Item 1.02 Termination of a Material Definitive Agreement

On December 8, 2017, BioDelivery Sciences International, Inc. (the Company) received the required 90-day notice from Collegium Pharmaceutical, Inc. (Collegium) regarding termination of the previously announced license and development agreement between the Company and Collegium for the Company's ONSOLIS® (fentanyl buccal soluble film) product (the License Agreement).

The License Agreement was originally executed between the Company and Collegium on May 11, 2016. Under terms of the License Agreement, Collegium was to be responsible for the manufacturing, distribution, marketing and sales of ONSOLIS® in the United States. In return, and also in consideration of the Company's obligations under the License Agreement, the Company was to receive certain milestone and royalty payments.

Collegium's decision to terminate the license involved their recent execution of a license agreement to commercialize Nucynta® (tapentadol) Immediate Release and Nucynta® ER (tapentadol).

Termination of the License Agreement will be effective on March 8, 2018 (the Effective Date). There are no early termination penalties incurred by the Company pursuant to the License Agreement.

The Company will be assessing its commercial options for ONSOLIS®, but the Company does not currently believe that the return of ONSOLIS® will have a material impact on the Company's business.
