Independent auditors' review report

To

The Board of Directors and Shareholders of Sadia S.A.

Concórdia - SC

We have reviewed the Quarterly Financial Information of Sadia S.A (the Company) and the consolidated Quarterly Financial Information of the Company and its subsidiaries for the quarter ended September 30, 2008, comprising the balance sheets, the statements of income, cash flows, added value and the management report, which are the responsibility of its management.

2.

Our review was conducted in accordance with the specific rules set forth by the IBRACON - The Brazilian Institute of Independent Auditors, in conjunction with the Federal Accounting Council - CFC, and consisted mainly of the following: (a) inquiries and discussions with the persons responsible for the Accounting, Finance and Operational areas of the company and its subsidiaries as to the main criteria adopted in the preparation of the Quarterly Financial Information; and (b) reviewing information and subsequent events that have or may have relevant effects on the financial position and operations of the Company and its subsidiaries.

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made in the Quarterly Financial Information described above, for it to be in accordance with the rules issued by the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission (CVM), applicable to the preparation of the Quarterly Financial Information, including the Instruction CVM nº 469/08.

Edgar Filing: SADIA S.A. - Form 6-K

As mentioned in Note 3q, on December 28, 2007 Law N° 11638 was enacted, and effective from January 1, 2008. This Law modified, amended and introduced new rules to the existing Corporate Law (Law N° 6404/76) and resulted in changes to certain accounting practices currently adopted in Brazil. Despite the fact that the new Law is already in force, the changes required depend on the issuance of further normatization by local regulators, in order for them to be fully adopted by the companies. Consequently, in this transition phase, the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission (CVM), through CVM Instruction 469/08, permitted the non-application of all of the provisions of Law 11638/07 in the preparation of the quarterly information. Accordingly, the accounting information in the Quarterly Information for the quarter ended September 30, 2008 was prepared in accordance with specific instructions issued by the CVM and did not include all of the changes in the accounting practices introduced by Law 11638/07.

2008 should not be considered as an indication for estimating the results of the next quarter, nor for the formation of the results for the year ending December 31, 2008.

The Company has presented the consolidated statements of cash flows and value added as follows:

Statement of cash flows

The cash flows were prepared in accordance with NPC 20 - Statement of Cash Flows, issued by IBRACON (Brazilian Institute of Independent Auditors).

Statement of added value

The value added statement has been presented in accordance with the model proposed by the foundation Instituto de Pesquisa Contábeis, Atuariais e Financeiras - University of São Paulo the aim of which is to show the value of the wealth generated by the Company and its distribution among the elements that contributed to its generation.

3 Description of significant accounting policies

a.

Statement of income

Income and expenses are recognized on the accrual basis. Revenue from the Company's sales is recognized upon shipment of the products and when the following conditions are met:

i) the ownership is transferred and therefore risk of loss has passed to the client; ii) collection is probable; iii) there is evidence of an arrangement; and iv) the sales price is fixed or determinable. In addition, the Company offers sales incentives and discounts through various programs to customers, which are accounted for as a reduction of revenue in Sales deductions. Sales incentives include volume-based incentive programs and payments to customers for performing marketing activities on our behalf.

Foreign currency

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies were translated into reais at the foreign exchange rate ruling at the balance sheet date and the foreign exchange differences arising on translation are recognized in the statement of income for the period.

Accounting estimates

The preparation of the interim financial information in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil requires that management uses its judgment in determining and recording accounting estimates. Significant assets and liabilities subject to these estimates and assumptions include the residual value of property, plant and equipment, deferred charges, allowance for doubtful accounts, inventories, deferred tax assets and liabilities, provision for contingencies, valuation of derivative instruments, and assets and liabilities related to employees' benefits. The settlement of transactions involving these estimates may result in different amounts due to the lack of precision inherent to the process of their determination. The Company reviews the estimates and assumptions periodically.

Long and short-term investments

Investment funds in local and foreign currency are recorded at market value according to the respective shares price at the date of the interim financial information.

Other long and short-term investments in local and foreign currency are recorded at cost plus income accrued up to the balance sheet date, not exceeding market value.

Trade accounts receivable

Trade accounts receivable are recorded at the amount invoiced and interest is not levied. The allowance for doubtful accounts is the best estimate the Company has and is considered sufficient by management to cover any losses arising on collection of accounts receivable. Accounts receivable are written off against the allowance for doubtful accounts after all means of collection have been exhausted and the possibility of recovery of the amounts receivable is considered remote.

f.

Inventories

Finished goods, livestock (excluding breeders), work-in-progress, raw materials and other supplies are valued at the average cost of acquisition or production (average method), which is lower than the replacement or realization costs. The cost of finished goods and work-in-progress includes raw materials acquired, labor, production expenses, transport and storage relating to the purchase and production of inventories. Normal production losses in hog stock and poultry are inventoried and abnormal losses are expensed immediately as cost of goods sold.

g.

Investments

Investments in subsidiaries in Brazil and abroad are valued using the equity method based on the respective net equity calculated on the same date, as disclosed in Note 10.

The interim financial information of foreign subsidiaries are translated into Brazilian Reais, based on the following criteria:

Balance sheet accounts at the exchange rate at the end of the period.

Statement of income accounts at the exchange rate at the end of each month.

Other investments are valued at cost less a provision for devaluation considered as permanent.

h.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are recorded at cost of acquisition, formation or construction, including the interest incurred on financing, during the period of construction, modernization and expansion of the industrial units. Expenditures that materially extend the useful lives of existing facilities and equipment are capitalized. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method at rates that take into account the estimated useful life of the assets, adjusted in keeping with the work shifts, as disclosed in Note 11. Depletion of forestry resources is calculated based on the extraction of timber and the average costs of the forests.

Breeding stock is recorded at the cost of formation which includes the appropriation of costs of the breeding hens, animal feed, medication and labor. These costs are accumulated for approximately six months until the breeding stock initiates the breeding cycle. From then on, the costs of the breeding stock begin to be amortized on a straight-line basis. The productive cycle ranges from fifteen to thirty months.

Impairment of long lived assets

The Company reviews its non current assets to verify possible impairment losses, whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset or group of assets may not be recoverable based on future cash flows. If these events occur, the reviews will be conducted at the lowest level of groups of assets for which the Company manages to attribute future cash flows. If the carrying amount of an asset is higher than the future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset. Until now, these reviews have not indicated the need to recognize impairment losses.

j.

Deferred charges

Deferred charges are represented substantially by pre-operating costs , reorganization charges and development of new products and markets, which are amortized on a straight-line basis over 5 years as from the beginning of operation.

k.

Current and noncurrent liabilities

Current and noncurrent liabilities are stated at known or estimated amounts, plus related charges and monetary and exchange variations up to the interim financial information date.

Provisions

A provision is recognized in the interim financial information as a result of a past event, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation.

m.

Income and social contribution taxes

The income and social contribution taxes, both current and deferred, are calculated monthly based on taxable income at the rates of 15% plus a surcharge of 10% for income tax and 9% for social contribution and consider the offsetting of tax losses and negative basis of social contribution, limited to 30% of taxable income.

The deferred tax assets were recorded in accordance with CVM Instruction 371/02 and are represented significantly by temporary differences arising from non-deductible provisions, including tax loss carry forward and negative basis of social contribution.

n.

Employees benefits

Employees benefits are recorded based on actuarial studies prepared annually at the end of the year in compliance with CVM Deliberation 371/00.

Environmental

Our production facilities and our forestry activities are subject to government environmental regulations. We have reduced the risks associated with environmental questions through operational controls and procedures, as well as investments in equipment and systems for pollution control. We believe that no provision for losses related to environmental questions is currently necessary, based on existing Brazilian laws and regulations.

Tax incentives

The Company has tax incentives granted by the governments of the states of Minas Gerais and Mato Grosso where some of its industrial plants are located, which will expire between 2014 and 2020. During the financial year 2007 these subsidies were recorded in the account Capital Reserve in net equity. Law 11638/07, amongst other changes, revoked item d) in paragraph 1 of article 182 of Law 6404/76, which implies that the amounts received by way of a subsidy for investment should be recorded in an income account and no longer as Capital Reserve. Accordingly the Company recorded the amount of R$17,694 in the income statement for the period ended September 30, 2008 (R$13,978 as of June 30, 2008).

Alteration to Corporate Law - Law 11638/07

On December 28, 2007, Law 11638/07 was issued, which introduced important changes to Law 6404/76 with respect to the preparation and disclosure of financial statements for public companies. The main changes introduced by the new law requires that international accounting standards be adopted, with the standards to be published by the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission - CVM, and prepared in accordance with the standards issued by the International Accounting Standard Board - IASB.

Among the changes introduced, management emphasizes the following issues which may have an impact on the Company's financial statements and the criteria for calculating the results for the year and the financial position of the Company (parent company and consolidated), as of the year ending December 31, 2008:

A change in the criteria for classifying and valuing investments in financial instruments, including derivatives, which are classified as available for sale or held to maturity, and their valuation will be made based upon this classification.

In corporate transactions between independent parties where there is effective transfer of control, the valuation of the assets and liabilities to market value will be mandatory.

Tax incentives will no longer be classified as capital reserve, but will be included in the income statement. The General meeting can allocate a part of gain, corresponding to these incentives, to form the Tax Incentives Reserve, which can be excluded from the calculation base for the dividends.

Creation of the account Comprehensive Income in shareholders equity, for recording the valuation adjustments, while they are not computed in the results for the year in accordance with the accrual basis and the marking of prices to market.

Based on the evaluation prepared by Company s Management, the changes introduced and their respective effects on the net equity and the results for the period ended September 30, 2008 are summarized as follows:

Credit Linked Notes - CLN's

Credit notes issued by financial institutions abroad, divided into three types of risk, as follows: a) Brazil risk; b) large Brazilian companies risk; and c) first tier American and European financial institutions risk. These structured notes paid periodic interest (Libor + spread), however, if any of these companies, financial institutions or governmental institutions entered into default, the Company delivers the principal and receives securities of the company or institution in default.

Collateral and Margin

Initial guarantee required by the counterparty, in the structuring of swap operations with credit risk (Brazil Risk) or tied to a determined security.

Libor Swap range accrual or Brazil Credit default swap - CDS 5Y Operations structured on a notional value, where the Company receives on a six month basis interest (Libor + spread), when the Libor is within a range of 1.5% to 6% p.a., and pays prefixed interest rate. If the Libor is outside this range there is no accrual of interest.

Brazil Credit default swap - CDS 5Y

Structured operations on a notional base, where the Company receives on a six-month basis interest (CDS + spread), when the Brazil credit default swap - CDS 5Y is within 20 and 350 basis point, paying periodic interest. If the Brazil risk is outside this range there is no receipt of interest.

In September 2008, with the worsening of the international financial crisis, a certain American financial institution, whose risk was part of one of the structured note of the Company's investment portfolio, entered in default. As a result, the Company received securities of this institution in exchange for the principal invested. With the increase in the volatility of the financial assets on the international market, the marking to market value of these securities, as well as other assets of the fund, totaled a loss of R$239,519.

At September 30, 2008, the amount of R$348,190, resulting from the mark to market and the loss made on the sale of assets, was recorded under financial results (see Note 20).

At September 30, the Company had derivative financial instruments that were traded by the treasury department based on the assumption of the appreciation/maintenance of the Real against the US dollar. These instruments contained intrinsic risks, assumed as a result of the stability and the low probability of devaluation of the Real against the US dollar.

As disclosed in a material fact on September 25, 2008, the treasury department exceeded the limits of the treasury policy. As soon as it became aware of this fact, the Board of directors determined that the necessary measures to reduce exposure were taken. With the aim of reducing the exposure related to these operations, the Board of Directors decided to settle part of these operations, making a loss in the amount R$544.496, recorded under exchange variation on derivative instruments.

The Management considers that the deferred assets arising from temporary differences will be realized in proportion to the final solution of the contingencies and to the payment of the liabilities forecast for the employees' benefit plans.

With respect to the deferred tax assets resulting from the tax loss and negative basis of social contribution in the amount of R$271,243, represented by R$269,105 in the parent company and R$2,138 in the subsidiaries, the realization of these credits will be carried out through the generation of future profits in the respective companies. Based on a technical viability study prepared by Management the realization of these tax assets will be estimated in the following manner:

Period	Realization
2010	9%
2012	10%
2013	11%
2014 to 2016	62%

22 Risk management and financial instruments

Due to the nature of its operations, the Company is exposed to market risks, especially with respect to variations in exchange rates and credit risks. The Company's treasury policy establishes that these risks are managed by the Risk Management Department, through identifying the exposures and the correlations between the different risk factors, through the VAR (Value at Risk) calculation methodology and simulations of scenarios (stress tests), monitored by the Financial and Investments Committee, from the Executive Finance Committee, comprising officers of the Company, which includes in its responsibilities defining the management of these risks within the parameters of exposure limits and areas of decision-making authority proposed by the Finances Committee and Investor Relations (IR) of the Board of Directors, approved by the Board, itself. At September 30, 2008, due to the high volatility of the financial assets and to the miss-matching of the financial policy, the Value at Risk (VAR) of the operating assets and liabilities and financial instruments exposed to the variations of the foreign exchange and interest rates, for one year, with 95% reliability, was R$2,783,889 (Information not reviewed by the auditors).

Notes to the interim financial information

(In thousands of Reais)

The objective of the treasury policy is to determine parameters for use of derivative instruments in the hedging of operating and financial assets and liabilities exposed to variations in foreign exchange and interest rates and prices of commodities, as well as to establish credit limits with financial institutions. The responsibility for compliance with this policy is the job of the Executive Finances Committee.

a. Exchange rate risk

The Company is exposed to market risks arising from the volatility of exchange and interest rates. The exchange and interest rate risks on loans, financings and other liabilities denominated in foreign currency are managed jointly with the financial investments also denominated in foreign currency, and by derivative financial instruments, such as interest rate swaps (Libor for pre rate or vice versa) and future market contracts (Non Deliverable Forwards – NDFs and Options), as well as accounts receivable in foreign currencies arising from exports, which also reduce the foreign exchange exposure as a natural hedge.

The treasury policy for exchange determines that the limit of exchange exposure must respect the lower of the following amounts: (i) 20% of the Company's net equity, or (ii) for the three months following the base date, the limit of up to 10 days of exports or for the 12 months following the base date, 50% of the net cash generation. The control and management of the exposures are conducted dynamically and are updated by market quotations in real-time, through quotation systems and the adjustments are made whenever necessary. In the operations that involve options, the control and management of the exposure take into consideration the likelihood of exercise.

Within its exchange hedge strategy the Company uses exchange futures contracts (non deliverable forwards, target forwards and options, mainly in US dollars), as a way of mitigating the impacts of exchange rate variations on recognized assets and liabilities and expected transactions, under financial results and gross margin.

The notional amounts of these contracts are not recorded in the quarterly information. The technical definition of these contracts is summarized as follows:

Non deliverable forward

Over the counter operations for sale and/or purchase of dollars with future maturity, without initial disbursement of cash, based on a notional amount in dollars and a future strike rate. Upon maturity of the operation the result will be the difference between the contracted rate and the Ptax on maturity, multiplied by the notional base amount.

Target forward - Short

Over the counter operations for sale of dollars with future maturities, without initial disbursement of cash, with the following conditions: If the Ptax on the fixing date is below the strike rate for the dollar, the Company will receive the difference between the contracted rate and the Ptax, multiplied by the original base amount, where there may be a gain limiter for the Company when the difference between the Ptax and the strike rate during the maturities reaches an average R$0,50, knocking out subsequent maturities. If the dollar is above the strike rate, the Company will pay the difference between the contracted dollar and the Ptax, multiplied by double the base amount.

Target forward - Long

They are over the counter purchases of dollars with future maturities, without initial disbursement of cash, with the following conditions: If the Ptax on the fixing date is higher than the strike rate for the dollar, the Company will receive the difference between the contracted rate and the Ptax, multiplied by the original base amount, where there may be a gain limiter for the Company when the difference between the Ptax and the strike rate during the maturities reaches an average R$0.50, knocking out the subsequent maturities. If the dollar is below the strike rate, the Company will pay the difference between the contracted dollar and the Ptax, multiplied by double the base amount.

Call and put options (European)

They are across the counter or stock exchange operations where the purchaser of the call option or put option pays an initial premium upon maturity, if the difference between the contracted dollar (exercise price) and if the Ptax is positive (in the event of a call option) or negative (in the event of a put option), it will exercise its right. Not exercising the options will result in the loss of the initial premium paid on the part of the purchaser. It is the seller of the option that receives an initial premium and assumes the risk of a limited gain and an unlimited loss.

The exchange futures contracts have monthly maturities of up to 12 months and establish a margin call or bank guarantee in case the position is unfavorable to the Company. At September 30, 2008, the amounts deposited as margin and bank guarantee were R$701,150 and R$269,007, respectively.

The results of the over the counter operations on the exchange future market, realized and not settled financially and the daily adjustments of positions of exchange futures contracts on the Futures and Commodities Exchange (BM&F) are recorded under Amounts receivable from futures contracts and Amounts payable for futures contracts , respectively.

The results to be realized from over the counter operations on the exchange future market are not recognized in the accounting. These contracts are separated and defined as operating or financial according to their specific objective. At September 30 and June 30, 2008, the nominal amounts and the average contracted rates outstanding, exposed to the variation of the US dollar, as well as the respective fair value, are presented as follows:

Sensibility Analysis of the Company – Cash effect

At September 30, 2008, the Company's hedge position presented put and call options in US dollars, with maturities over the next 12 months. For the purposes of this sensibility analysis, we considered the doubled notional amount of the forward targets, based on the future market scenarios. Considering that 50% of the Company's gross billing results from exports made based on US dollars, we have, on past bases, a gross income in dollars of approximately US$3,000 million for the next 12 months. If we consider three scenarios (information not reviewed by auditors), we would have the following sensibility table:

The difference in interest payable or receivable, both from assets and liabilities, are recognized in the quarterly information under financial investments, and loans and financing, respectively. The technical definition of these contracts is summarized as follows:

Rate exchange swap- pre vs. CDI

A structured over the counter operation for exchange of indexes on a notional base amount, or where the Company receives fixed interest upon maturity of the contract, paying on the liability the CDI, or vice versa. The risk of this instrument is associated or with the increase of the the CDI.

Libor swap range accrual - Arbitration

Structured over the counter operations on a notional base amount where the Company receives on a six month basis interest when the six-month Libor is within the range of 2.60% to 6.32% p.a., paying on on a six-month basis prefixed interest. In the event the Libor is outside the range, there is no receipt of interest.

At September 30 and June 30, 2008, the notional amounts, contracted rates and amounts receivable and payable outstanding, as well as their respective fair values, are shown as follows:

The results realized from exchange futures contracts and interest rate swaps for the period ended September 30, 2008 generated a loss of R$331,200 (a gain of R$135,228 in the same period of 2007), which is a net loss in the amount of R$509,521, recorded as a financial loss under exchange variations on derivative instruments (a gain of R$62,340 in the same period of 2007) and a gain in the amount of R$178,321 as operating results under gross operating income (a gain of R$72,888 in the same period of 2007).

b. Credit risk

The Company is potentially exposed to credit risk in relation to its trade accounts receivable, long and short-term investments and derivative instruments. The Company limits the risk associated with these financial instruments by subjecting them to the control of highly rated financial institutions that operate within the limits pre-established by the risk, credit and financing committees. The criteria for maximum net exposure per financial institution (financial assets less financial liabilities) may not be greater than the lower of 10% of the financial institution's net equity or the company's equity.

The concentration of credit risk with respect to accounts receivable is minimized due to the spread of its client base, since the Company does not have any customer or group representing 10% or more of its consolidated revenues, as well as granting credits for customers with solid financial and operational ratios. Generally, the Company does not require a guarantee for sales, however it has contracted an insurance credit policy to its domestic receivables.

c. Grain purchase price risks

The Company's operations are exposed to the volatility in prices of grain (corn and soybean) used in the preparation of animal feed for its breeding stock, where the price variation results from factors beyond the control of management, such as climate, the size of the harvest, transport and storage costs and government agricultural policies, among others. The Company maintains its risk management strategy, operating preponderantly through physical control, which includes acquiring grain at fixed prices and fixing it, pegged to commodity futures contracts (grain). The Company has a Commodities Committee and Risk Management, composed by the chief executive officer and financial and operational executives, whose aim is to discuss and decide on the company's strategies and positioning with respect to the various risk factors that impact the operating results.

The results realized with futures contracts for grain in the period ended September 30, 2008 generated a loss of R$26,692 were inventoried and a gain in the amount of R$18,665 was already amortized as Operating results under Costs of goods sold.

The unrealized results of futures contracts for grain are not recognized in the accounting. These contracts are defined as operating, according to the objective of the hedge. The amounts of these contracts, if they were recorded in the period ended September 30, 2008, would result in a loss of R$31,848 recorded as inventories.

d. Estimated market values

The Company used the following methods and assumptions to estimate the disclosure of the fair value of its financial instruments as of September 30, 2008 and June 30, 2008:

- Cash and cash equivalents - The book values of cash and banks recorded in the balance sheet are similar to the respective fair values.
- Short-term financial investments - The fair value of short-term financial investments is estimated based on the market quotations of comparable contracts or cash flows.

Accounts receivable and payable - The book values of accounts receivable and payable recorded in the balance sheet are similar to their respective fair values.

Investments - The market values of the investments were obtained from their market quotations.

Short and long-term loans and financing - The market values of loans and financing were calculated based on their present value calculated through the future cash flows and using interest rates applicable to instruments of similar nature, terms and risks, or based on the market quotation of these securities. The market values of BNDES financing are similar to the book values, since there are no similar instruments with comparable maturities and interest rates.

Forward futures contracts: The fair values of the forward futures contracts were estimated based on the use of future values that considers same maturity discounted at present value using future discount rates. The effective cash settlement of the contracts occurs on the respective maturities. The Company does not intend to settle these contracts before their maturity date.

Interest rate swap contracts: The fair values of the interest rate contracts were estimated based on the market quotations for similar contracts. The effective cash settlement of the contracts occurs on the respective maturity dates. The Company does not intend to settle these contracts before their maturity date.

Options contracts: In the case of options, the pricing is done through the Black & Scholes model, which is widely used for valuing options and which takes into consideration the volatility, exercise price, interest rates and maturity period.

The market values were estimated on the balance sheet date, based on relevant market information. Changes in the assumptions may significantly affect these estimates.

23 Insurance

The Company and its subsidiaries adopt insurance engagement policy at levels that Management considers adequate to cover risks resulting from the claims of its assets. Due to the characteristics of multilocated operations, Management engages its policies with a limit of maximum loss possible in the same event, with amounts calculated based on risk inspections and potential losses. The policies engaged guarantee coverage against fire, general civil liability, windstorms, disorders and electric damage, as well as insurance for merchandise transport, personal and vehicle damage. The amount currently insured guarantees the comprehensive coverage of the Company's fixed assets.

The assumptions adopted, given their nature, are not part of the scope of an audit of financial statements and, accordingly, they were not examined by our independent auditors.
