hospital pharmacies and alternate sites of care to increase efficiencies, reduce medication administration errors and improve patient and healthcare worker safety.

By using BD's leading global infrastructure to expand the availability of CareFusion products to more patients and workers worldwide, we expect to be able to improve the quality of and access to healthcare in both developed and emerging markets around the globe.

In addition, the Company will have solid positions in patient safety to maximize outcomes in infection prevention, respiratory care, and acute care procedural effectiveness.

What other similar companies did BD consider before deciding to acquire CareFusion?

In terms of M&A we have always said that acquisitions must fit strategically and create shareholder value - this was our key priority. Our strategic focus was (is) on offering complete solutions to our customers and we believe that will lead to sustained relevance in the healthcare marketplace. Overall, we prefer to consider assets that have adjacencies to our existing capabilities, make sense strategically and financially, and create shareholder value.

CareFusion was a great strategic fit, which aligned nicely with our core capabilities and also delivers value to customers and shareholders.

Why is this good for our customers?

We are very excited about this transaction and believe our customers will benefit significantly.

Until the transaction closes in the first half of calendar year 2015, it s business as usual both BD and CareFusion will continue to operate as separate companies, and customers points of contacts will remain the same.

About the Integration Process

How are you managing the integration?

The integration is being led by a designated team of leaders under the direction of Bill Kozy, Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer, BD. Supporting Bill is Tom Jaeger, who will lead the Integration Management Office (IMO) and Jason Strohm, CareFusion s COO Procedural Solutions, who will lead the integration on the CareFusion side. In addition to Tom, the BD IMO includes Tim Stevens, who is focusing on overall planning and execution; Chuck Bodner, who leads Value Capture; and Shana Neal, who is leading Organizational Design, Culture and Talent.

Should BD employees start working with their CareFusion counterparts?

No. Until the transaction is closed, BD and CareFusion should continue to operate business-as-usual as two separate companies. The transaction is expected to close in the first half of calendar year 2015, subject to regulatory and other required approvals including a CareFusion shareholder vote, among other conditions.

What should employees be doing now?

Until the transaction closes, it is business as usual, and both BD and CareFusion will continue to operate as separate companies.

We encourage all employees to remain focused on delivering the highest quality products and services our customers and partners have come to expect from us.

What are the next steps in the process?

The transaction is expected to close in the first half of calendar year 2015, subject to regulatory and other required approvals including a CareFusion shareholder vote, among other conditions.

Until then, it is business as usual, and both BD and CareFusion will continue to operate as separate companies.

How will BD prepare for integrating CareFusion after close?

We are following a well-designed, thoughtful approach in planning for our integration, which we expect will begin after our transaction closes in the first half of 2015. Our integration is taking place in three phases:

Phase I Listen and Learn (October 5 through November 5): During this phase we are focused on learning as much as we can about CareFusion s operations and people to ensure we build the right plans to smoothly integrate our two organizations post-close.

Phase II Planning and Preparing for Close (November 6 through Close): Our specific planning for the integration will occur during this phase. Each part of our respective businesses will be represented on the Integration Team and we will build detailed plans for Day 1 through Day 100, as well as finalize our planned synergy savings goals.

Phase III – Creating Our Combined Company (Close up to 12 months post-close): This phase is all about putting our plans into action to create a new global leader in medication management and patient safety solutions.

Will CareFusion reset our fiscal year when the merger closes and if so, how will that work? How will you handle sales objectives such as quotas, sales contests, and territory alignments during this stub period and beyond?

The transaction is not expected to close until the first half of the calendar year 2015. Until that time, BD and CareFusion should continue operating as two separate companies.

As part of our integration planning, we will determine the impact of close date on our fiscal reporting. We will communicate our approach as we get closer to Day 1.

About the New Business

How will BD's business focus change now that we are acquiring CareFusion?

BD's overall business focus will not change; in fact, we are strengthening our focus in the growth area of medication management and patient safety solutions through our acquisition. We are closer now to becoming a global leader in this field. We will be able to accelerate our strategy to deliver integrated healthcare solutions spanning the continuum of care - from drug preparation in the pharmacy to dispensing on the hospital floor to patient delivery and subsequent monitoring. Specific decisions on how we will integrate CareFusion into BD, including any impact it will have on our operations, are currently being planned for through our Integration Team.

What is NewCo?

NewCo, short for New Company, is the term we are using to describe our new combined organization post-close. Our intention is to create a company that combines the strengths, capabilities and leadership talent of both BD and CareFusion, and to do so in a way that positions BD well for the future.

How will you address culture for NewCo?

Culture is a critically important element in the success of any integration. Creating a new culture for our combined company requires thoughtfulness and transparency. We are working with our integration consultant, McKinsey & Co., to understand the cultural strengths and weaknesses of both BD and CareFusion, utilizing McKinsey's Organizational Health Index (OHI) survey.

CareFusion conducted the OHI survey in January 2014, and we will be able to use those results to help us understand the CareFusion culture. Currently, BD is preparing to conduct the OHI survey to ensure we are looking at the same strengths and capabilities across both companies.

We will use the input from the BD and CareFusion OHI surveys to help determine what our combined company culture will be.

What is OHI?

The Organizational Health Index (OHI) is a confidential, proprietary survey tool that measures organizations on a number of key health dimensions for example, leadership, values, and management practices. It generates insights that allow leaders to take actions to drive organizational health and performance. The OHI has been conducted with more than a thousand organizations around the world in all industries, sectors, and functions, with more than 2 million survey respondents to date.

Can you address the new organizational structure? Will commercial be aligned by product, geography or both?

After Day 1, we will be organized into two operating segments: Medical and Life Sciences.

CareFusion's current operations will become part of the $8 billion Medical segment, which includes Medical Surgical Systems, Pharmaceutical Systems and Diabetes Care.

The Medical Segment will also include a Tech Solutions team focused on informatics like CareFusion SmartWorks across the entire BD Medical segment.

The Life Sciences segment will include BD Pre-Analytical Systems, BD Diagnostic Systems and the BD Biosciences business units.

This high-level view is not an organization chart or inclusive of every business, function, team or region at this point. It doesn't map to specific people or roles.

About Associates

What does the integration mean for employees of BD and CareFusion?

This transaction will accelerate BD's transition from a product-focused company to a customer-centric provider of complete healthcare solutions across the medication management value chain, opening up new growth and career opportunities for employees as we create more value for our customers, partners and shareholders.

We will build a dynamic organization that brings together two world-class companies and offer opportunities for employees as part of a global leader.

The CareFusion leadership team has provided clear, honest and routine communication of strategy, goals, initiatives and company status through regular Town Hall meetings and other communication vehicles (web videos, Q&A, etc.). How does the BD leadership team communicate with employees?

BD leaders communicate with associates using the same core tools that CareFusion uses. Our leaders regularly communicate with associates in quarterly Town Hall meetings, regular leadership meetings, team meetings and through various electronic media.

What is BD's outlook on Diversity and Inclusion in the workplace?

BD has a long-standing commitment to recognizing and leveraging diversity in the workplace as well as commitment to ensuring the climate fosters a sense of associates uniqueness, creativity and ability to contribute to our collective success.

BD's Global Diversity Inclusion Leader directs the Diversity Inclusion Steering Committee. The company also has a number of programs including Diversity Inclusion Training, Quiet Rooms, Associate Networking Groups, Global Celebrations, Objective Based Mentoring and Supplier Diversity, all informed by BD's Global Diversity Inclusion Strategy.

Who should I contact if I have additional questions? Where can I find more information about the transaction?

Please contact your local leader with additional questions.

Additional information about the transaction will be posted on BD's and CareFusion's respective intranet sites as well as their respective external websites, www.bd.com and www.carefusion.com.

We will keep you informed as we move toward completing this transaction and provide updates on integration details.
