OVERVIEW

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q should be read in conjunction with Citigroup's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016, including the historical audited consolidated financial statements of Citigroup reflecting certain reclassifications set forth in Citigroup's Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on June 16, 2017 (2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K), and Citigroup's Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarters ended March 31, 2017 (First Quarter of 2017 Form 10-Q) and June 30, 2017 (Second Quarter of 2017 Form 10-Q).
Additional information about Citigroup is available on Citi's website at www.citigroup.com. Citigroup's annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and proxy statements, as well as other filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), are available free of charge through Citi's website by clicking on the "Investors" page and selecting "All SEC Filings." The SEC's website also contains current reports on Form 8-K, and other information regarding Citi at www.sec.gov.
Certain reclassifications, including a realignment of certain businesses, have been made to the prior periods' financial statements and disclosures to conform to the current period's presentation. For additional information on certain recent reclassifications, see Notes 1 and 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.
Throughout this report, "Citigroup," "Citi" and "the Company" refer to Citigroup Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.

Citigroup is managed pursuant to the following segments:
The following are the four regions in which Citigroup operates. The regional results are fully reflected in the segment results above.

(1) Asia GCB includes the results of operations of GCB activities in certain EMEA countries for all periods presented.
(2) North America includes the U.S., Canada and Puerto Rico, Latin America includes Mexico and Asia includes Japan.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Third Quarter of 2017—Balanced Growth Across Citi's Franchise
As described further throughout this Executive Summary, Citi reported balanced operating results in the third quarter of 2017, reflecting continued momentum across businesses and geographies, notably many of those where Citi has been making investments. During the quarter, Citi had revenue and loan growth in both Global Consumer Banking (GCB) and the Institutional Clients Group (ICG) compared to the prior-year quarter, while continuing to wind-down legacy assets in Corporate/Other. Results during the quarter also included a $580 million pretax ($355 million after-tax) gain on the sale of a fixed income analytics business, which was included in ICG's results.
North America GCB generated positive operating leverage driven by revenue growth in retail banking and Citi retail services as well as strong expense discipline. North America GCB's results also included higher cost of credit, largely reflecting volume growth, seasoning and additional cards-related loan loss reserve builds. International GCB generated positive operating leverage driven by year-over-year revenue growth in both Latin America and Asia GCB, excluding the impact of foreign currency translation into U.S. dollars for reporting purposes (FX translation). ICG had a strong quarter with revenue growth across all Banking businesses, as well as in equity markets and securities services, partially offset by a decline in fixed income markets revenues. These increases in revenues were partially offset by lower revenues in Corporate/Other, mostly reflecting the continued wind-down of legacy non-core assets.
Citi's regulatory capital declined slightly during the quarter, as earnings growth was more than offset by the return of approximately $6.4 billion to its common shareholders in the form of common stock repurchases and dividends. Citi repurchased approximately 81 million common shares in the third quarter of 2017, as outstanding common shares declined 3% from the prior quarter and 7% from the prior-year period. Despite this capital return, each of Citigroup's key regulatory capital metrics remained strong as of the end of the third quarter of 2017 (see "Capital" below). Citi utilized approximately $300 million of deferred tax assets (DTAs) during the quarter and $1.2 billion of its DTAs during the first nine months of 2017.
While the macroeconomic environment remains largely positive, there continues to be various economic, political and other risks and uncertainties that could impact Citi's businesses and future results. For a more detailed discussion of these risks and uncertainties, see each respective business's results of operations and "Forward-Looking Statements" below, as well as each respective business's results of operations and the "Managing Global Risk" and "Risk Factors" sections in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Third Quarter of 2017 Summary Results

Citigroup
Citigroup reported net income of $4.1 billion, or $1.42 per share, compared to $3.8 billion, or $1.24 per share, in the prior-year period. The 8% increase in net income included the gain on sale, which contributed $0.13 to earnings per share. Excluding the gain, net income declined 2%, reflecting higher cost of credit, while earnings per share increased 4%, largely due to a 7% reduction in average shares outstanding. (Citi's results of operations excluding the gain on sale are non-GAAP financial measures.)
Citigroup revenues of $18.2 billion in the third quarter of 2017 increased 2%, driven by the gain on sale as well as 3% aggregate growth in ICG and GCB, partially offset by a 55% decrease in Corporate/Other due primarily to the continued wind-down of legacy non-core assets.
Citigroup's end-of-period loans increased 2% to $653 billion versus the prior-year period. Excluding the impact of FX translation, Citigroup's end-of-period loans also grew 2%, as 5% growth in ICG and 3% growth in GCB was partially offset by the continued wind-down of legacy assets in Corporate/Other. (Citi's results of operations excluding the impact of FX translation are non-GAAP financial measures.) Citigroup's end-of-period deposits increased 3% to $964 billion versus the prior-year period. Excluding the impact of FX translation, Citigroup's deposits were up 2%, driven by a 3% increase in ICG deposits and a 1% increase in GCB deposits, slightly offset by a decline in Corporate/Other deposits.

Expenses

Citigroup's operating expenses decreased 2% to $10.2 billion versus the prior-year period, as the impact of higher volume-related expenses and ongoing investments were more than offset by efficiency savings and the wind-down of legacy assets. Year-over-year, ICG operating expenses were up 5%, while GCB operating expenses were largely unchanged and Corporate/Other operating expenses declined 36%.

Cost of Credit

Citi's total provisions for credit losses and for benefits and claims of $2.0 billion increased 15% from the prior-year period. The increase was driven by an increase in net credit losses of $252 million, primarily in North America GCB, and a net loan loss reserve build of $194 million, compared to a net build of $176 million in the prior-year period. The net loan loss reserve build in the current quarter included roughly $100 million of loan loss reserves related to the potential impact of hurricane and earthquake events, recorded in North America GCB and Latin America GCB, as well as the legacy portfolio in Corporate/Other.

Net credit losses of $1.8 billion increased 17% versus the prior-year period. Consumer net credit losses of $1.7 billion increased 17%, primarily driven by the Costco portfolio acquisition, episodic charge-offs in the North America GCB commercial portfolio, which were offset by related loan loss reserve releases, and overall volume growth and seasoning in cards. The increase in consumer net credit losses was partially offset by the continued wind-down of legacy assets in Corporate/Other. Corporate net credit losses increased 2% from the prior-year period to $43 million. For additional information on Citi's consumer and corporate credit costs and allowance for loan losses, see "Credit Risk" below.

Capital
Citigroup's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital and Tier 1 Capital ratios, on a fully implemented basis, were 13.0% and 14.6% as of September 30, 2017 (based on Basel III Standardized Approach for determining risk-weighted assets), respectively, compared to 12.6% and 14.2% as of September 30, 2016 (based on the Basel III Advanced Approaches for determining risk-weighted assets). Citigroup's Supplementary Leverage ratio as of September 30, 2017, on a fully implemented basis, was 7.1%, compared to 7.4% as of September 30, 2016. For additional information on Citi's capital ratios and related components, including the impact of Citi's DTAs on its capital ratios, see "Capital Resources" below.

Global Consumer Banking
GCB net income decreased 6% to $1.2 billion, as higher revenues were more than offset by higher cost of credit, while operating expenses were unchanged. Operating expenses were $4.4 billion, down 1% excluding the impact of FX translation, as higher volume-related expenses and continued investments were more than offset by ongoing efficiency savings.
GCB revenues of $8.4 billion increased 3% versus the prior-year period. Excluding the impact of FX translation, GCB revenues increased 2%, driven by growth across all regions. North America GCB revenues increased 1% to $5.2 billion, as higher revenues in Citi retail services and retail banking were partially offset by lower revenues in Citi-branded cards. Citi-branded cards revenues of $2.2 billion decreased 1% versus the prior-year period, as the benefit of growth in full rate revolving balances in the core portfolios was outpaced by the continued run-off of non-core portfolios as well as the higher cost to fund growth in transactor and promotional balances, given higher interest rates. Citi retail services revenues of $1.7 billion increased 2% versus the prior-year period, reflecting continued loan growth. Retail banking revenues of $1.4 billion increased 1% from the prior-year period. Excluding mortgage revenues, retail banking revenues were up 12% from the prior-year period, driven by continued growth in loans and assets under management, as well as a benefit from higher interest rates.
North America GCB average deposits of $184 billion were unchanged versus the prior-year period, average retail loans of $56 billion grew 1% and assets under management of $59 billion grew 10%. Average branded card loans of $85 billion increased 8%, while branded card purchase sales of $80 billion increased 10% versus the prior-year period. Average retail services loans of $46 billion were up 5%, while retail services purchase sales of $20 billion were up 2%. For additional information on the results of operations of North America GCB for the third quarter of 2017, see "Global Consumer Banking—North America GCB" below.

International GCB revenues (consisting of Latin America GCB and Asia GCB (which includes the results of operations in certain EMEA countries)) increased 8% to $3.2 billion versus the prior-year period. Excluding the impact of FX translation, international GCB revenues increased 5% versus the prior-year period. Latin America GCB revenues increased 4% versus the prior-year period, driven by growth in loans and deposit volumes. Asia GCB revenues increased 5% versus the prior-year period, driven by improvement in wealth management and cards revenues, partially offset by lower retail lending revenues. For additional information on the results of operations of Latin America GCB and Asia GCB for the third quarter of 2017, including the impact of FX translation, see "Global Consumer Banking—Latin America GCB" and "Global Consumer Banking—Asia GCB" below.
Year-over-year, international GCB average deposits of $124 billion increased 4%, average retail loans of $89 billion were roughly flat, assets under management of $100 billion increased 10%, average card loans of $24 billion increased 6% and card purchase sales of $25 billion increased 7%, all excluding the impact of FX translation.

Institutional Clients Group
ICG net income of $3.0 billion increased 15%, driven by higher revenues, including the $580 million ($355 million after-tax) gain on the sale of a fixed income analytics business, and a higher benefit from cost of credit, partially offset by higher operating expenses. ICG operating expenses increased 5% to $4.9 billion, as investments and volume-related expenses were partially offset by efficiency savings.
ICG revenues were $9.2 billion in the third quarter of 2017, up 9% from the prior-year period, driven by a 16% increase in Banking revenues and a 3% increase in Markets and securities services revenues, including the gain on sale. The increase in Banking revenues included the impact of $48 million of losses on loan hedges within corporate lending, compared to losses of $218 million in the prior-year period.
Banking revenues of $4.7 billion (excluding the impact of losses on loan hedges within corporate lending) increased 11% compared to the prior-year period, driven by significant growth in investment banking and the private bank as well as continued solid performance in treasury and trade solutions and corporate lending. Investment banking revenues of $1.2 billion increased 14% versus the prior-year period, reflecting continued wallet share gains across all products. Equity underwriting revenues increased 99% to $290 million, debt underwriting revenues increased 1% to $704 million while advisory revenues decreased 1% to $237 million, all versus the prior-year period.
Private bank revenues increased 15% versus the prior-year period to $785 million, driven by growth in clients, loans, investment activity and deposits, as well as improved spreads. Corporate lending revenues increased $233 million to $454 million. Excluding the impact of losses on loan hedges, corporate lending revenues increased 14% to $502 million versus the prior-year period, reflecting lower hedging costs and improved loan sale activity. Treasury and trade solutions revenues increased 8% to $2.1 billion versus the prior-year period, reflecting continued volume growth and improved deposit spreads.

Markets and securities services revenues increased 3% to $4.6 billion versus the prior-year period, as a decline in fixed income markets revenues was more than offset by higher revenues in equity markets, securities services as well as the gain on sale. Fixed income markets revenues decreased 16% to $2.9 billion versus the prior-year period, primarily reflecting lower G10 rates and currencies revenues, given low volatility in the current quarter and the comparison to higher Brexit-related activity a year ago, as well as lower activity in spread products. Equity markets revenues increased 16% to $757 million versus the prior-year period, reflecting client-led growth across cash equities, derivatives and prime finance. Securities services revenues increased 12% to $599 million versus the prior-year period, driven by growth in client volumes across the custody business, along with higher interest revenue. For additional information on the results of operations of ICG for the third quarter of 2017, see “Institutional Clients Group” below.

Corporate/Other
Corporate/Other net loss was $87 million in the third quarter of 2017, compared to a net loss of $48 million in the prior-year period, reflecting lower revenues, partially offset by lower operating expenses and lower cost of credit. Operating expenses of $822 million declined 36% from the prior-year period, reflecting the wind-down of legacy assets and lower legal expenses.
Corporate/Other revenues were $509 million, down 55% from the prior-year period, reflecting the wind-down of legacy assets, divestitures and the impact of hedging activities.
Corporate/Other end-of-period assets decreased 4% to $100 billion from the prior-year period, as Citi continued to wind-down legacy assets. For additional information on the results of operations of Corporate/Other for the third quarter of 2017, see “Corporate/Other” below.

(1) See Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for additional information on Citi's discontinued operations.

(2) The return on average common stockholders' equity is calculated using net income less preferred stock dividends divided by average common stockholders' equity. The return on average total Citigroup stockholders' equity is calculated using net income divided by average Citigroup stockholders' equity.

(3) Citi's reportable Common Equity Tier 1 (CET1) Capital and Tier 1 Capital ratios were the lower derived under the U.S. Basel III Standardized Approach at September 30, 2017, and U.S. Basel III Advanced Approaches at September 30, 2016. Citi's reportable Total Capital ratios were derived under the U.S. Basel III Advanced Approaches for both periods presented. This reflects the U.S. Basel III requirement to report the lower of risk-based capital ratios under both the Standardized Approach and Advanced Approaches in accordance with the Collins Amendment of the Dodd-Frank Act.

(4) Citi's Supplementary Leverage ratio reflects full implementation of the U.S. Basel III rules.

(5) Dividends declared per common share as a percentage of net income per diluted share.

(6) Total common dividends declared plus common stock repurchases as a percentage of net income available to common shareholders. GLOBAL CONSUMER BANKING

Global Consumer Banking (GCB) consists of consumer banking businesses in North America, Latin America (consisting of Citi's consumer banking business in Mexico) and Asia. GCB provides traditional banking services to retail customers through retail banking, including commercial banking, and Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services (for additional information on these businesses, see "Citigroup Segments" above). GCB is focused on its priority markets in the U.S., Mexico and Asia with 2,474 branches in 19 countries and jurisdictions as of September 30, 2017. At September 30, 2017, GCB had approximately $419 billion in assets and $310 billion in deposits.

GCB's overall strategy is to leverage Citi's global footprint and be the preeminent bank for the emerging affluent and affluent consumers in large urban centers. In credit cards and in certain retail markets, Citi serves customers in a somewhat broader set of segments and geographies.

NORTH AMERICA GCB

North America GCB provides traditional retail banking, including commercial banking, and its Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services card products to retail customers and small- to mid-size businesses, as applicable, in the U.S. North America GCB's U.S. cards product portfolio includes its proprietary portfolio (including the Citi Double Cash, Thank You and Value cards) and co-branded cards (including, among others, American Airlines and Costco) within Citi-branded cards as well as its co-brand and private label relationships (including, among others, Sears, The Home Depot, Macy's and Best Buy) within Citi retail services.

As previously announced, the Hilton Honors co-brand credit card partnership with Citi was scheduled to terminate as of year-end 2017. On October 23, 2017, Citi signed an agreement to sell the Hilton credit card portfolio ($1.2 billion in outstanding loan balances in Citi-branded cards) to American Express. In connection with the sale agreement, the existing partnership was extended through the closing date. The sale is expected to close in the first quarter of 2018 with a pretax gain of approximately $150 million, which approximates one year of revenues from the portfolio.

As of September 30, 2017, North America GCB's 695 retail bank branches are concentrated in the six key metropolitan areas of New York, Chicago, Miami, Washington, D.C., Los Angeles and San Francisco. Also as of September 30, 2017, North America GCB had approximately 9.4 million retail banking customer accounts, $55.7 billion in retail banking loans and $185.1 billion in deposits. In addition, North America GCB had approximately 120 million Citi-branded and Citi retail services credit card accounts with $132.2 billion in outstanding card loan balances.

Net income decreased 16% due to higher cost of credit, partially offset by lower expenses and higher revenues.
Revenues increased 1%, reflecting higher revenues in Citi retail services and retail banking, partially offset by lower revenues in Citi-branded cards.
Retail banking revenues increased 1%. Excluding mortgage revenues (decline of 39%), retail banking revenues were up 12%, driven by continued growth in average loans (1%), and asset under management (10%), as well as a benefit from higher interest rates. The decline in mortgage revenues was driven by lower origination activity and higher cost of funds, reflecting the higher interest rate environment, as well as the impact of the previously announced sale of a portion of Citi's mortgage servicing rights.
In Citi-branded cards, revenues decreased 1%, as the benefit of growth in full-rate revolving balances in the core portfolios was outpaced by the continued run-off of non-core portfolios as well as the higher cost to fund growth in transactor and promotional balances, given the higher interest rates. Average loans grew 8% and purchase sales grew 10%.
Citi retail services revenues increased 2%, reflecting continued loan growth, partially offset by the continued impact of the previously disclosed renewal and extension of certain partnerships within the portfolio. Average loans grew 5% and purchase sales grew 2%.
Expenses decreased 5%, as higher volume-related expenses and continued investments were more than offset by efficiency savings.
Provisions increased 27% from the prior-year period, driven by higher net credit losses and a higher net loan loss reserve build.
Net credit losses increased 34%, largely driven by higher losses in Citi-branded cards, including the impact of acquiring the Costco portfolio, and Citi retail services. In Citi-branded cards, net credit losses increased 36% to $611 million, primarily due to the Costco portfolio acquisition, organic volume growth and seasoning. In Citi retail services, net credit losses increased 26% to $540 million, primarily due to volume growth and seasoning. The higher net credit losses also reflected episodic charge-offs in the commercial portfolio in retail banking, which were offset by related reserve releases.
The net loan loss reserve build in the third quarter of 2017 was $460 million (compared to a build of $408 million in the prior-year period), driven by a build of approximately $500 million related to the cards businesses, partially offset by a reserve release in the commercial portfolio. The loan loss reserve build included approximately $300 million related to the increase in net flow rates in the later delinquency buckets leading to higher inherent credit loss expectations primarily in Citi retail services, as well as a slight increase in delinquencies for the Citi-branded card portfolio. It also includes approximately $150 million driven by volume growth and seasoning, as well as approximately $50 million for the estimated hurricane-related impacts.
For additional information on North America GCB's retail banking, including commercial banking, and its Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services portfolios, see "Credit Risk—Consumer Credit" below.

2017 YTD vs. 2016 YTD
Year-to-date, North America GCB has experienced similar trends to those described above. Net income decreased 20% due to higher cost of credit and higher expenses, partially offset by higher revenues.
Revenues increased 3%, reflecting higher revenues in cards, partially offset by lower revenues in retail banking. Retail banking revenues decreased 1%, driven by lower mortgage revenues, partially offset by the other factors described above. Cards revenues increased 4%. In Citi-branded cards, revenues increased 7%, driven by the impact of the Costco portfolio acquisition, partially offset by the other factors described above. Citi retail services revenues were largely unchanged, as the continued impact of the renewal and extension of certain partnerships, as well as the absence of gains on sales of two cards portfolios in the first quarter of 2016, were offset by the continued loan growth (average loans up 4%).
Expenses increased 1%, primarily driven by the addition of the Costco portfolio, volume-related expenses and continued investments, partially offset by efficiency savings.

Provisions increased 29%, driven by the same factors described above. Net credit losses increased 28% and the net loan loss reserve build of $722 million increased $179 million.

LATIN AMERICA GCB

Latin America GCB provides traditional retail banking, including commercial banking, and its Citi-branded card products to retail customers and small- to mid-size businesses in Mexico through Citibanamex, one of Mexico’s largest banks.

At September 30, 2017, Latin America GCB had 1,497 retail branches in Mexico, with approximately 27.6 million retail banking customer accounts, $21.0 billion in retail banking loans and $28.3 billion in deposits. In addition, the business had approximately 5.7 million Citi-branded card accounts with $5.6 billion in outstanding loan balances.

The discussion of the results of operations for Latin America GCB below excludes the impact of FX translation for all periods presented. Presentations of the results of operations, excluding the impact of FX translation, are non-GAAP financial measures. For a reconciliation of certain of these metrics to the reported results, see the table above.

3Q17 vs. 3Q16

Net income decreased 5%, primarily driven by higher credit costs and expenses, partially offset by higher revenues.

Revenues increased 4%, driven by higher revenues in retail banking and cards.

Retail banking revenues increased 5%, reflecting continued growth in volumes, including an increase in average loans (6%), largely driven by the commercial and small business portfolios as well as mortgages, an increase in average deposits (7%) and improved deposit spreads, driven by higher interest rates. While deposits continued to increase during the quarter, Latin America GCB was impacted by lower industry-wide deposit growth due to a slowing of growth in the monetary supply. Cards revenues increased 2%, reflecting continued improvement in full rate revolving loan trends, partially offset by continued higher cost to fund non-revolving loans. Purchase sales grew 5% and average card loans also grew 5%.

Expenses increased 4%, as ongoing investment spending and business growth were partially offset by efficiency savings.

Provisions increased 11%, primarily driven by higher net credit losses (9%) and a higher net loan loss reserve build ($10 million), largely reflecting volume growth, seasonality and a Mexico earthquake-related loan loss reserve build (approximately $25 million).

For additional information on Latin America GCB's retail banking, including commercial banking, and its Citi-branded cards portfolios, see "Credit Risk—Consumer Credit" below.

2017 YTD vs. 2016 YTD

Year-to-date, Latin America GCB has experienced similar trends to those described above. Net income decreased 6%, driven by the same factors described above.

Revenues increased 5%, primarily due to higher revenues in retail banking, partially offset by lower revenues in cards.

Retail banking revenues increased 8%, driven by the same factors described above as well as the impact of business divestitures. Cards revenues decreased 1%, driven by the continued higher cost to fund non-revolving loans, partially offset by the continued improvement in full rate revolving loans.

Expenses increased 3%, as ongoing investment spending was partially offset by efficiency savings.

Provisions increased 14%, largely driven by the same factors described above.

ASIA GCB

Asia GCB provides traditional retail banking, including commercial banking, and its Citi-branded card products to retail customers and small- to mid-size businesses, as applicable. During the third quarter of 2017, Citi's most significant revenues in the region were from Singapore, Hong Kong, Korea, Australia, India, Taiwan, Indonesia, Thailand, Philippines and Malaysia. Included within Asia GCB, traditional retail banking and Citi-branded card products are also provided to retail customers in certain EMEA countries, primarily in Poland, Russia and the United Arab Emirates.

At September 30, 2017, on a combined basis, the businesses had 282 retail branches, approximately 16.2 million retail banking customer accounts, $67.5 billion in retail banking loans and $96.6 billion in deposits. In addition, the businesses had approximately 16.6 million Citi-branded card accounts with $18.8 billion in outstanding loan balances.

(1) Asia GCB includes the results of operations of GCB activities in certain EMEA countries for all periods presented.
(2) Reflects the impact of FX translation into U.S. dollars at the third quarter of 2017 and year-to-date 2017 average exchange rates for all periods presented.
(3) Presentation of this metric excluding FX translation is a non-GAAP financial measure.

The discussion of the results of operations for Asia GCB below excludes the impact of FX translation for all periods presented. Presentations of the results of operations, excluding the impact of FX translation, are non-GAAP financial measures. For a reconciliation of certain of these metrics to the reported results, see the table above.

3Q17 vs. 3Q16
Net income increased 13%, reflecting higher revenues and lower cost of credit, partially offset by higher expenses.
Revenues increased 5%, driven by improvement in wealth management and cards revenues, partially offset by continued lower retail lending revenues.
Retail banking revenues increased 4%, primarily due to the continued improvement in wealth management revenues, partially offset by the repositioning of the retail loan portfolio. Wealth management revenues increased due to improvement in investor sentiment, stronger equity markets and increases in assets under management (14%) and investment sales (36%). Average deposits increased 3%. These increases were partially offset by the lower retail lending revenues (down 4%), reflecting continued lower average loans (1%) due to the continued optimization of this portfolio away from lower-yielding mortgage loans to focus on growing higher-return personal loans.
Cards revenues increased 6%, reflecting 6% growth in average loans and 7% growth in purchase sales, both of which benefited from the previously disclosed portfolio acquisition in Australia in the first quarter of 2017.
Expenses increased 4%, resulting from volume growth and ongoing investment spending, partially offset by efficiency savings.
Provisions decreased 9%, primarily driven by an increase in net loan loss reserve releases. Overall credit quality continued to remain stable in the region.
For additional information on Asia GCB’s retail banking, including commercial banking, and its Citi-branded cards portfolios, see “Credit Risk—Consumer Credit” below.

2017 YTD vs. 2016 YTD
Year-to-date, Asia GCB has experienced similar trends to those described above. Net income increased 11% due to higher revenues, partially offset by higher expenses. Revenues increased 4%, primarily due to an increase in cards revenues and wealth management revenues, partially offset by lower retail lending revenues. Retail banking revenues increased 2%, driven by the same factors described above. Cards revenues increased 7%, driven by the same factors described above as well as a previously disclosed modest gain in the second quarter of 2017 related to the sale of merchant acquiring businesses in certain countries.

Expenses increased 2%, driven by the same factors described above.
Provisions were largely unchanged, as lower net credit losses were offset by lower net credit reserve releases, primarily due to a net loan loss reserve build in the first quarter of 2017 related to the card portfolio acquisition in Australia.

INSTITUTIONAL CLIENTS GROUP

Institutional Clients Group (ICG) includes Banking and Markets and securities services (for additional information on these businesses, see “Citigroup Segments” above). ICG provides corporate, institutional, public sector and high-net-worth clients around the world with a full range of wholesale banking products and services, including fixed income and equity sales and trading, foreign exchange, prime brokerage, derivative services, equity and fixed income research, corporate lending, investment banking and advisory services, private banking, cash management, trade finance and securities services. ICG transacts with clients in both cash instruments and derivatives, including fixed income, foreign currency, equity and commodity products.

ICG revenue is generated primarily from fees and spreads associated with these activities. ICG earns fee income for assisting clients in clearing transactions, providing brokerage and investment banking services and other such activities. Revenue generated from these activities is recorded in Commissions and fees and Investment banking. Revenue is also generated from transaction processing and assets under custody and administration. Revenue generated from these activities is primarily recorded in Administration and other fiduciary fees. In addition, as a market maker, ICG facilitates transactions, including holding product inventory to meet client demand, and earns the differential between the price at which it buys and sells the products. These price differentials and the unrealized gains and losses on the inventory are recorded in Principal transactions (for additional information on Principal transactions revenue, see Note 6 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). Other primarily includes mark-to-market gains and losses on certain credit derivatives, gains and losses on available-for-sale (AFS) securities and other non-recurring gains and losses. Interest income earned on assets held less interest paid to customers on deposits and long- and short-term debt is recorded as Net interest revenue.

The amount and types of Markets revenues are impacted by a variety of interrelated factors, including market liquidity; changes in market variables such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity prices, commodity prices and credit spreads, as well as their implied volatilities; investor confidence; and other macroeconomic conditions. Assuming all other market conditions do not change, increases in client activity levels or bid/offer spreads generally result in increases in revenues. However, changes in market conditions can significantly impact client activity levels, bid/offer spreads and the fair value of product inventory. For example, a decrease in market liquidity may increase bid/offer spreads, decrease client activity levels and widen credit spreads on product inventory positions.

ICG’s management of the Markets businesses involves daily monitoring and evaluating of the above factors at the trading desk as well as the country level. ICG does not separately track the impact on total Markets revenues of the volume of transactions, bid/offer spreads, fair value changes of product inventory positions and economic hedges because, as noted above, these components are interrelated and are not deemed useful or necessary individually to manage the Markets businesses at an aggregate level.

In the Markets businesses, client revenues are those revenues directly attributable to client transactions at the time of inception, including commissions, interest or fees earned. Client revenues do not include the results of client facilitation activities (for example, holding product inventory in anticipation of client demand) or the results of certain economic hedging activities.

ICG’s international presence is supported by trading floors in approximately 80 countries and a proprietary network in 98 countries and jurisdictions. At September 30, 2017, ICG had approximately $1.4 trillion of assets and $640 billion of deposits, while two of its businesses—securities services and issuer services—managed approximately $17.1 trillion of assets under custody compared to $15.4 trillion at the end of the prior-year period.

(1) Credit derivatives are used to economically hedge a portion of the corporate loan portfolio that includes both accrual loans and loans at fair value. Gains/(losses) on loan hedges includes the mark-to-market on the credit derivatives and the mark-to-market on the loans in the portfolio that are at fair value. The fixed premium costs of these hedges are netted against the corporate lending revenues to reflect the cost of credit protection. Citigroup's results of operations excluding the impact of gains/(losses) on loan hedges are non-GAAP financial measures.

(2) Third quarter of 2017 includes the $580 million gain on the sale of a fixed income analytics business. First quarter of 2016 includes the charge of approximately $180 million, primarily reflecting the write-down of Citi's net investment in Venezuela as a result of changes in the exchange rate during the quarter.

(3) Excludes principal transactions revenues of ICG businesses other than Markets, primarily treasury and trade solutions and the private bank.

NM Not meaningful

3Q17 vs. 3Q16
Net income increased 15%, driven by higher revenues, including the $580 million gain on the sale of a fixed income analytics business, and a higher benefit from cost of credit, partially offset by higher operating expenses.

- Revenues increased 9%, reflecting higher revenues in Banking (increase of 16%; increase of 11% excluding losses on loan hedges) and higher revenues in Markets and securities services (increase of 3%), including the gain on sale (decrease of 10% excluding the gain on sale). Banking revenues were driven by continued strong momentum and performance across all businesses. Citi expects revenues in ICG will likely continue to reflect the overall market environment, including a normal seasonal decline in the markets businesses in the fourth quarter of 2017.

Within Banking:

- Investment banking revenues increased 14%, driven by continued wallet share gains across products, partially offset by a decline in overall market wallet from the prior-year period. Advisory revenues declined 1%, largely reflecting the decline in overall market wallet. Equity underwriting revenues increased 99%, reflecting significant wallet share gains and particular strength in North America and EMEA. Debt underwriting revenues increased 1%, reflecting the wallet share gains, partially offset by the decline in overall market wallet.
- Treasury and trade solutions revenues increased 8%. Excluding the impact of FX translation, revenues increased 7%, primarily reflecting strength in EMEA and Asia. The increase in revenues reflects continued growth in loans and deposits along with improvements in deposit spreads, as well as fee growth driven by higher payment, clearing and commercial card volumes and episodic fees in trade. End-of-period deposit balances increased 3% (2% excluding the impact of FX translation). Average trade loans increased 4%, driven by strong loan growth in Asia and EMEA.
- Corporate lending revenues increased $233 million to $454 million. Excluding the impact of losses on loan hedges, revenues increased 14%. The increase in revenues was driven by lower hedging costs and improved loan sale activity. Average loans declined 1%.
- Private bank revenues increased 15%, reflecting strength across all products, largely driven by North America and Asia. The increase in revenues was due to growth in clients, higher loan and deposit volumes, higher deposit spreads, higher managed investments revenues and increased capital markets activity.

Within Markets and securities services:

- Fixed income markets revenues decreased 16%, driven by North America and EMEA, primarily due to lower client activity in the current quarter and the strong trading environment in the prior-year period. The decline in revenues was driven by lower net interest revenue (down 21%), largely due to a change in the mix of trading positions in support of client activity and lower principal transactions revenues (down 15%) reflecting the lower client activity and the prior-year strength in the trading environment. Rates and currencies revenues decreased 9%, driven by lower G10 rates and currencies revenues due to the low volatility in the current quarter and the comparison to higher revenues in the prior-year period following the vote in the U.K. in favor of its withdrawal from the European Union. Local markets rates and currencies revenues increased modestly, reflecting continued corporate client engagement across the global network. Spread products and other fixed income revenues decreased 32%, primarily driven by the prior-year strength in the trading environment in securitized markets in North America, as well as lower credit products and municipals revenues.
- Equity markets revenues increased 16%, driven mainly by client-led growth, reflecting strength across regions. The increase in revenues was primarily due to higher equity derivatives revenues due to higher client activity and a more favorable trading environment compared to the prior-year period. The increase was also driven by continued momentum in cash equities and higher balances in prime finance. Principal transactions revenues increased, reflecting the client-led growth.
- Securities services revenues increased 12%, reflecting particular strength in Asia and EMEA. The increase in revenues was driven by growth in fee revenues due to continued growth in assets under custody and increased client volumes, as well as growth in net interest revenue driven by higher interest rates.

Expenses increased 5% as investments, volume-related expenses and higher legal and related expenses were partially offset by efficiency savings.

Provisions decreased 82%, driven by a net loan loss reserve release of $208 million (compared to a $135 million release in the prior-year period, largely related to energy and energy-related exposures). The primary driver of the current quarter's release was an improvement in the provision for unfunded lending commitments in the corporate loan portfolio.

2017 YTD vs. 2016 YTD
Net income increased 24%, primarily driven by higher revenues and lower credit costs, partially offset by higher expenses.

- Revenues increased 10%, reflecting higher revenues in Banking (increase of 16%; increase of 13% excluding the impact of losses on loan hedges) and higher revenues in Markets and securities services (increase of 5%), including the gain on sale (unchanged excluding the gain on sale).

Within Banking:

- Investment banking revenues increased 24%, largely reflecting gains in wallet share across products as well as an improvement from the industry-wide slowdown in activity levels during the first half of 2016, particularly in equity underwriting. Advisory revenues increased 13%, reflecting the wallet share gains. Equity underwriting revenues increased 87%, driven by significant wallet share gains as well as the increase in overall market activity. Debt underwriting revenues increased 14%, primarily driven by the wallet share gains.
- Treasury and trade solutions revenues increased 7%, primarily driven by continued growth in deposit and loan volumes, higher spreads and strong fee growth across most cash products, as well as a modest improvement in trade revenues.
- Corporate lending revenues increased 61%. Excluding the impact of losses on loan hedges, revenues increased 11%, driven by lower hedging costs in the current period, improved loan sale activity and the prior-period adjustment to the residual value of a lease financing.
- Private bank revenues increased 14%, reflecting strength across all regions, primarily driven by increased loan and deposit growth, higher deposit spreads and higher managed investments revenues.

Within Markets and securities services:

- Fixed income markets revenues decreased 2%, due to lower revenues in North America, Latin America, and Asia, partially offset by growth in EMEA. Rates and currencies revenues decreased 2% due to lower G10 rates and currencies revenues reflecting low volatility this year and the comparison to Brexit-led activity in the prior-year period. Spread products and other fixed income revenues remained unchanged. Net interest revenue was lower (down 24%), largely due to a change in the mix of trading positions in support of client activity, partially offset by higher principal transactions revenues (up 17%).
- Equity markets revenues increased 4%, as continued growth in client balances and higher client activity, particularly in EMEA and Asia, were partially offset by the absence of episodic activity in North America in the prior-year period. Equity derivatives revenues increased, driven by stronger trading performance compared to the prior-year period as well as higher investor client activity, partially offset by a modest decline in prime finance revenues due to spread mix. Cash equities revenues were modestly higher, driven by higher client activity in Asia, partially offset by lower activity in North America.
- Securities services revenues increased 6%. Excluding the impact of prior year divestitures, revenues increased 11%, largely due to higher revenues in North America, Latin America and EMEA, driven by the same factors described above.

Expenses increased 4% from the prior-year period, driven by the same factors described above, partially offset by lower repositioning costs.
Provisions decreased $664 million, primarily reflecting a decline in net credit losses from $397 million in the prior-year period to $140 million and a net loan loss reserve release of $422 million ($15 million release in the period-year period). This lower cost of credit was driven largely by improvement in the energy sector, as well as the release related to the improvement in the provision for unfunded lending commitments.

CORPORATE/OTHER

Corporate/Other includes certain unallocated costs of global staff functions (including finance, risk, human resources, legal and compliance), other corporate expenses and unallocated global operations and technology expenses, Corporate Treasury, certain North America and international legacy consumer loan portfolios, other legacy assets and discontinued operations (for additional information on Corporate/Other, see "Citigroup Segments" above). At September 30, 2017, Corporate/Other had $100 billion in assets, a decrease of 4% year-over-year and 3% from December 31, 2016.

3Q17 vs. 3Q16

The net loss was $87 million, compared to a net loss of $48 million in the prior-year period, due to lower revenues, partially offset by lower expenses and lower cost of credit.

Revenues decreased 55%, driven by continued legacy asset run-off, divestitures and lower revenue from treasury hedging activities.

Expenses decreased 36%, primarily driven by the wind-down of legacy assets and lower legal expenses.

Provisions decreased $68 million to a net benefit of $50 million, primarily due to lower net credit losses, partially offset by a lower net loan loss reserve release. Net credit losses declined 78% to $29 million, primarily reflecting the impact of ongoing divestiture activity. The net reserve release declined 35%, mostly reflecting the continued wind-down of the North America mortgage portfolio, partially offset by a hurricane-related loan loss reserve build (of approximately $20 million).

2017 YTD vs. 2016 YTD

Year-to-date, Corporate/Other has experienced similar trends to those described above. The net loss was $10 million, compared to net income of $518 million in the prior-year period, reflecting lower revenues, partially offset by lower expenses and lower cost of credit.

Revenues decreased 45%, primarily driven by the same factors described above as well as the absence of gains related to debt buybacks in 2016. Revenues included approximately $750 million in gains on asset sales in the first quarter of 2017, which more than offset a roughly $300 million charge related to the exit of Citi's U.S. mortgage servicing operations in the quarter.

Expenses decreased 24%, driven by the same factors described above, partially offset by approximately $100 million in episodic expenses primarily related to the exit of the U.S. mortgage servicing operations.

Provisions decreased $220 million, driven by the same factors described above. Net credit losses declined 64% to $134 million, reflecting the impact of ongoing divestiture activity as well as continued wind-down in the legacy North America mortgage portfolio. The provision for benefits and claims declined $97 million, reflecting continued legacy divestitures. The net reserve release declined 31%, driven by the same factors described above.

CAPITAL RESOURCES

Overview

Capital is used principally to support assets in Citi's businesses and to absorb credit, market and operational losses. Citi primarily generates capital through earnings from its operating businesses. Citi may augment its capital through issuances of common stock, noncumulative perpetual preferred stock and equity issued through awards under employee benefit plans, among other issuances.

Further, Citi's capital levels may also be affected by changes in accounting and regulatory standards, as well as U.S. corporate tax laws and the impact of future events on Citi's business results, such as changes in interest and foreign exchange rates, as well as business and asset dispositions.

During the third quarter of 2017, Citi returned a total of approximately $6.4 billion of capital to common shareholders in the form of share repurchases (approximately 81 million common shares) and dividends.

Capital Management

Citi's capital management framework is designed to ensure that Citigroup and its principal subsidiaries maintain sufficient capital consistent with each entity's respective risk profile, management targets and all applicable regulatory standards and guidelines. For additional information regarding Citi's capital management, see "Capital Resources—Capital Management" in Citigroup's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Capital Planning and Stress Testing

Citi is subject to an annual assessment by the Federal Reserve Board as to whether Citigroup has effective capital planning processes as well as sufficient regulatory capital to absorb losses during stressful economic and financial conditions, while also meeting obligations to creditors and counterparties and continuing to serve as a credit intermediary. This annual assessment includes two related programs: the Comprehensive Capital Analysis and Review (CCAR) and Dodd-Frank Act Stress Testing (DFAST). For additional information regarding Citi's capital planning and stress testing, including potential changes in Citi's regulatory capital requirements and future CCAR processes, see "Forward-Looking Statements" below and "Capital Resources—Current Regulatory Capital Standards—Capital Planning and Stress Testing" and "Risk Factors—Strategic Risks" in Citigroup's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Current Regulatory Capital Standards

Citi is subject to regulatory capital standards issued by the Federal Reserve Board which constitute the U.S. Basel III rules. These rules establish an integrated capital adequacy framework, encompassing both risk-based capital ratios and leverage ratios. For additional information regarding the risk-based capital ratios, Tier 1 Leverage ratio and Supplementary Leverage ratio, see "Capital Resources—Current Regulatory Capital Standards" in Citigroup's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

GSIB Surcharge

The Federal Reserve Board also adopted a rule that imposes a risk-based capital surcharge upon U.S. bank holding companies that are identified as global systemically important bank holding companies (GSIBs), including Citi. GSIB surcharges under the rule initially range from 1% to 4.5% of total risk-weighted assets. Citi's initial GSIB surcharge effective January 1, 2016 was 3.5%. However, ongoing efforts in addressing quantitative measures of systemic importance have resulted in a reduction of Citi's GSIB surcharge to 3%, effective January 1, 2017. For additional information regarding the identification of a GSIB and the methodology for annually determining the GSIB surcharge, see "Capital Resources—Current Regulatory Capital Standards—GSIB Surcharge" in Citigroup's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Transition Provisions

The U.S. Basel III rules contain several differing, largely multi-year transition provisions (i.e., "phase-ins" and "phase-outs"). Citi considers all of these transition provisions as being fully implemented on January 1, 2019 (full implementation). For additional information regarding the transition provisions under the U.S. Basel III rules, including with respect to the GSIB surcharge, see "Capital Resources—Current Regulatory Capital Standards—Transition Provisions" in Citigroup's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Citigroup's Capital Resources Under Current Regulatory Standards

Citi is required to maintain stated minimum Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital ratios of 4.5%, 6% and 8%, respectively.

Citi's effective minimum Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital ratios during 2017, inclusive of the 50% phase-in of both the 2.5% Capital Conservation Buffer and the 3% GSIB surcharge (all of which is to be composed of Common Equity Tier 1 Capital), are 7.25%, 8.75% and 10.75%, respectively. Citi's effective minimum Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital ratios during 2016, inclusive of the 25% phase-in of both the 2.5% Capital Conservation Buffer and the 3.5% GSIB surcharge (all of which is to be composed of Common Equity Tier 1 Capital), were 6%, 7.5% and 9.5%, respectively.

Furthermore, to be "well capitalized" under current federal bank regulatory agency definitions, a bank holding company must have a Tier 1 Capital ratio of at least 6%, a Total Capital ratio of at least 10%, and not be subject to a Federal Reserve Board directive to maintain higher capital levels.

The following tables set forth the capital tiers, total risk-weighted assets and underlying risk components, risk-based capital ratios, quarterly adjusted average total assets, Total Leverage Exposure and leverage ratios under current regulatory standards (reflecting Basel III Transition Arrangements) for Citi as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016.

Citigroup Capital Components and Ratios Under Current Regulatory Standards (Basel III Transition Arrangements)

In millions of dollars, except ratios	September 30, 2017		December 31, 2016

Tier 1 Leverage ratio	9.64 %	10.09 %
Supplementary Leverage ratio	7.29	7.58

(1) Under the U.S. Basel III rules, credit risk-weighted assets during the transition period reflect the effects of transition arrangements related to regulatory capital adjustments and deductions and, as a result, will differ from credit risk-weighted assets derived under full implementation of the rules.

(2) As of September 30, 2017, Citi's reportable Common Equity Tier 1 Capital and Tier 1 Capital ratios were the lower derived under the Basel III Standardized Approach, whereas the reportable Total Capital ratio was the lower derived under the Basel III Advanced Approaches framework. As of December 31, 2016, Citi's reportable Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital ratios were the lower derived under the Basel III Advanced Approaches framework.

(3) Tier 1 Leverage ratio denominator.

(4) Supplementary Leverage ratio denominator.

As indicated in the table above, Citigroup's risk-based capital ratios at September 30, 2017 were in excess of the stated and effective minimum requirements under the U.S. Basel III rules. In addition, Citi was also "well capitalized" under current federal bank regulatory agency definitions as of September 30, 2017.

Total Capital (Tier 1 Capital + Tier 2 Capital) (Advanced Approaches)	$ 202,643	$ 202,146

(1) Issuance costs of $184 million related to noncumulative perpetual preferred stock outstanding at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016 are excluded from common stockholders' equity and netted against such preferred stock in accordance with Federal Reserve Board regulatory reporting requirements, which differ from those under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP).

(2) In addition, includes the net amount of unamortized loss on held-to-maturity (HTM) securities. This amount relates to securities that were previously transferred from AFS to HTM, and non-credit-related factors such as changes in interest rates and liquidity spreads for HTM securities with other-than-temporary impairment.

(3) The transition arrangements for significant regulatory capital adjustments and deductions impacting Common Equity Tier 1 Capital and Additional Tier 1 Capital are set forth in the chart entitled "Basel III Transition Arrangements: Significant Regulatory Capital Adjustments and Deductions," as presented in Citigroup's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

(4) Common Equity Tier 1 Capital is adjusted for accumulated net unrealized gains (losses) on cash flow hedges included in Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) (AOCI) that relate to the hedging of items not recognized at fair value on the balance sheet.

(5) The cumulative impact of changes in Citigroup's own creditworthiness in valuing liabilities for which the fair value option has been elected, and own-credit valuation adjustments on derivatives, are excluded from Common Equity Tier 1 Capital and Additional Tier 1 Capital, in accordance with the U.S. Basel III rules.

(6) Includes goodwill "embedded" in the valuation of significant common stock investments in unconsolidated financial institutions.

(7) Of Citi's approximately $45.5 billion of net DTAs at September 30, 2017, approximately $19.9 billion were includable in regulatory capital pursuant to the U.S. Basel III rules, while approximately $25.6 billion were excluded. Excluded from Citi's regulatory capital at September 30, 2017 was in total approximately $27.0 billion of net DTAs arising from both net operating loss, foreign tax credit and general business credit carry-forwards as well as temporary differences, of which approximately $23.0 billion were deducted from Common Equity Tier 1 Capital and approximately $4.0 billion were deducted from Additional Tier 1 Capital, which was reduced by approximately $1.4 billion of net DTLs primarily associated with goodwill and certain other intangible assets. Separately, under the U.S. Basel III rules, goodwill and these other intangible assets are deducted net of associated DTLs in arriving at Common Equity Tier 1 Capital. DTAs arising from net operating loss, foreign tax credit and general business credit carry-forwards are required to be deducted from both Common Equity Tier 1 Capital and Additional Tier 1 Capital under the transition arrangements of the U.S. Basel III rules; whereas DTAs arising from temporary differences are deducted solely from Common Equity Tier 1 Capital under these rules, if in excess of 10%/15% limitations.

(8) Assets subject to 10%/15% limitations include MSRs, DTAs arising from temporary differences and significant common stock investments in unconsolidated financial institutions. At September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, this deduction related only to DTAs arising from temporary differences that exceeded the 10% limitation. Accordingly, approximately $6.9 billion of DTAs arising from temporary differences were excluded from Citi's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital at September 30, 2017. Changes to the U.S. corporate tax regime that impact the value of Citi's DTAs arising from temporary differences, which exceed the then current amount deducted from Citi's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, would further reduce Citi's regulatory capital to the extent of such excess after tax. For additional information regarding potential U.S. corporate tax reform, see "Risk Factors—Strategic Risks" in Citigroup's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

(9) Represents Citigroup Capital XIII trust preferred securities, which are permanently grandfathered as Tier 1 Capital under the U.S. Basel III rules.

(10) Banking entities are required to be in compliance with the Volcker Rule of the Dodd-Frank Act that prohibits conducting certain proprietary investment activities and limits their ownership of, and relationships with, covered funds. Accordingly, Citi is required by the Volcker Rule to deduct from Tier 1 Capital all permitted ownership interests in covered funds that were acquired after December 31, 2013.

50% of the minimum regulatory capital requirements of insurance underwriting subsidiaries must be deducted from each of Tier 1 Capital and Tier 2 Capital.

(12) Effective January 1, 2016, non-grandfathered trust preferred securities are not eligible for inclusion in Tier 1 Capital, but are eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital subject to full phase-out by January 1, 2022. Non-grandfathered trust preferred securities are eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital in an amount up to 50% and 60% during 2017 and 2016, respectively, of the aggregate outstanding principal amounts of such issuances as of January 1, 2014, in accordance with the transition arrangements for non-qualifying capital instruments under the U.S. Basel III rules.

(13) Under the Standardized Approach, the allowance for credit losses is eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital up to 1.25% of credit risk-weighted assets, with any excess allowance for credit losses being deducted in arriving at credit risk-weighted assets, which differs from the Advanced Approaches framework, in which eligible credit reserves that exceed expected credit losses are eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital to the extent the excess reserves do not exceed 0.6% of credit risk-weighted assets. The total amount of eligible credit reserves in excess of expected credit losses that were eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital, subject to limitation, under the Advanced Approaches framework was $1.5 billion and $0.7 billion at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively.

(1) General credit risk exposures include cash and balances due from depository institutions, securities, and loans and leases. General credit risk exposures increased during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to corporate loan growth.

(2) Repo-style transactions include repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions and securities borrowing or securities lending transactions.

(3) Securitization exposures decreased during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 principally as a result of certain securitization exposures becoming subject to deduction from Tier 1 Capital under the Volcker Rule of the Dodd-Frank Act.

(4) OTC derivatives increased during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to increased trade volume.

(5) Other exposures include cleared transactions, unsettled transactions, and other assets. Other exposures decreased during the three months ended September 30, 2017, as growth in cleared transactions was more than offset by the impact of supervisory guidance on the regulatory capital treatment of certain centrally cleared derivatives. Other exposures increased during the nine months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to growth in cleared transactions.

(6) Off-balance sheet exposures increased during the nine months ended September 30, 2017, as the growth in corporate exposures and reduced hedging benefits during the first quarter of 2017 more than offset the decline in off-balance sheet exposures during the second and third quarter of 2017.

(7) Risk levels decreased during the three months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to a decrease in exposure levels subject to Stressed Value at Risk and Value at Risk. Risk levels increased during the nine months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to an increase in exposure levels subject to comprehensive risk, as well as an increase in positions subject to securitization charges and standard specific risk charges.

(8) Risk-weighted assets declined during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, as Citi received supervisory approval to remove the Comprehensive Risk Measure model surcharge for correlation trading portfolios, commencing with the third quarter of 2017. Further contributing to the decline in risk-weighted assets during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, were changes in model inputs regarding volatility and the correlation between market risk factors.

(1) Retail exposures increased during the three months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to model enhancements. Retail exposures decreased during the nine months ended September 30, 2017 principally resulting from residential mortgage loan sales and repayments, and divestitures of certain legacy assets.

(2) Wholesale exposures decreased during the three months ended September 30, 2017 as the impact of certain loan syndications more than offset corporate loan growth. Wholesale exposures decreased during the nine months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to annual updates to model parameters.

(3) Repo-style transactions include repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions and securities borrowing or securities lending transactions.

(4) Securitization exposures decreased during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 principally as a result of certain securitization exposures becoming subject to deduction from Tier 1 Capital under the Volcker Rule of the Dodd-Frank Act.

(5) OTC derivatives increased during the three months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to changes in fair value. OTC derivatives decreased during the nine months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to changes in fair value and improved portfolio credit quality.

(6) Other exposures include cleared transactions, unsettled transactions, assets other than those reportable in specific exposure categories, and non-material portfolios. Other exposures increased during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to increases in cleared transactions.

(7) Supervisory 6% multiplier does not apply to derivatives CVA.

(8) Risk levels decreased during the three months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to a decrease in exposure levels subject to Stressed Value at Risk and Value at Risk. Risk levels increased during the nine months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to an increase in exposure levels subject to comprehensive risk, as well as an increase in positions subject to securitization charges and standard specific risk charges.

Risk-weighted assets declined during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, as Citi received supervisory approval to remove the Comprehensive Risk Measure model surcharge for correlation trading portfolios, commencing with the third quarter of 2017. Further contributing to the decline in risk-weighted assets during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, were changes in model inputs regarding volatility and the correlation between market risk factors.

(10) Operational risk-weighted assets decreased during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 primarily due to assessed improvements in the business environment and risk controls. Further contributing to the decline in operational risk-weighted assets during the nine months ended September 30, 2017 were changes in operational loss severity and frequency.

Capital Resources of Citigroup's Subsidiary U.S. Depository Institutions Under Current Regulatory Standards
Citigroup's subsidiary U.S. depository institutions are also subject to regulatory capital standards issued by their respective primary federal bank regulatory agencies, which are similar to the standards of the Federal Reserve Board. During 2017, Citi's primary subsidiary U.S. depository institution, Citibank, N.A. (Citibank), is subject to effective minimum Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital ratios, inclusive of the 50% phase-in of the 2.5% Capital Conservation Buffer, of 5.75%, 7.25% and 9.25%, respectively. Citibank's effective minimum Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital ratios during 2016, inclusive of the 25% phase-in of the 2.5% Capital Conservation Buffer, were 5.125%, 6.625% and 8.625%, respectively. Citibank is required to maintain stated minimum Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital ratios of 4.5%, 6% and 8%, respectively.

The following tables set forth the capital tiers, total risk-weighted assets and underlying risk components, risk-based capital ratios, quarterly adjusted average total assets, Total Leverage Exposure and leverage ratios under current regulatory standards (reflecting Basel III Transition Arrangements) for Citibank, Citi's primary subsidiary U.S. depository institution, as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016.

(1) Under the Advanced Approaches framework, eligible credit reserves that exceed expected credit losses are eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital to the extent the excess reserves do not exceed 0.6% of credit risk-weighted assets, which differs from the Standardized Approach in which the allowance for credit losses is eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital up to 1.25% of credit risk-weighted assets, with any excess allowance for credit losses being deducted in arriving at credit risk-weighted assets.

(2) As of September 30, 2017, Citibank's reportable Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital ratios were the lower derived under the Basel III Standardized Approach. As of December 31, 2016, Citibank's reportable Common Equity Tier 1 Capital and Tier 1 Capital ratios were the lower derived under the Basel III Standardized Approach, whereas the reportable Total Capital ratio was the lower derived under the Basel III Advanced Approaches framework.

(3) Citibank must maintain minimum Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital, Total Capital and Tier 1 Leverage ratios of 6.5%, 8%, 10% and 5%, respectively, to be considered "well capitalized" under the revised Prompt Corrective Action (PCA) regulations applicable to insured depository institutions as established by the U.S.

Basel III rules. For additional information, see “Capital Resources—Current Regulatory Capital Standards—Prompt Corrective Action Framework” in Citigroup’s 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

(4) Tier 1 Leverage ratio denominator.

(5) Supplementary Leverage ratio denominator.

As indicated in the table above, Citibank’s risk-based capital ratios at September 30, 2017 were in excess of the stated and effective minimum requirements under the U.S. Basel III rules. In addition, Citibank was also “well capitalized” as of September 30, 2017 under the revised PCA regulations, which became effective January 1, 2015.

Impact of Changes on Citigroup and Citibank Capital Ratios Under Current Regulatory Capital Standards

The following tables present the estimated sensitivity of Citigroup's and Citibank's capital ratios to changes of $100 million in Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital (numerator), and changes of $1 billion in Advanced Approaches and Standardized Approach risk-weighted assets and quarterly adjusted average total assets, as well as Total Leverage Exposure (denominator), under current regulatory capital standards (reflecting Basel III Transition Arrangements), as of September 30, 2017.

This information is provided for the purpose of analyzing the impact that a change in Citigroup's or Citibank's financial position or results of operations could have on these ratios. These sensitivities only consider a single change to either a component of capital, risk-weighted assets, quarterly adjusted average total assets or Total Leverage Exposure. Accordingly, an event that affects more than one factor may have a larger basis point impact than is reflected in these tables.

Citigroup Broker-Dealer Subsidiaries

At September 30, 2017, Citigroup Global Markets Inc., a U.S. broker-dealer registered with the SEC that is an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Citigroup, had net capital, computed in accordance with the SEC's net capital rule, of approximately $10.5 billion, which exceeded the minimum requirement by approximately $8.5 billion.

Moreover, Citigroup Global Markets Limited, a broker-dealer registered with the United Kingdom's Prudential Regulation Authority (PRA) that is also an indirect wholly owned subsidiary of Citigroup, had total capital of approximately $17.2 billion at September 30, 2017, which exceeded the PRA's minimum regulatory capital requirements.

In addition, certain of Citi's other broker-dealer subsidiaries are subject to regulation in the countries in which they do business, including requirements to maintain specified levels of net capital or its equivalent. Citigroup's other broker-dealer subsidiaries were in compliance with their regulatory capital requirements at September 30, 2017.

Basel III (Full Implementation)

Citigroup's Capital Resources Under Basel III
(Full Implementation)
Citi currently estimates that its effective minimum Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, Tier 1 Capital and Total Capital ratio requirements under the U.S. Basel III rules, on a fully implemented basis, inclusive of the 2.5% Capital Conservation Buffer and the Countercyclical Capital Buffer at its current level of 0%, as well as an expected 3% GSIB surcharge, may be 10%, 11.5% and 13.5%, respectively.
Further, under the U.S. Basel III rules, Citi must also comply with a 4% minimum Tier 1 Leverage ratio requirement and an effective 5% minimum Supplementary Leverage ratio requirement.
The following tables set forth the capital tiers, total risk-weighted assets and underlying risk components, risk-based capital ratios, quarterly adjusted average total assets, Total Leverage Exposure and leverage ratios, assuming full implementation under the U.S. Basel III rules, for Citi as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016.

At September 30, 2017, Citi's constraining Common Equity Tier 1 Capital and Tier 1 Capital ratios were those derived under the Basel III Standardized Approach, whereas Citi's binding Total Capital ratio was that resulting from application of the Basel III Advanced Approaches framework. Further, each of Citi's risk-based capital ratios was constrained by the Basel III Advanced Approaches framework for all periods prior to June 30, 2017.

Common Equity Tier 1 Capital Ratio

Citi's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio was 13.0% at September 30, 2017, compared to 13.1% at June 30, 2017 and 12.6% at December 31, 2016. The ratio declined quarter-over-quarter as the favorable effects associated with quarterly net income of $4.1 billion and a slight decline in total risk-weighted assets were more than offset by the return of $6.4 billion of capital to common shareholders during the period. The growth in Citi's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio from year-end 2016 reflected continued enhancement of Common Equity Tier 1 Capital resulting from year-to-date net income of $12.1 billion and beneficial net movements in AOCI, offset in part by the return of approximately $10.8 billion of capital to common shareholders during the first nine months of 2017.

(1) Issuance costs of $184 million related to noncumulative perpetual preferred stock outstanding at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016 are excluded from common stockholders' equity and netted against such preferred stock in accordance with Federal Reserve Board regulatory reporting requirements, which differ from those under U.S. GAAP.

(2) Common Equity Tier 1 Capital is adjusted for accumulated net unrealized gains (losses) on cash flow hedges included in AOCI that relate to the hedging of items not recognized at fair value on the balance sheet.

(3) The cumulative impact of changes in Citigroup's own creditworthiness in valuing liabilities for which the fair value option has been elected, and own-credit valuation adjustments on derivatives, are excluded from Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, in accordance with the U.S. Basel III rules.

(4) Includes goodwill "embedded" in the valuation of significant common stock investments in unconsolidated financial institutions.

Footnotes continue on the following page.

(5) Of Citi's approximately $45.5 billion of net DTAs at September 30, 2017, approximately $17.6 billion were includable in Common Equity Tier 1 Capital pursuant to the U.S. Basel III rules, while approximately $27.9 billion were excluded. Excluded from Citi's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital at September 30, 2017 was in total approximately $29.3 billion of net DTAs arising from both net operating loss, foreign tax credit and general business credit carry-forwards as well as temporary differences, which was reduced by approximately $1.4 billion of net DTLs primarily associated with goodwill and certain other intangible assets. Separately, under the U.S. Basel III rules, goodwill and these other intangible assets are deducted net of associated DTLs in arriving at Common Equity Tier 1 Capital. DTAs arising from net operating loss, foreign tax credit and general business credit carry-forwards are required to be entirely deducted from Common Equity Tier 1 Capital under full implementation of the U.S. Basel III rules; whereas DTAs arising from temporary differences are deducted from Common Equity Tier 1 Capital under these rules, if in excess of 10%/15% limitations.

(6) Assets subject to 10%/15% limitations include MSRs, DTAs arising from temporary differences and significant common stock investments in unconsolidated financial institutions. At September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, this deduction related only to DTAs arising from temporary differences that exceeded the 10% limitation. Accordingly, approximately $9.3 billion of DTAs arising from temporary differences were excluded from Citi's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital at September 30, 2017. Changes to the U.S. corporate tax regime that impact the value of Citi's DTAs arising from temporary differences, which exceed the then current amount deducted from Citi's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital, would further reduce Citi's regulatory capital to the extent of such excess after tax. For additional information regarding potential U.S. corporate tax reform, see "Risk Factors—Strategic Risks" in Citigroup's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

(7) Represents Citigroup Capital XIII trust preferred securities, which are permanently grandfathered as Tier 1 Capital under the U.S. Basel III rules.

(8) Banking entities are required to be in compliance with the Volcker Rule of the Dodd-Frank Act that prohibits conducting certain proprietary investment activities and limits their ownership of, and relationships with, covered funds. Accordingly, Citi is required by the Volcker Rule to deduct from Tier 1 Capital all permitted ownership interests in covered funds that were acquired after December 31, 2013.

(9) 50% of the minimum regulatory capital requirements of insurance underwriting subsidiaries must be deducted from each of Tier 1 Capital and Tier 2 Capital.

(10) Represents the amount of non-grandfathered trust preferred securities eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital under the U.S. Basel III rules, which will be fully phased-out of Tier 2 Capital by January 1, 2022.

(11) Under the Standardized Approach, the allowance for credit losses is eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital up to 1.25% of credit risk-weighted assets, with any excess allowance for credit losses being deducted in arriving at credit risk-weighted assets, which differs from the Advanced Approaches framework, in which eligible credit reserves that exceed expected credit losses are eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital to the extent the excess reserves do not exceed 0.6% of credit risk-weighted assets. The total amount of eligible credit reserves in excess of expected credit losses that were eligible for inclusion in Tier 2 Capital, subject to limitation, under the Advanced Approaches framework was $1.5 billion and $0.7 billion at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively.

(2) Supervisory 6% multiplier does not apply to derivatives CVA.

Total risk-weighted assets under the Basel III Standardized Approach increased from year-end 2016 substantially due to higher credit risk-weighted assets, primarily resulting from corporate loan growth and increased repo-style transaction activity.
Total risk-weighted assets under the Basel III Advanced Approaches decreased from year-end 2016, driven by substantially lower credit and operational risk-weighted assets. The decrease in credit risk-weighted assets was primarily due to annual updates to model parameters for wholesale exposures, a decline in retail exposures resulting from residential mortgage loan sales and repayments as well as divestitures of certain legacy assets, and, separately, certain securitization exposures becoming subject to deduction from Tier 1 Capital under the Volcker Rule of the Dodd-Frank Act, which was partially offset by an increase in repo-style transaction activity. Operational risk-weighted assets decreased from year-end 2016 primarily due to assessed improvements in the business environment and risk controls, as well as changes in operational loss severity and frequency.

Supplementary Leverage Ratio

Citigroup's Supplementary Leverage ratio was 7.1% for the third quarter of 2017, compared to 7.2% for both the second quarter of 2017 and fourth quarter of 2016. The decline in the ratio quarter-over-quarter was principally driven by the return of $6.4 billion of capital to common shareholders and an increase in Total Leverage Exposure primarily due to growth in average on-balance sheet assets, partially offset by quarterly net income of $4.1 billion. The ratio decreased from the fourth quarter of 2016, as year-to-date net income of $12.1 billion and beneficial net movements in AOCI were more than offset by the return of $10.8 billion of capital to common shareholders and an increase in Total Leverage Exposure primarily due to growth in average on-balance sheet assets.

The following table sets forth Citi's Supplementary Leverage ratio and related components, assuming full implementation under the U.S. Basel III rules, for the three months ended September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016.

(1) Represents the daily average of on-balance sheet assets for the quarter.

(2) Represents the average of certain off-balance sheet exposures calculated as of the last day of each month in the quarter.

(3) Under the U.S. Basel III rules, banking organizations are required to include in TLE the effective notional amount of sold credit derivatives, with netting of exposures permitted if certain conditions are met.

(4) Repo-style transactions include repurchase or reverse repurchase transactions and securities borrowing or securities lending transactions.

Citibank's Supplementary Leverage ratio, assuming full implementation under the U.S. Basel III rules, was 6.7% for the third quarter of 2017, compared to 6.6% for both the second quarter of 2017 and fourth quarter of 2016. The growth in the ratio quarter-over-quarter and from year-end 2016 was principally driven by an increase in Tier 1 Capital attributable largely to net income, partially offset by cash dividends paid by Citibank to its parent, Citicorp, and which were subsequently remitted to Citigroup.

Tangible Common Equity, Book Value Per Share, Tangible Book Value Per Share and Returns on Equity
Tangible common equity (TCE), as defined by Citi, represents common stockholders' equity less goodwill and identifiable intangible assets (other than MSRs). Other companies may calculate TCE in a different manner. TCE, tangible book value per share and returns on average TCE are non-GAAP financial measures.

MANAGING GLOBAL RISK

For Citi, effective risk management is of primary importance to its overall operations. Accordingly, Citi's risk management process has been designed to monitor, evaluate and manage the principal risks it assumes in conducting its activities. Specifically, the activities that Citi engages in, and the risks those activities generate, must be consistent with Citi's mission and value proposition, the key principles that guide it, and Citi's risk appetite.

For more information on Citi's management of global risk, including its three lines of defense, see "Managing Global Risk" in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

CREDIT RISK

For additional information on credit risk, including Citi's credit risk management, measurement and stress testing, see "Credit Risk" and "Risk Factors" in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

CONSUMER CREDIT
Citi provides traditional retail banking, including commercial banking, and credit card products in 19 countries and jurisdictions through North America GCB, Latin America GCB and Asia GCB. The retail banking products include consumer mortgages, home equity, personal and commercial loans and lines of credit, and similar related products with a focus on lending to prime customers. Citi uses its risk appetite framework to define its lending parameters. In addition, Citi uses proprietary scoring models for new customer approvals. As stated in "Global Consumer Banking" above, GCB's overall strategy is to leverage Citi's global footprint and be the preeminent bank for the affluent and emerging affluent consumers in large urban centers. In credit cards and in certain retail markets, Citi serves customers in a somewhat broader set of segments and geographies. GCB's commercial banking business focuses on small to mid-sized businesses.

Overall Consumer Credit Trends
The following charts show the quarterly trends in delinquencies and net credit losses across both retail banking, including commercial banking, and cards for total GCB and by region.

Global Consumer Banking
North America
Latin America
Asia[1]

(1) Asia includes GCB activities in certain EMEA countries for all periods presented.

North America GCB provides mortgages, home equity loans, personal loans and commercial banking products through Citi's retail banking network and card products through Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services businesses. The retail bank is concentrated in six major metropolitan cities in the United States (for additional information on the U.S. retail bank, see "North America GCB" above).
As of September 30, 2017, approximately 70% of North America GCB consumer loans consisted of Citi-branded and Citi retail services cards, which generally drives the overall credit performance of North America GCB, including the credit performance year-over-year as of the third quarter of 2017 (for additional information on North America GCB's cards portfolios, including delinquency and net credit loss rates, see "Credit Card Trends" below). Quarter-over-quarter, 90+ days past due delinquencies increased slightly, primarily due to seasonality in the cards portfolios. The net credit loss rate increased quarter-over-quarter, primarily due to episodic charge-offs in the commercial portfolio, which were offset by related loan loss reserve releases.
Latin America GCB operates in Mexico through Citibanamex, one of Mexico's largest banks, and provides credit cards, consumer mortgages, personal loans and commercial banking products. Latin America GCB serves a more mass market segment in Mexico and focuses on developing multi-product relationships with customers.
As set forth in the chart above, 90+ days past due delinquencies modestly improved and the net credit loss rate increased in Latin America GCB year-over-year as of the third quarter of 2017. The increase in the net credit loss rate primarily reflected seasoning. The delinquency and net credit loss rates remained stable quarter-over-quarter.
Asia GCB operates in 17 countries in Asia and EMEA and provides credit cards, consumer mortgages, personal loans and commercial banking products.
As shown in the chart above, 90+ days past due delinquency and net credit loss rates were largely stable in Asia GCB year-over-year and quarter-over-quarter as of the third quarter of 2017. This stability reflects the strong credit profiles in Asia GCB's target customer segments. In addition, regulatory changes in many markets in Asia over the past few years have resulted in stable or improved portfolio credit quality, despite weaker macroeconomic conditions in several countries.
For additional information on cost of credit, loan delinquency and other information for Citi's consumer loan portfolios, see each respective business's results of operations above and Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Credit Card Trends
The following charts show the quarterly trends in delinquencies and net credit losses for total GCB cards, Citi's North America Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services portfolios as well as for Citi's Latin America and Asia Citi-branded cards portfolios.

Total Cards

North America Citi-Branded Cards

North America GCB's Citi-branded cards portfolio issues proprietary and co-branded cards. As shown in the chart above, the 90+ days past due delinquency rate in Citi-branded cards was stable year-over-year and quarter-over-quarter. The net credit loss rate increased year-over-year primarily due to the impact of the Costco portfolio acquisition and seasoning, and decreased quarter-over-quarter mostly due to seasonality.

North America Citi Retail Services

Citi retail services partners directly with more than 20 retailers and dealers to offer private-label and co-branded consumer and commercial cards. Citi retail services' target market is focused on select industry segments such as home improvement, specialty retail, consumer electronics and fuel. Citi retail services continually evaluates opportunities to add partners within target industries that have strong loyalty, lending or payment programs and growth potential.
Citi retail services' delinquency and net credit loss rates increased year-over-year, primarily due to seasoning and softness in the collections rates experienced once an account reaches mid-stage delinquency. The net credit loss rate decreased quarter-over-quarter due to seasonality, while the delinquency rate increase quarter-over-quarter was driven by seasonality and softening in collections.

Latin America Citi-Branded Cards

Latin America GCB issues proprietary and co-branded cards. As set forth in the chart above, the net credit loss rate increased year-over-year and quarter-over-quarter primarily due to seasoning. The 90+ days past due delinquency rate increased year-over-year also driven by seasoning, while the decrease quarter-over-quarter was due to seasonality.

50

Asia Citi-Branded Cards[1]

(1) Asia includes loans and leases in certain EMEA countries for all periods presented.

Asia GCB issues proprietary and co-branded cards. As set forth in the chart above, 90+ days past due delinquency and net credit loss rates have remained broadly stable, driven by the mature and well-diversified cards portfolios.
For additional information on cost of credit, delinquency and other information for Citi's cards portfolios, see each respective business's results of operations above and Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

North America Cards FICO Distribution
The following tables show the current FICO score distributions for Citi's North America Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services portfolios based on end-of-period receivables. FICO scores are updated monthly for substantially all of the portfolio and on a quarterly basis for the remaining portfolio.

Citi-Branded

FICO distribution	September 30, 2017	December 31, 2016

660 - 720	35	35
620 - 660	13	13
< 620	11	10
Total	100 %	100 %

As indicated by the tables above, the FICO distributions for Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services cards portfolios were largely unchanged versus year-end 2016. For additional information on FICO scores, see Note 13 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

North America Consumer Mortgage Lending

Citi's North America consumer mortgage portfolio consists of both residential first mortgages and home equity loans. The following table shows the outstanding quarterly end-of-period loans for Citi's North America residential first mortgage and home equity loan portfolios:

For additional information on delinquency and net credit loss trends in Citi's consumer mortgage portfolio, see "Additional Consumer Credit Details" below.

Home Equity Loans—Revolving HELOCs

As set forth in the table above, Citi had $15.6 billion of home equity loans as of September 30, 2017, of which $3.6 billion were fixed-rate home equity loans and $12.0 billion were extended under home equity lines of credit (Revolving HELOCs). Fixed-rate home equity loans are fully amortizing. Revolving HELOCs allow for amounts to be drawn for a period of time with the payment of interest only until the end of the draw period, when the outstanding amount is converted to an amortizing loan, or "reset" (the interest-only payment feature during the revolving period is standard for this product across the industry). Upon reset, these borrowers will be required to pay both interest, usually at a variable rate, and principal that amortizes typically over 20 years, rather than the standard 30-year amortization.

Of the Revolving HELOCs at September 30, 2017, $6.8 billion had reset (compared to $6.6 billion at June 30, 2017) and $5.2 billion were still within their revolving period that had not reset (compared to $6.0 billion at June 30, 2017). The following chart indicates the FICO and combined loan-to-value (CLTV) characteristics of Citi's Revolving HELOCs portfolio and the year in which they reset:

North America Home Equity Lines of Credit Amortization – Citigroup

Total ENR by Reset Year

In billions of dollars as of September 30, 2017

Note: Totals may not sum due to rounding.

Approximately 57% of Citi's total Revolving HELOCs portfolio had reset as of September 30, 2017 (compared to 53% as of June 30, 2017). Of the remaining Revolving HELOCs portfolio, approximately 11% will commence amortization during the remainder of 2017. Citi's customers with Revolving HELOCs that reset could experience "payment shock" due to the higher required payments on the loans. Citi currently estimates that the monthly loan payment for its Revolving HELOCs that reset during the remainder of 2017 could increase on average by approximately $355, or 101%. Increases in interest rates could further increase these payments given the variable nature of the interest rates on these loans post-reset. Borrowers' high loan-to-value positions, as well as the cost and availability of refinancing options, could limit borrowers' ability to refinance their Revolving HELOCs as these loans begin to reset.

Approximately 5.9% of the Revolving HELOCs that have reset as of September 30, 2017 were 30+ days past due, compared to 3.9% of the total outstanding home equity loan portfolio (amortizing and non-amortizing). This compared to 5.9% and 3.7%, respectively, as of June 30, 2017. As newly amortizing loans continue to season, the delinquency rate of Citi’s total home equity loan portfolio could increase. In addition, resets to date have generally occurred during a period of historically low interest rates, which Citi believes has likely reduced the overall “payment shock” to the borrower.

Citi monitors this reset risk closely and will continue to consider any potential impact in determining its allowance for loan loss reserves. In addition, management continues to review and take additional actions to offset potential reset risk, such as a borrower outreach program to provide reset risk education and proactively working with high-risk borrowers through a specialized single point of contact unit.

(1) End-of-period (EOP) loans include interest and fees on credit cards.

(2) The ratios of 90+ days past due and 30–89 days past due are calculated based on EOP loans, net of unearned income.

(3) The 90+ days past due balances for North America—Citi-branded and North America—Citi retail services are generally still accruing interest. Citigroup's policy is generally to accrue interest on credit card loans until 180 days past due, unless notification of bankruptcy filing has been received earlier.

(4) The 90+ days past due and 30–89 days past due and related ratios for GCB North America exclude U.S. mortgage loans that are guaranteed by U.S. government-sponsored entities since the potential loss predominantly resides within the U.S. government-sponsored entities. The amounts excluded for loans 90+ days past due and (EOP loans) were $289 million ($0.7 billion), $295 million ($0.8 billion) and $305 million ($0.7 billion) at September 30, 2017,

June 30, 2017, and September 30, 2016, respectively. The amounts excluded for loans 30–89 days past due (EOP loans have the same adjustment as above) were $79 million, $84 million and $58 million at September 30, 2017, June 30, 2017 and September 30, 2016, respectively.

(5) Asia includes delinquencies and loans in certain EMEA countries for all periods presented.

(6) The 90+ days past due and 30–89 days past due and related ratios for Corporate/Other—North America consumer exclude U.S. mortgage loans that are guaranteed by U.S. government-sponsored entities since the potential loss predominantly resides within the U.S. government-sponsored entities. The amounts excluded for loans 90+ days past due (and EOP loans) were $0.7 billion ($1.2 billion), $0.7 billion ($1.3 billion) and $1.0 billion ($1.5 billion) at September 30, 2017, June 30, 2017 and September 30, 2016, respectively. (1) Average loans include interest and fees on credit cards.

(2) The ratios of net credit losses are calculated based on average loans, net of unearned income.

(3) In October 2016, Citi entered into agreements to sell Citi's Brazil and Argentina consumer banking businesses and classified these businesses as held-for-sale (HFS). The sale of the Argentina consumer banking business was completed at the end of the first quarter 2017. As a result of HFS accounting treatment, approximately $38 million and $37 million of net credit losses (NCLs) were recorded as a reduction in revenue (Other revenue) during the second quarter of 2017 and the third quarter of 2017, respectively. Accordingly, these NCLs are not included in this table. Loans classified as HFS are excluded from this table as they are recorded in Other assets.

(4) Asia includes NCLs and average loans in certain EMEA countries for all periods presented.
(5) The third quarter of 2017 NCLs represent a recovery related to legacy assets.

CORPORATE CREDIT

Consistent with its overall strategy, Citi's corporate clients are typically large, multi-national corporations that value Citi's global network. Citi aims to establish relationships with these clients that encompass multiple products, consistent with client needs, including cash management and trade services, foreign exchange, lending, capital markets and M&A advisory.

Corporate Credit Portfolio

The following table sets forth Citi's corporate credit portfolio within ICG (excluding private bank), before consideration of collateral or hedges, by remaining tenor for the periods indicated:

Portfolio Mix—Geography, Counterparty and Industry

Citi's corporate credit portfolio is diverse across geography and counterparty. The following table shows the percentage by region based on Citi's internal management geography:

	September 30, 2017	June 30, 2017	December 31, 2016
North America	55 %	55 %	55 %
EMEA	26	26	26
Asia	12	12	12
Latin America	7	7	7
Total	100 %	100 %	100 %

The maintenance of accurate and consistent risk ratings across the corporate credit portfolio facilitates the comparison of credit exposure across all lines of business, geographic regions and products. Counterparty risk ratings reflect an estimated probability of default for a counterparty and are derived primarily through the use of validated statistical models, scorecard models and external agency ratings (under defined circumstances), in combination with consideration of factors specific to the obligor or market, such as management experience, competitive position, regulatory environment and commodity prices. Facility risk ratings are assigned that reflect the probability of default of the obligor and factors that affect the loss-given-default of the facility, such as support or collateral. Internal obligor ratings that generally correspond to BBB and above are considered investment grade, while those below are considered non-investment grade.

Citigroup also has incorporated climate risk assessment and reporting criteria for certain obligors, as necessary. Factors evaluated include consideration of climate risk to an obligor's business and physical assets and, when relevant, consideration of cost-effective options to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

The following table presents the corporate credit portfolio by facility risk rating as a percentage of the total corporate credit portfolio:

	Total exposure
	September 30, 2017	June 30, 2017	December 31, 2016
AAA/AA/A	49 %	49 %	48 %
BBB	34	34	34
BB/B	16	16	16
CCC or below	1	1	2
Total	100 %	100 %	100 %

Note: Total exposure includes direct outstandings and unfunded lending commitments.

Citi's corporate credit portfolio is also diversified by industry. The following table shows the allocation of Citi's total corporate credit portfolio by industry:

	Total exposure
	September 30, 2017	June 30, 2017	December 31, 2016
Transportation and industrial	22 %	21 %	22 %
Consumer retail and health	16	17	16
Technology, media and telecom	11	11	12
Power, chemicals, metals and mining	10	10	11

Insurance and special purpose entities	5	5	5
Public sector	5	5	5
Hedge funds	4	5	5
Other industries	4	2	2
Total	100 %	100 %	100 %

Note: Total exposure includes direct outstandings and unfunded lending commitments.

(1) In addition to this exposure, Citi has energy-related exposure within the "Public sector" (e.g., energy-related state-owned entities) and "Transportation and industrial" sector (e.g., off-shore drilling entities) included in the table above. As of September 30, 2017, Citi's total exposure to these energy-related entities remained largely consistent with the prior quarter, at approximately $6 billion, of which approximately $3 billion consisted of direct outstanding funded loans.

Credit Risk Mitigation

As part of its overall risk management activities, Citigroup uses credit derivatives and other risk mitigants to hedge portions of the credit risk in its corporate credit portfolio, in addition to outright asset sales. The results of the mark-to-market and any realized gains or losses on credit derivatives are reflected primarily in Other revenue on the Consolidated Statement of Income.

At September 30, 2017, June 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, $22.2 billion, $23.7 billion and $29.5 billion, respectively, of the corporate credit portfolio was economically hedged. Citigroup's expected loss model used in the calculation of its loan loss reserve does not include the favorable impact of credit derivatives and other mitigants that are marked-to-market. In addition, the reported amounts of direct outstandings and unfunded lending commitments in the tables above do not reflect the impact of these hedging transactions. The credit protection was economically hedging underlying corporate credit portfolio exposures with the following risk rating distribution:

Rating of Hedged Exposure

	September 30, 2017	June 30, 2017	December 31, 2016
AAA/AA/A	16 %	16 %	16 %
BBB	48	47	49
BB/B	33	34	31

CCC or below	3	3	4
Total	100 %	100 %	100 %

The credit protection was economically hedging underlying corporate credit portfolio exposures with the following industry distribution:

(8) September 30, 2017, June 30, 2017, March 31, 2017, December 31, 2016 and September 30, 2016 exclude $4.3 billion, $4.2 billion, $4.0 billion, $3.5 billion and $4.0 billion, respectively, of loans which are carried at fair value.

(9) Represents additional credit reserves recorded as Other liabilities on the Consolidated Balance Sheet.

(10) Allowance for loan losses represents management's best estimate of probable losses inherent in the portfolio, as well as probable losses related to large individually evaluated impaired loans and troubled debt restructurings. See "Significant Accounting Policies and Significant Estimates" and Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K. Attribution of the allowance is made for analytical purposes only and the entire allowance is available to absorb probable credit losses inherent in the overall portfolio.

Allowance for Loan Losses

The following tables detail information on Citi's allowance for loan losses, loans and coverage ratios:

In billions of dollars	September 30, 2017
	Allowance for loan losses	Loans, net of unearned income	Allowance as a percentage of loans[1]
North America cards[2]	$6.0	$ 132.2	4.5	%
North America mortgages[3]	0.8	65.8	1.2

Total corporate	2.5	327.6	0.8
Total Citigroup	$12.4	$ 653.2	1.9	%

(1) Allowance as a percentage of loans excludes loans that are carried at fair value.

(2) Includes both Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services. The $6.0 billion of loan loss reserves represented approximately 16 months of coincident net credit loss coverage.

(3) Of the $0.8 billion, approximately $0.7 billion was allocated to North America mortgages in Corporate/Other. Of the $0.8 billion, approximately $0.3 billion and $0.5 billion are determined in accordance with ASC 450-20 and ASC 310-10-35 (troubled debt restructurings), respectively. Of the $65.8 billion in loans, approximately $61.9 billion and $3.8 billion of the loans are evaluated in accordance with ASC 450-20 and ASC 310-10-35 (troubled debt restructurings), respectively. For additional information, see Note 14 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(4) Includes mortgages and other retail loans.

(1) Allowance as a percentage of loans excludes loans that are carried at fair value.

(2) Includes both Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services. The $5.2 billion of loan loss reserves represented approximately 15 months of coincident net credit loss coverage.

(3) Of the $1.1 billion, approximately $1.0 billion was allocated to North America mortgages in Corporate/Other. Of the $1.1 billion, approximately $0.4 billion and $0.7 billion are determined in accordance with ASC 450-20 and ASC 310-10-35 (troubled debt restructurings), respectively. Of the $72.6 billion in loans, approximately $67.7 billion and $4.8 billion of the loans are evaluated in accordance with ASC 450-20 and ASC 310-10-35 (troubled debt restructurings), respectively. For additional information, see Note 14 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(4) Includes mortgages and other retail loans.

Non-Accrual Loans and Assets and Renegotiated Loans

There is a certain amount of overlap among non-accrual loans and assets and renegotiated loans. The following summary provides a general description of each category:

Non-Accrual Loans and Assets:

- Corporate and consumer (commercial banking) non-accrual status is based on the determination that payment of interest or principal is doubtful.
- A corporate loan may be classified as non-accrual and still be performing under the terms of the loan structure. Payments received on corporate non-accrual loans are generally applied to loan principal and not reflected as interest income. Approximately 69% and 67% of Citi's corporate non-accrual loans were performing at September 30, 2017 and June 30, 2017, respectively.
- Consumer non-accrual status is generally based on aging, i.e., the borrower has fallen behind on payments.
- Consumer mortgage loans, other than Federal Housing Administration (FHA) insured loans, are classified as non-accrual within 60 days of notification that the borrower has filed for bankruptcy. In addition, home equity loans are classified as non-accrual if the related residential first mortgage loan is 90 days or more past due.
- North America Citi-branded cards and Citi retail services are not included because, under industry standards, credit card loans accrue interest until such loans are charged off, which typically occurs at 180 days contractual delinquency.

Renegotiated Loans:

- Includes both corporate and consumer loans whose terms have been modified in a troubled debt restructuring (TDR).
- Includes both accrual and non-accrual TDRs.

Non-Accrual Loans and Assets

The table below summarizes Citigroup's non-accrual loans as of the periods indicated. Non-accrual loans may still be current on interest payments. In situations where Citi reasonably expects that only a portion of the principal owed will ultimately be collected, all payments received are reflected as a reduction of principal and not as interest income. For all other non-accrual loans, cash interest receipts are generally recorded as revenue.

(1) Includes $769 million and $445 million of non-accrual loans included in the non-accrual loans table above at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively. The remaining loans are accruing interest.

(2) In addition to modifications reflected as TDRs at September 30, 2017, Citi also modified $86 million of commercial loans risk rated "Substandard Non-Performing" or worse (asset category defined by banking regulators), all within offices in the U.S. These modifications were not considered TDRs because the modifications did not involve a concession.

(3) Includes $1,368 million and $1,502 million of non-accrual loans included in the non-accrual loans table above at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively. The remaining loans are accruing interest.

(4) Includes $42 million and $58 million of commercial real estate loans at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively.

(5) Includes $162 million and $105 million of other commercial loans at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively.

(6) Reduction in the nine months ended September 30, 2017 includes $778 million related to TDRs sold or transferred to held-for-sale.

Note: Except as indicated, amounts set forth in the table above are as of period end and may increase or decrease intra-period in the ordinary course of business. For securities, the amounts represent the liquidity value that potentially could be realized, and therefore exclude any securities that are encumbered, and incorporate any haircuts that would be required for secured funding transactions.

(1) Citibanamex and Citibank (Switzerland) AG account for approximately $6 billion of the “Non-Bank and Other” HQLA balance as of September 30, 2017.

(2) Foreign government debt includes securities issued or guaranteed by foreign sovereigns, agencies and multilateral development banks. Foreign government debt securities are held largely to support local liquidity requirements and Citi’s local franchises, and principally include government bonds from Hong Kong, Korea, Taiwan, Singapore, India, Brazil and Mexico.

As set forth in the table above, sequentially, Citi’s total HQLA increased on both an average and end-of-period basis, predominantly driven by changes in eligibility assumptions relating to certain assets. On an average basis, the sequential increase in Citi’s total HQLA was also impacted by an increase in average cash.

Citi’s HQLA as set forth above does not include Citi’s available borrowing capacity from the Federal Home Loan Banks (FHLBs) of which Citi is a member, which was approximately $16 billion as of September 30, 2017 (compared to $18 billion as of June 30, 2017 and $24 billion as of September 30, 2016) and maintained by eligible collateral pledged to such banks. The HQLA also does not include Citi’s borrowing capacity at the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank discount window or other central banks, which would be in addition to the resources noted above.

In general, Citi’s liquidity is fungible across legal entities within its bank group. Citi’s bank subsidiaries, including Citibank, can lend to the Citi parent and broker-dealer entities in accordance with Section 23A of the Federal Reserve Act. As of September 30, 2017, the capacity available for lending to these entities under Section 23A was approximately $15 billion, unchanged from both June 30, 2017 and September 30, 2016, subject to certain eligible non-cash collateral requirements.

Loans

The table below sets forth the average loans, by business and/or segment, and the total end-of-period loans for each of the periods indicated:

(1) Includes loans in certain EMEA countries for all periods presented.

As set forth in the table above, end-of-period loans increased 2% year-over-year and 1% quarter-over-quarter. On an average basis, loans increased 2% both year-over-year and quarter-over-quarter.

Excluding the impact of FX translation, average loans increased 1% both year-over-year and quarter-over-quarter. On this basis, average GCB loans grew 4% year-over-year, driven by 5% growth in North America. International GCB loans increased 1%, driven by 6% growth in Mexico, while Asia loans were unchanged, reflecting Citi’s optimization of its portfolio in this region.

Average ICG loans increased 4% year-over-year, driven mostly by client-led growth in the private bank. Corporate lending decreased 1%, primarily driven by a lower level of episodic funding compared to the prior-year period. Treasury and trade solutions loans increased 5%, driven by growth in EMEA and Asia.

Average Corporate/Other loans decreased 37% year-over-year, driven by the continued wind down of legacy assets.

Deposits

The table below sets forth the average deposits, by business and/or segment, and the total end-of-period deposits for each of the periods indicated:

(1) Includes deposits in certain EMEA countries for all periods presented.

End-of-period deposits increased 3% year-over-year and 1% quarter-over-quarter. On an average basis, deposits increased 2% year-over-year and 1% sequentially.
Excluding the impact of FX translation, average deposits grew 2% from the prior-year period, driven primarily by 3% growth in treasury and trade solutions, as well as 4% aggregate growth in Asia and Latin America GCB. North America GCB deposits were largely unchanged as a net inflow of deposits was offset by transfers from deposit to investment accounts.

Long-Term Debt

The weighted-average maturities of unsecured long-term debt issued by Citigroup and its affiliates (including Citibank) with a remaining life greater than one year (excluding remaining trust preferred securities outstanding) was approximately 6.8 years as of September 30, 2017, a modest decline from both the prior-year period and the prior quarter.

Citi's long-term debt outstanding at the parent includes senior and subordinated debt and a portion of what Citi refers to as customer-related debt, consisting of structured notes, such as equity- and credit-linked notes, as well as non-structured notes. Citi's issuance of customer-related debt is generally driven by customer demand and supplements benchmark debt issuance as a source of funding for Citi's parent and non-bank entities. Citi's long-term debt at the bank also includes FHLB advances and securitizations.

Long-Term Debt Outstanding

The following table sets forth Citi's end-of-period total long-term debt outstanding for each of the periods indicated:

In billions of dollars	Sept. 30, 2017	Jun. 30, 2017	Sept. 30, 2016

Note: Amounts represent the current value of long-term debt on Citi's Consolidated Balance Sheet which, for certain debt instruments, includes consideration of fair value, hedging impacts and unamortized discounts and premiums.

(1) "Parent and other" includes long-term debt issued to third parties by the parent holding company (Citigroup) and Citi's non-bank subsidiaries (including broker-dealer subsidiaries) that are consolidated into Citigroup. As of September 30, 2017, "parent and other" included $18.7 billion of long-term debt issued by Citi's broker-dealer and other non-bank subsidiaries.

(2) Local country debt includes debt issued by Citi's affiliates in support of their local operations.

(3) Predominantly credit card securitizations, primarily backed by Citi-branded credit card receivables.

Citi's total long-term debt outstanding increased both year-over-year and sequentially, primarily driven by the issuance of senior debt at the parent, as well as the issuance of benchmark senior debt at the bank.

As part of its liability management, Citi has considered, and may continue to consider, opportunities to repurchase its long-term debt pursuant to open market purchases, tender offers/redemptions or other means. Such repurchases help reduce Citi's overall funding costs (and assist it in meeting regulatory requirements). During the third quarter of 2017, Citi repurchased an aggregate of approximately $0.3 billion of its outstanding long-term debt.

Secured Funding Transactions and Short-Term Borrowings
Citi supplements its primary sources of funding with short-term borrowings. Short-term borrowings generally include (i) secured funding transactions (securities loaned or sold under agreements to repurchase, or repos) and (ii) to a lesser extent, short-term borrowings consisting of commercial paper and borrowings from the FHLB and other market participants (see Note 16 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further information on Citigroup's and its affiliates' outstanding short-term borrowings).
Outside of secured funding transactions, Citi's short-term borrowings increased 29% year-over-year and 4% sequentially. The increase both year-over-year and sequentially was driven primarily by an increase in FHLB borrowings, as Citi continued to optimize liquidity across its legal entities.

Secured Funding
Secured funding is primarily accessed through Citi's broker-dealer subsidiaries to fund efficiently both secured lending activity and a portion of the securities inventory held in the context of market making and customer activities. Citi also executes a smaller portion of its secured funding transactions through its bank entities, which is typically collateralized by foreign government debt securities. Generally, daily changes in the level of Citi's secured funding are primarily due to fluctuations in secured lending activity in the matched book (as described below) and securities inventory.
Secured funding of $161 billion as of September 30, 2017 increased 5% from the prior-year period and 4% sequentially. Excluding the impact of FX translation, secured funding increased 3% from both the prior-year period and sequentially, both driven by normal business activity. Average balances for secured funding were approximately $158 billion for the quarter ended September 30, 2017.
The portion of secured funding in the broker-dealer subsidiaries that funds secured lending is commonly referred to as "matched book" activity. The majority of this activity is secured by high-quality liquid securities such as U.S. Treasury securities, U.S. agency securities and foreign government debt securities. Other secured funding is secured by less liquid securities, including equity securities, corporate bonds and asset-backed securities. The tenor of Citi's matched book liabilities is generally equal to or longer than the tenor of the corresponding matched book assets.
The remainder of the secured funding activity in the broker-dealer subsidiaries serves to fund securities inventory held in the context of market making and customer activities. To maintain reliable funding under a wide range of market conditions, including under periods of stress, Citi manages these activities by taking into consideration the quality of the underlying collateral and stipulating financing tenor. The weighted average maturity of Citi's secured funding of less liquid securities inventory was greater than 110 days as of September 30, 2017.
Citi manages the risks in its secured funding by conducting daily stress tests to account for changes in capacity, tenors, haircut, collateral profile and client actions.

Additionally, Citi maintains counterparty diversification by establishing concentration triggers and assessing counterparty reliability and stability under stress. Citi generally sources secured funding from more than 150 counterparties.

Liquidity Coverage Ratio (LCR)
In addition to internal measures that Citi has developed for a 30-day stress scenario, Citi also monitors its liquidity by reference to the LCR, as calculated pursuant to the U.S. LCR rules (for additional information, see "Liquidity Risk" in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K). The table below sets forth the components of Citi's LCR calculation and HQLA in excess of net outflows as of the periods indicated:

In billions of dollars	Sept. 30, 2017	Jun. 30, 2017	Sept. 30, 2016
HQLA	$448.6	$424.4	$403.8
Net outflows	365.1	338.2	335.3
LCR	123 %	125 %	120 %
HQLA in excess of net outflows	$83.5	$86.2	$68.5

Note: The amounts set forth in the table above are presented on an average basis.

As set forth in the table above, Citi's average LCR increased year-over-year, as an increase in average HQLA more than offset an increase in modeled net outflows. Sequentially, Citi's average LCR decreased modestly, as an increase in modeled net outflows was largely offset by an increase in average HQLA. Both the increase in modeled net outflows and the increase in average HQLA were predominantly driven by changes in assumptions, including changes in methodology to better align Citi's outflow assumptions with those embedded in its resolution planning.

Credit Ratings

The table below sets forth the ratings for Citigroup and Citibank as of September 30, 2017. While not included in the table below, the long-term and short-term ratings of Citigroup Global Markets Holdings Inc. (CGMHI) were BBB+/A-2 at Standard & Poor's and A/F1 at Fitch as of September 30, 2017.

	Citigroup Inc.			Citibank, N.A.
	Senior debt	Commercial paper	Outlook	Long-term	Short-term	Outlook
Fitch Ratings (Fitch)	A	F1	Stable	A+	F1	Stable
Moody's Investors Service (Moody's)	Baa1	P-2	Stable	A1	P-1	Stable
Standard & Poor's (S&P)	BBB+	A-2	Stable	A+	A-1	Stable

Potential Impacts of Ratings Downgrades

Ratings downgrades by Moody's, Fitch or S&P could negatively impact Citigroup's and/or Citibank's funding and liquidity due to reduced funding capacity, including derivative triggers, which could take the form of cash obligations and collateral requirements.

The following information is provided for the purpose of analyzing the potential funding and liquidity impact to Citigroup and Citibank of a hypothetical, simultaneous ratings downgrade across all three major rating agencies. This analysis is subject to certain estimates, estimation methodologies, judgments and uncertainties. Uncertainties include potential ratings limitations that certain entities may have with respect to permissible counterparties, as well as general subjective counterparty behavior. For example, certain corporate customers and markets counterparties could re-evaluate their business relationships with Citi and limit transactions in certain contracts or market instruments with Citi. Changes in counterparty behavior could impact Citi's funding and liquidity, as well as the results of operations of certain of its businesses. The actual impact to Citigroup or Citibank is unpredictable and may differ materially from the potential funding and liquidity impacts described below. For additional information on the impact of credit rating changes on Citi and its applicable subsidiaries, see "Risk Factors— Liquidity Risks" in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Citigroup Inc. and Citibank—Potential Derivative Triggers

As of September 30, 2017, Citi estimates that a hypothetical one-notch downgrade of the senior debt/long-term rating of Citigroup Inc. across all three major rating agencies could impact Citigroup's funding and liquidity due to derivative triggers by approximately $1.0 billion, compared to $0.7 billion as of June 30, 2017. Other funding sources, such as secured funding and other margin requirements, for which there are no explicit triggers, could also be adversely affected.

As of September 30, 2017, Citi estimates that a hypothetical one-notch downgrade of the senior debt/long-term rating of Citibank across all three major rating agencies could impact Citibank's funding and liquidity by approximately $0.5 billion, compared to $0.3 billion as of June 30, 2017, due to derivative triggers.

In total, Citi estimates that a one-notch downgrade of Citigroup and Citibank, across all three major rating agencies, could result in increased aggregate cash obligations and collateral requirements of approximately $1.5 billion, compared to $1.0 billion as of June 30, 2017 (see also Note 19 to the Consolidated Financial Statements). As set forth under "High-Quality Liquid Assets" above, the liquidity resources of Citibank were approximately $371 billion and the liquidity resources of Citi's non-bank and other entities were approximately $78 billion, for a total of approximately $449 billion as of September 30, 2017. These liquidity resources are available in part as a contingency for the potential events described above.

In addition, a broad range of mitigating actions are currently included in Citigroup's and Citibank's contingency funding plans. For Citigroup, these mitigating factors include, but are not limited to, accessing surplus funding capacity from existing clients, tailoring levels of secured lending, and adjusting the size of select trading books and collateralized borrowings from certain Citibank subsidiaries. Mitigating actions available to Citibank include, but are not limited to, selling or financing highly liquid government securities, tailoring levels of secured lending, adjusting the size of select trading assets, reducing loan originations and renewals, raising additional deposits, or borrowing from the FHLB or central banks. Citi believes these mitigating actions could substantially reduce the funding and liquidity risk, if any, of the potential downgrades described above.

Citibank—Additional Potential Impacts

In addition to the above derivative triggers, Citi believes that a potential one-notch downgrade of Citibank's senior debt/long-term rating by S&P could also have an adverse impact on the commercial paper/short-term rating of Citibank. Citibank had liquidity commitments of approximately $10.0 billion to consolidated asset-backed commercial paper conduits, as of September 30, 2017 and June 30, 2017 (as referenced in Note 18 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

In addition to the above-referenced liquidity resources of certain Citibank and Citibanamex entities, Citibank could reduce the funding and liquidity risk, if any, of the potential downgrades described above through mitigating actions, including repricing or reducing certain commitments to commercial paper conduits. In the event of the potential downgrades described above, Citi believes that certain corporate customers could re-evaluate their deposit relationships with Citibank. This re-evaluation could result in clients adjusting their discretionary deposit levels or changing their depository institution, which could potentially reduce certain deposit levels at Citibank. However, Citi could choose to adjust pricing, offer alternative deposit products to its existing customers or seek to attract deposits from new customers, in addition to the mitigating actions referenced above.

MARKET RISK

Market risk emanates from both Citi's trading and non-trading portfolios. Trading portfolios comprise all assets and liabilities marked-to-market, with results reflected in earnings. Non-trading portfolios include all other assets and liabilities.
For additional information on market risk and market risk management at Citi, see "Market Risk" and "Risk Factors" in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Market Risk of Non-Trading Portfolios
For additional information on Citi's net interest revenue (for interest rate exposure purposes), interest rate risk and interest rate risk measurement, see "Market Risk of Non-Trading Portfolios" in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

The following table sets forth the estimated impact to Citi's net interest revenue, AOCI and the Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio (on a fully implemented basis), each assuming an unanticipated parallel instantaneous 100 basis point increase in interest rates:

In millions of dollars (unless otherwise noted)	Sept. 30, 2017	Jun. 30, 2017	Sept. 30, 2016
Estimated annualized impact to net interest revenue
U.S. dollar[1]	$1,449	$1,435	$1,405
All other currencies	610	589	574
Total	$2,059	$2,024	$1,979
As a percentage of average interest-earning assets	0.12 %	0.12 %	0.12 %
Estimated initial impact to AOCI (after-tax)[2]	$(4,206)	$(4,258)	$(4,868)
Estimated initial impact on Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio (bps)[3]	(48)	(49)	(53)

(1) Certain trading-oriented businesses within Citi have accrual-accounted positions that are excluded from the estimated impact to net interest revenue in the table, since these exposures are managed economically in combination with mark-to-market positions. The U.S. dollar interest rate exposure associated with these businesses was $(204) million for a 100 basis point instantaneous increase in interest rates as of September 30, 2017.

(2) Includes the effect of changes in interest rates on AOCI related to investment securities, cash flow hedges and pension liability adjustments.

(3) The estimated initial impact to the Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio considers the effect of Citi's DTA position and is based on only the estimated initial AOCI impact above.

The estimated impact to net interest revenue increased slightly on a sequential basis, reflecting changes in balance sheet composition. The sequential decrease in the estimated impact to AOCI primarily reflected changes to the positioning of Citi Treasury's investment securities and related interest rate derivatives portfolio.
In the event of an unanticipated parallel instantaneous 100 basis point increase in interest rates, Citi expects the negative impact to AOCI would be offset in stockholders' equity through the combination of expected incremental net interest revenue and the expected recovery of the impact on AOCI through accretion of Citi's investment portfolio over a period of time. As of September 30, 2017, Citi expects that the negative $4.2 billion impact to AOCI in such a scenario could potentially be offset over approximately 23 months.

The following table sets forth the estimated impact to Citi's net interest revenue, AOCI and the Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio (on a fully implemented basis) under four different changes in interest rate scenarios for the U.S. dollar and Citi's other currencies. While Citi also monitors the impact of a parallel decrease in interest rates, a 100 basis point decrease in short-term rates is not meaningful, as it would imply negative interest rates in many of Citi's markets.

In millions of dollars (unless otherwise noted)	Scenario 1	Scenario 2	Scenario 3	Scenario 4
Overnight rate change (bps)	100	100	—	—
10-year rate change (bps)	100	—	100	(100)
Estimated annualized impact to net interest revenue
U.S. dollar	$1,449	$1,369	$89	$(130)
All other currencies	610	554	34	(34)
Total	$2,059	$1,923	$123	$(164)
Estimated initial impact to AOCI (after-tax)(1)	$(4,206)	$(2,542)	$(1,632)	$1,077
Estimated initial impact to Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio (bps)(2)	(48)	(29)	(19)	12

Note: Each scenario in the table above assumes that the rate change will occur instantaneously. Changes in interest rates for maturities between the overnight rate and the 10-year rate are interpolated.

(1) Includes the effect of changes in interest rates on AOCI related to investment securities, cash flow hedges and pension liability adjustments.

(2) The estimated initial impact to the Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio considers the effect of Citi's deferred tax asset position and is based on only the estimated AOCI impact above.

As shown in the table above, the magnitude of the impact to Citi's net interest revenue and AOCI is greater under scenario 2 as compared to scenario 3. This is because the combination of changes to Citi's investment portfolio, partially offset by changes related to Citi's pension liabilities, results in a net position that is more sensitive to rates at shorter- and intermediate-term maturities.

In recent years, a number of central banks, including the European Central Bank, the Bank of Japan and the Swiss National Bank, have implemented negative interest rates, and additional governmental entities could do so in the future. While negative interest rates can adversely impact net interest revenue (as well as net interest margin), Citi has, to date, been able to partially offset the impact of negative rates in these jurisdictions through a combination of business and Citi Treasury interest rate risk mitigation activities, including applying negative rates to client accounts (for additional information on Citi Treasury's ongoing interest rate mitigation activities, see "Market Risk—Market Risk of Non-Trading Portfolios" in Citi's 2016 Annual Reporting on Form 10-K).

Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates—Impacts on AOCI and Capital

As of September 30, 2017, Citi estimates that an unanticipated parallel instantaneous 5% appreciation of the U.S. dollar against all of the other currencies in which Citi has invested capital could reduce Citi's tangible common equity (TCE) by approximately $1.6 billion, or 0.9%, as a result of changes to Citi's foreign currency translation adjustment in AOCI, net of hedges. This impact would be primarily due to changes in the value of the Mexican peso, the Euro and the Australian dollar.

This impact is also before any mitigating actions Citi may take, including ongoing management of its foreign currency translation exposure. Specifically, as currency movements change the value of Citi's net investments in foreign-currency-denominated capital, these movements also change the value of Citi's risk-weighted assets denominated in those currencies. This, coupled with Citi's foreign currency hedging strategies, such as foreign currency borrowings, foreign currency forwards and other currency hedging instruments, lessens the impact of foreign currency movements on Citi's Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio. Changes in these hedging strategies, as well as hedging costs, divestitures and tax impacts, can further impact the actual impact of changes in foreign exchange rates on Citi's capital as compared to an unanticipated parallel shock, as described above.

The effect of Citi's ongoing management strategies with respect to changes in foreign exchange rates and the impact of these changes on Citi's TCE and Common Equity Tier 1 Capital ratio are shown in the table below. For additional information on the changes in AOCI, see Note 17 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

10-year vs. two-year spread	88 bps	96 bps	83 bps

Note: All interest expense amounts include FDIC deposit insurance assessments.

(1) Net interest revenue includes the taxable equivalent adjustments related to the tax-exempt bond portfolio (based on the U.S. federal statutory tax rate of 35%) of $123 million, $122 million, and $114 million for the three months ended September 30, 2017, June 30, 2017 and September 30, 2016, respectively.

(2) Interest expense associated with certain hybrid financial instruments, which are classified as Long-term debt and accounted for at fair value, is reported together with any changes in fair value as part of Principal transactions in the Consolidated Statements of Income and is therefore not reflected in Interest expense in the table above.

(3) Citi's net interest margin (NIM) is calculated by dividing gross interest revenue less gross interest expense by average interest-earning assets.

Citi's net interest revenue remained largely unchanged at $11.4 billion ($11.6 billion on a taxable equivalent basis) versus the prior-year period. Excluding the impact of FX translation, Citi's net interest revenue was down slightly versus the prior-year period (down $110 million), as higher core accrual net interest revenue ($10.4 billion, up 5% or $0.5 billion) was offset by lower trading-related net interest revenue ($0.7 billion, down 34% or $0.4 billion), and lower net interest revenue associated with legacy assets in Corporate/Other ($0.3 billion, down approximately 38% or $0.2 billion). The increase in core accrual net interest revenue was driven by the impact of the December 2016, March 2017 and June 2017 interest rate increases and volume growth, partially offset by higher long-term debt.

Citi's NIM was 2.72% on a taxable equivalent basis in the third quarter of 2017, a decrease of 14 bps from the prior-year period. Citi's core accrual NIM was 3.45%, a decline of 7 bps, as the higher core accrual net interest revenue was more than offset by balance sheet growth, particularly in cash balances. (Citi's core accrual net interest revenue and core accrual NIM are non-GAAP financial measures. Citi believes these measures provide a more meaningful depiction for investors of the underlying fundamentals of its business results.)

(1) Net interest revenue includes the taxable equivalent adjustments (based on the U.S. federal statutory tax rate of 35%) of $368 million and $350 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2017 and 2016, respectively.
(2) Interest rates and amounts include the effects of risk management activities associated with the respective asset and liability categories.
(3) Monthly or quarterly averages have been used by certain subsidiaries where daily averages are unavailable.
(4) Detailed average volume, Interest revenue and Interest expense exclude Discontinued operations. See Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.
(5)

Average rates reflect prevailing local interest rates, including inflationary effects and monetary corrections in certain countries.

(6) Average volumes of securities borrowed or purchased under agreements to resell are reported net pursuant to FIN 41 (ASC 210-20-45). However, Interest revenue excludes the impact of FIN 41 (ASC 210-20-45).

(7) The fair value carrying amounts of derivative contracts are reported in Non-interest-earning assets and Other non-interest-bearing liabilities.

(8) Interest expense on Trading account liabilities of ICG is reported as a reduction of Interest revenue. Interest revenue and Interest expense on cash collateral positions are reported in interest on Trading account assets and Trading account liabilities, respectively.

(9) Includes cash-basis loans.

(10) Includes brokerage receivables.

Market Risk of Trading Portfolios
For additional information on Citi’s market risk of trading portfolios, see “Market Risk—Market Risk of Trading Portfolios” in Citi’s 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Value at Risk
As of September 30, 2017, Citi estimates that the conservative features of its VAR calibration contribute an approximate 22% add-on (unchanged from June 30, 2017) to what would be a VAR estimated under the assumption of stable and perfectly normal distributed markets.

As set forth in the table below, Citi's average trading VAR as of September 30, 2017 decreased compared to June 30, 2017. The change was mainly due to lower credit spread exposures and volatilities in the markets businesses within ICG, partially offset by higher interest rate risk from increased mark-to-market hedging activity against non-trading positions.

Quarter-end and Average Trading VAR and Trading and Credit Portfolio VAR

In millions of dollars	September 30, 2017	Third Quarter 2017 Average	June 30, 2017	Second Quarter 2017 Average	September 30, 2016	Third Quarter 2016 Average

Commodity	20	23	20	21	22	23
Covariance adjustment[1]	(64)	(65)	(53)	(59)	(53)	(62)
Total trading VAR—all market risk factors, including general and specific risk (excluding credit portfolios)[2]	$ 75	$ 81	$ 90	$ 86	$ 69	$ 64
Specific risk-only component[3]	$ 3	$ 2	$ 1	$ 1	$ 7	$ 6
Total trading VAR—general market risk factors only (excluding credit portfolios)	$ 72	$ 79	$ 89	$ 85	$ 62	$ 58
Incremental impact of the credit portfolio[4][5]	$ 8	$ 8	$ 5	$ 10	$ 21	$ 21
Total trading and credit portfolio VAR	$ 83	$ 89	$ 95	$ 96	$ 90	$ 85

(1) Covariance adjustment (also known as diversification benefit) equals the difference between the total VAR and the sum of the VARs tied to each individual risk type. The benefit reflects the fact that the risks within each and across risk types are not perfectly correlated and, consequently, the total VAR on a given day will be lower than the sum of the VARs relating to each individual risk type. The determination of the primary drivers of changes to the covariance adjustment is made by an examination of the impact of both model parameter and position changes.

(2) The total trading VAR includes mark-to-market and certain fair value option trading positions in ICG, with the exception of hedges to the loan portfolio, fair value option loans and all CVA exposures. Available-for-sale and accrual exposures are not included.

(3) The specific risk-only component represents the level of equity and fixed income issuer-specific risk embedded in VAR.

(4) The credit portfolio is composed of mark-to-market positions associated with non-trading business units including Citi Treasury, the CVA relating to derivative counterparties and all associated CVA hedges. FVA and DVA are not included. The credit portfolio also includes hedges to the loan portfolio, fair value option loans and hedges to the leveraged finance pipeline within capital markets origination in ICG.

(5) The decrease in the third quarter of 2017 end-of-period and average VAR attributable to the incremental impact of the credit portfolio year-over-year was primarily related to a reduction in the use of credit default swaps used to hedge the corporate loan portfolio.

The table below provides the range of market factor VARs associated with Citi's total trading VAR, inclusive of specific risk:

In millions of dollars	Third Quarter 2017		Second Quarter 2017		Third Quarter 2016
	Low	High	Low	High	Low	High
Interest rate	$33	$97	$33	$72	$27	$ 47
Credit spread	38	52	47	53	55	73
Fully diversified interest rate and credit spread	$59	$108	$67	$107	$59	$ 75
Foreign exchange	19	38	17	28	15	46

Total trading	$58	$106	$67	$116	$53	$ 72
Total trading and credit portfolio	67	112	78	123	72	97

Note: No covariance adjustment can be inferred from the above table as the high and low for each market factor will be from different close-of-business dates.

The following table provides the VAR for ICG, excluding the CVA relating to derivative counterparties, hedges of CVA, fair value option loans and hedges to the loan portfolio:

In millions of dollars	Sept. 30, 2017

Low—during quarter	57

Regulatory VAR Back-testing

In accordance with Basel III, Citi is required to perform back-testing to evaluate the effectiveness of its Regulatory VAR model. Regulatory VAR back-testing is the process in which the daily one-day VAR, at a 99% confidence interval, is compared to the buy-and-hold profit and loss (i.e., the profit and loss impact if the portfolio is held constant at the end of the day and re-priced the following day). Buy-and-hold profit and loss represents the daily mark-to-market profit and loss attributable to price movements in covered positions from the close of the previous business day. Buy-and-hold profit and loss excludes realized trading revenue, net interest, fees and commissions, intra-day trading profit and loss and changes in reserves.

Based on a 99% confidence level, Citi would expect two to three days in any one year where buy-and-hold losses exceeded the Regulatory VAR. Given the conservative calibration of Citi's VAR model (as a result of taking the greater of short- and long-term volatilities and fat-tail scaling of volatilities), Citi would expect fewer exceptions under normal and stable market conditions. Periods of unstable market conditions could increase the number of back-testing exceptions.

As of September 30, 2017, there was one back-testing exception observed for Citi's Regulatory VAR for the prior 12 months. As previously disclosed, trading losses on November 14, 2016 exceeded the VAR estimate at the Citigroup level, driven by the widening of municipal bond yields following the election results in the United States.

COUNTRY RISK

For additional information on country risk at Citi, see “Country Risk” in Citi’s 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Top 25 Country Exposures

The following table presents Citi’s top 25 exposures by country (excluding the U.S.) as of September 30, 2017. For purposes of the table, loan amounts are reflected in the country where the loan is booked, which is generally based on the domicile of the borrower. For example, a loan to a Chinese subsidiary of a Switzerland-based corporation will generally be categorized as a loan in China. In addition, Citi has developed regional booking centers in certain countries, most significantly in the United Kingdom (U.K.) and Ireland, in order to more efficiently serve its corporate customers. As an example, with respect to the U.K., only 24% of corporate loans presented in the table below are to U.K. domiciled entities (24% for unfunded commitments), with the balance of the loans predominately to European domiciled counterparties. Approximately 80% of the total U.K. funded loans and 90% of the total U.K. unfunded commitments were investment grade as of September 30, 2017. Trading account assets and investment securities are generally categorized based on the domicile of the issuer of the security of the underlying reference entity. For additional information on the assets included in the table, see the footnotes to the table below.

For a discussion of uncertainties arising as a result of the vote in the U.K. to withdraw from the EU, see “Risk Factors—Strategic Risks” in Citigroup’s 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

(1) ICG loans reflect funded corporate loans and private bank loans, net of unearned income. As of September 30, 2017, private bank loans in the table above totaled $23.3 billion, concentrated in Singapore ($7.2 billion), Hong Kong ($6.5 billion) and the U.K. ($5.4 billion).

(2) GCB loans include funded loans in Brazil and Colombia related to businesses that were transferred to Corporate/Other as of January 1, 2016 (Brazil GCB loans are recorded as HFS in Other assets on the Consolidated Balance Sheet).

(3) Other funded includes other direct exposure such as accounts receivable, loans held-for-sale, other loans in Corporate/Other and investments accounted for under the equity method.

(4) Unfunded exposure includes unfunded corporate lending commitments, letters of credit and other contingencies.

(5) Net mark-to-market (MTM) counterparty risk on OTC derivatives and securities lending / borrowing transactions (repos). Exposures are shown net of collateral and inclusive of CVA. Includes margin loans.

(6) Investment securities include securities available-for-sale, recorded at fair market value, and securities held-to-maturity, recorded at historical cost.

(7) Trading account assets are shown on a net basis and include issuer risk on cash products and derivative exposure where the underlying reference entity/issuer is located in that country.

INCOME TAXES

Deferred Tax Assets

For additional information on Citi's deferred tax assets (DTAs), see "Risk Factors—Strategic Risks," "Significant Accounting Policies and Significant Estimates—Income Taxes" and Note 9 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

At September 30, 2017, Citigroup had recorded net DTAs of approximately $45.5 billion, a decrease of $0.3 billion from June 30, 2017 and $1.2 billion from December 31, 2016. The DTA reductions for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 were primarily driven by earnings.

The following table summarizes Citi's net DTAs balance. Of Citi's net DTAs as of September 30, 2017, those arising from net operating losses, foreign tax credit and general business credit carry-forwards are 100% deducted in calculating Citi's regulatory capital, while DTAs arising from temporary differences are deducted from regulatory capital if in excess of the 10%/15% limitations (see "Capital Resources" above). Approximately $17.6 billion of the net DTA was not deducted in calculating regulatory capital pursuant to full Basel III implementation standards as of September 30, 2017.

Jurisdiction/Component	DTAs balance
In billions of dollars	Sept. 30, 2017	Dec. 31, 2016
Total U.S.	$43.2	$44.6
Total foreign	2.3	2.1
Total	$45.5	$46.7

Effective Tax Rate

Citi's effective tax rate for the third quarter of 2017 was 31.1%, as compared with 30.8% in the third quarter of 2016.

DISCLOSURE CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Citi's disclosure controls and procedures are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms, including without limitation that information required to be disclosed by Citi in its SEC filings is accumulated and communicated to management, including the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and Chief Financial Officer (CFO), as appropriate, to allow for timely decisions regarding required disclosure. Citi's Disclosure Committee assists the CEO and CFO in their responsibilities to design, establish, maintain and evaluate the effectiveness of Citi's disclosure controls and procedures. The Disclosure Committee is responsible for, among other things, the oversight, maintenance and implementation of the disclosure controls and procedures, subject to the supervision and oversight of the CEO and CFO.

Citi's management, with the participation of its CEO and CFO, has evaluated the effectiveness of Citigroup's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 13a-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) as of September 30, 2017 and, based on that evaluation, the CEO and CFO have concluded that at that date, Citigroup's disclosure controls and procedures were effective.

DISCLOSURE PURSUANT TO SECTION 219 OF THE IRAN THREAT REDUCTION AND SYRIA HUMAN RIGHTS ACT

Pursuant to Section 219 of the Iran Threat Reduction and Syria Human Rights Act of 2012, which added Section 13(r) to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, Citi is required to disclose in its annual or quarterly reports, as applicable, whether it or any of its affiliates knowingly engaged in certain activities, transactions or dealings relating to Iran or with individuals or entities that are subject to sanctions under U.S. law. Disclosure is generally required even where the activities, transactions or dealings were conducted in compliance with applicable law. Citi disclosed reportable activities pursuant to Section 219 in the first and second quarters of 2017 in the First Quarter of 2017 Form 10-Q and Second Quarter Form 10-Q, respectively.

During the third quarter of 2017, Bank Handlowy w Warszawie S.A., a Citibank subsidiary located in Poland, processed three funds transfers involving the Iranian Embassy in Poland. The value of the funds transfers was EUR 50, EUR 50, and EU 100 (approximately $60.00, $60.00 and $117.00), respectively. In addition, a branch of Citibank N.A., located in India, processed a funds transfer involving the Iran Consulate General in India. The total value of this payment was INR 1,368 (approximately $21.00). These payments were for visa-related fees and Iran-related travel respectively, both of which are permissible under the travel exemption in the Iranian Transactions and Sanctions Regulations.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements in this Form 10-Q, including but not limited to statements included within the Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the rules and regulations of the SEC. In addition, Citigroup also may make forward-looking statements in its other documents filed or furnished with the SEC, and its management may make forward-looking statements orally to analysts, investors, representatives of the media and others.

Generally, forward-looking statements are not based on historical facts but instead represent Citigroup's and its management's beliefs regarding future events. Such statements may be identified by words such as believe, expect, anticipate, intend, estimate, may increase, may fluctuate, target, illustrative, and similar expressions or future or conditional verbs such as will, should, would and could.

Such statements are based on management's current expectations and are subject to risks, uncertainties and changes in circumstances. Actual results and capital and other financial conditions may differ materially from those included in these statements due to a variety of factors, including without limitation (i) the precautionary statements included within each individual business's discussion and analysis of its results of operations above and in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K, First Quarter of 2017 Form 10-Q and Second Quarter of 2017 Form 10-Q; (ii) the factors listed and described under "Risk Factors" in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K; and (iii) the risks and uncertainties summarized below:

- Citi's ability to address (i) the shortcomings identified by the Federal Reserve Board and FDIC as a result of their review of Citi's 2015 annual resolution plan submission as well as (ii) the 2017 resolution plan guidance in Citi's 2017 resolution plan submission;
- the potential impact on Citi's ability to return capital to shareholders due to any changes to the stress testing and CCAR requirements or process, such as the introduction of a firm-specific "stress capital buffer" or incorporation of Citi's then-effective GSIB surcharge into its post-stress test minimum capital requirements or the introduction of additional macroprudential considerations such as funding and liquidity shocks in the stress testing process;
- the ongoing regulatory uncertainties and changes faced by financial institutions, including Citi, in the U.S. and globally, including, among others, uncertainties and potential changes arising from the U.S. presidential administration and Congress, potential changes to various aspects of the regulatory capital framework and the terms of and other uncertainties resulting from the U.K.'s process to withdraw from the European Union, and the potential impact these uncertainties and changes could have on Citi's businesses, results of operations, financial condition, strategy or organizational structure and compliance risks and costs;
- the numerous uncertainties arising as a result of the process in the U.K. to withdraw from the European Union, including the terms of the withdrawal, and the potential impact to macroeconomic conditions as well as

Citi's legal entity structure and overall results of operations or financial condition;

- the potential impact to financial institutions, including Citi, as a result of the uncertainties associated with the level and pace of any changes in interest rates or any balance sheet normalization program implemented by the Federal Reserve Board or other central banks;
- the impact on the value of Citi's DTAs and on Citi's net income or regulatory capital if corporate tax rates in the U.S. or certain state, local or foreign jurisdictions are reduced, or if other changes are made to the U.S. corporate tax system (whether as a result of current efforts by the U.S. presidential administration and Congress or otherwise), including a potential change to a territorial system or a one-time mandatory deemed repatriation of all untaxed non-U.S. earnings at a significantly lower rate;
- Citi's ability to continue to utilize its DTAs (including the foreign tax credit component of its DTAs) and thus reduce the negative impact of the DTAs on Citi's regulatory capital, including as a result of movements in Citi's AOCI, which can be impacted by changes in interest rates and foreign exchange rates;
- the potential impact to Citi if its interpretation or application of the extensive tax laws to which it is subject, such as withholding tax obligations and stamp and other transactional taxes, differs from those of the relevant governmental authorities;

- Citi’s ability to achieve the expected returns on its ongoing investments in its businesses or meet its operational or financial objectives or targets, including as a result of factors that Citi cannot control;
- the potential negative impact to Citi’s co-branding and private label credit card relationships as well as Citi’s results of operations or financial condition, including as a result of loss of revenues, impairment of purchased credit card relationships and contract related intangibles or other losses, due to, among other things, operational difficulties of a particular retailer or merchant or early termination of a particular relationship, or external factors, including bankruptcies, liquidations, consolidations and other similar events;
- the potential impact to Citi’s businesses, credit costs, deposits and overall results of operations and financial condition as a result of macroeconomic and geopolitical challenges and uncertainties, including those relating to geopolitical tensions in Asia and Latin America, economic growth rates in the U.S. and non-U.S. jurisdictions, potential fiscal or other monetary actions or the pursuit of protectionist trade and other policies by the U.S.;
- the various risks faced by Citi as a result of its presence in the emerging markets, including, among others, sanctions or asset freezes, fraud, foreign exchange controls, sociopolitical instability (including from hyper-inflation), nationalization or loss of licenses, business restrictions, potential criminal charges, closure of branches or subsidiaries and confiscation of assets as well as the increased compliance, regulatory and legal risks and costs;

- the uncertainties regarding the consequences of noncompliance and the potential impact on Citi's estimates of its eligible debt arising from the Federal Reserve Board's final total loss-absorbing capacity (TLAC) rules;
- the potential impact of concentrations of risk, such as market risk arising from Citi's volume of transactions with counterparties in the financial services industry, on Citi's hedging strategies and results of operations;
- the potential impacts on Citi's liquidity and/or costs of funding as a result of external factors, including, among others, market disruptions and governmental fiscal and monetary policies as well as regulatory changes or negative investor perceptions of Citi's creditworthiness;
- the impact of ratings downgrades of Citi or one or more of its more significant subsidiaries or issuing entities on Citi's funding and liquidity as well as the results of operations of certain of its businesses;
- the potential impact to Citi from a disruption of its operational systems, including as a result of, among other things, human error, fraud or malice, accidental technological failure, electrical or telecommunication outages or failure of computer servers;
- the increasing risk of continually evolving cybersecurity risks faced by financial institutions, including Citi, and others (such as theft of funds or theft, loss, misuse or disclosure of confidential client, customer, corporate or network information or assets and other attempts by unauthorized parties to disrupt computer and network systems), and the potential impact from such risks, including, among others, reputational damage with clients, customers and others, lost revenues, additional costs (including credit costs), regulatory penalties, legal exposure and other financial losses;
- the potential impact of incorrect assumptions or estimates in Citi's financial statements or the impact of ongoing changes to financial accounting and reporting standards or interpretations, such as the FASB's new accounting standard on credit losses, on how Citi records and reports its financial condition and results of operations;
- the potential impact to Citi of ongoing implementation and interpretation of regulatory changes and requirements in the U.S. and globally, such as on Citi's compliance risks and costs, including reputational and legal risks as well as remediation and other financial costs, such as penalties and fines;
- the potential outcomes of the extensive legal and regulatory proceedings, investigations and other inquiries to which Citi is or may be subject at any given time, particularly given the increased focus on conduct risk and the severity of the remedies sought and potential collateral consequences to Citi arising from such outcomes;
- the potential impact to Citi's results of operations and/or regulatory capital and capital ratios if Citi's risk models, including its Basel III risk-weighted asset models, are ineffective, require refinement, modification or enhancement or approval is withdrawn by Citi's U.S. banking regulators;
- the potential impact on Citi's performance, including its competitive position and ability to effectively manage its businesses and continue to execute its strategy, if Citi is unable to hire and retain highly qualified employees for any reason; and
- the potential impact to Citi's businesses, credit costs and overall results of operations and financial condition as a result of natural disasters.

Any forward-looking statements made by or on behalf of Citigroup speak only as to the date they are made, and Citi does not undertake to update forward-looking statements to reflect the impact of circumstances or events that arise after the date the forward-looking statements were made.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)
1. BASIS OF PRESENTATION AND ACCOUNTING CHANGES

Basis of Presentation
The accompanying unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements as of September 30, 2017 and for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2017 and 2016 include the accounts of Citigroup Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.
In the opinion of management, all adjustments, consisting of normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation have been reflected. The accompanying unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements should be read in conjunction with the Consolidated Financial Statements and related notes included in Citigroup’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2016, including the historical audited consolidated financial statements of Citigroup reflecting the certain realignments and reclassifications set forth in Citigroup’s Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the SEC on June 16, 2017 (2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K), and Citigroup’s Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q for the quarters ended March 31, 2017 (First Quarter of 2017 Form 10-Q) and June 30, 2017 (Second Quarter of 2017 Form 10-Q).
Certain financial information that is normally included in annual financial statements prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), but is not required for interim reporting purposes, has been condensed or omitted.
Management must make estimates and assumptions that affect the Consolidated Financial Statements and the related footnote disclosures. While management uses its best judgment, actual results could differ from those estimates.
As noted above, the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements are unaudited.
Throughout these Notes, “Citigroup,” “Citi” and the “Company” refer to Citigroup Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries.
Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior periods’ financial statements and notes to conform to the current period’s presentation.

ACCOUNTING CHANGES

Premium Amortization on Purchased Callable Debt Securities
In March 2017, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2017-08, Receivables—Nonrefundable Fees and Other Costs (Subtopic 310-20): Premium Amortization on Purchased Callable Debt Securities, which amends the amortization period for certain purchased callable debt securities held at a premium. The ASU requires entities to amortize premiums on debt securities by the first call date when the securities have fixed and determinable call dates and prices. The scope of the ASU includes all accounting premiums, such as purchase premiums and cumulative fair value hedge adjustments. The ASU does not change the accounting for discounts, which continue to be recognized over the contractual life of a security.

For calendar-year-end entities, the ASU is effective as of January 1, 2019, but it may be early adopted in any interim or year-end period after issuance. Adoption of the ASU is on a modified retrospective basis through a cumulative effect adjustment to retained earnings as of the beginning of the year of adoption. Citi has early adopted the ASU in the second quarter of 2017, with an effective date of January 1, 2017. Adoption of the ASU primarily affected Citi’s available-for-sale (AFS) and held-to-maturity (HTM) portfolios of callable state and municipal securities. The ASU adoption resulted in a net reduction to total stockholders’ equity of $156 million (after tax), effective as of January 1, 2017. This amount is composed of a reduction of approximately $660 million to retained earnings for the incremental amortization of purchase premiums and cumulative hedge adjustments generated under fair value hedges of these callable debt securities. This amount was partially offset by an increase to Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) (AOCI) of $504 million related to the cumulative fair value hedge adjustments reclassified to retained earnings for AFS securities.

Financial statements for periods prior to 2017 were not subject to restatement under the provisions of this ASU. The amortization recorded in the third quarter and for the first nine months of 2017 under the provisions of the ASU is not materially different than the amounts that would have been recorded if the ASU had not been early adopted.

Recognition and Measurement of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities

In January 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2016-01, Financial Instruments—Overall (Subtopic 825-10): Recognition and Measurement of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities, which addresses certain aspects of recognition, measurement, presentation and disclosure of financial instruments.

This ASU requires entities to present separately in AOCI the portion of the total change in the fair value of a liability resulting from a change in the instrument-specific credit risk when the entity has elected to measure the liability at fair value in accordance with the fair value option for financial instruments. It also requires equity investments (except those accounted for under the equity method of accounting or those that result in consolidation of the investee) to be measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in net income, thus eliminating eligibility for the current available-for-sale category. However, Federal Reserve Bank and Federal Home Loan Bank stock as well as certain exchange seats will continue to be presented at cost.

Citi early adopted only the provisions of this ASU related to presentation of the change in fair value of liabilities for which the fair value option was elected, related to changes in Citigroup's own credit spreads in AOCI effective January 1, 2016. Accordingly, as of the first quarter of 2016, these amounts are reflected as a component of AOCI, whereas these amounts were previously recognized in Citigroup's revenues and net income. The impact of adopting this amendment resulted in a cumulative catch-up reclassification from retained earnings to AOCI of an accumulated after-tax loss of approximately $15 million at January 1, 2016. Financial statements for periods prior to 2016 were not subject to restatement under the provisions of this ASU. For additional information, see Note 17, Note 20 and Note 21 to the Consolidated Financial Statements. The Company is evaluating the effects that the other provisions of ASU 2016-01, which are effective January 1, 2018, will have on its Consolidated Financial Statements and related disclosures.

FUTURE APPLICATION OF ACCOUNTING STANDARDS

Accounting for Financial Instruments—Credit Losses
In June 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-13, Financial Instruments—Credit Losses (Topic 326). The ASU introduces a new credit loss model, the Current Expected Credit Losses model (CECL), which requires earlier recognition of credit losses, while also providing additional transparency about credit risk.
The CECL model utilizes a lifetime "expected credit loss" measurement objective for the recognition of credit losses for loans, held-to-maturity securities and other receivables at the time the financial asset is originated or acquired. The expected credit losses are adjusted each period for changes in expected lifetime credit losses. For available-for-sale securities where fair value is less than cost, credit-related impairment, if any, will be recognized in an allowance for credit losses and adjusted each period for changes in expected credit risk. This model replaces the multiple existing impairment models in current GAAP, which generally require that a loss be incurred before it is recognized.
The CECL model represents a significant change from existing GAAP and may result in material changes to the Company's accounting for financial instruments. The Company is evaluating the effect that ASU 2016-13 will have on its Consolidated Financial Statements and related disclosures. The impact of the ASU will depend upon the state of the economy and the nature of Citi's portfolios at the date of adoption. Based on a preliminary analysis performed earlier in 2017 and the environment at that time, the overall impact is estimated to be an approximate 10-20% increase in credit reserves. Moreover, there are still some implementation questions that will need to be resolved that could affect the estimated impact. The ASU will be effective for Citi as of January 1, 2020. Early application is permitted for annual periods beginning January 1, 2019.

Revenue Recognition
In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU No. 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers, which requires an entity to recognize the amount of revenue to which it expects to be entitled for the transfer of promised goods or services to customers. The Company will adopt the guidance as of January 1, 2018 using a modified retrospective method with a cumulative-effect adjustment to opening retained earnings. While the guidance will replace most existing revenue recognition guidance in GAAP, the ASU is not applicable to financial instruments and, therefore, will not impact a majority of the Company's revenues, including net interest income. Based on the Company's current interpretations of the new guidance, the Company does not expect a material change in the timing or measurement of revenues and the overall impact to net income is expected to be immaterial.

The new standard clarified the guidance related to reporting revenue gross as a principal versus net as an agent. The Company has identified transactions, including underwriting activity where Citi is deemed the principal, rather than the agent, which require a gross up of annual revenues and expenses of approximately $0.8 billion. This change in presentation will not have an impact on Income from continuing operations; however, this standard would have impacted Citi's efficiency ratio by approximately 50 basis points for the nine months ended September 30, 2017. The Company continues to evaluate the effect that the guidance will have on other revenue streams within its scope, including the presentation of certain contract costs, as well as changes in disclosures required by the new guidance.

Lease Accounting

In February 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-02, Leases (Topic 842), which is intended to increase transparency and comparability of accounting for lease transactions. The ASU will require lessees to recognize leases on the balance sheet as lease assets and lease liabilities and will require both quantitative and qualitative disclosures regarding key information about leasing arrangements. Lessor accounting is largely unchanged. The guidance is effective beginning January 1, 2019 with an option to early adopt. The Company does not plan to early adopt the ASU. The Company estimates that upon adoption, its Consolidated Balance Sheet will have an approximate $5 billion increase in assets and liabilities. Additionally, the Company estimates an approximate $200 million increase in retained earnings due to the cumulative effect of recognizing previously deferred gains on sale/leaseback transactions.

Income Tax Impact of Intra-Entity Transfers of Assets

In October 2016, the FASB issued ASU No. 2016-16, Income Taxes—Intra-Entity Transfers of Assets Other Than Inventory, which will require an entity to recognize the income tax consequences of an intra-entity transfer of an asset other than inventory when the transfer occurs. The ASU is effective January 1, 2018. The Company continues to evaluate the impact of this standard, which is expected to increase DTAs, with an associated decrease in prepaid taxes of approximately $500 million.

Subsequent Measurement of Goodwill

In January 2017, the FASB issued ASU No. 2017-04, Intangibles—Goodwill and Other (Topic 350): Simplifying the Test for Goodwill Impairment. The ASU simplifies the subsequent measurement of goodwill impairment by eliminating the requirement to calculate the implied fair value of goodwill (i.e., the current Step 2 of the goodwill impairment test) to measure a goodwill impairment charge. Under the ASU, the impairment test is simply the comparison of the fair value of a reporting unit with its carrying amount (the current Step 1), with the impairment charge being the deficit in fair value but not exceeding the total amount of goodwill allocated to that reporting unit. The simplified one-step impairment test applies to all reporting units (including those with zero or negative carrying amounts).

The ASU is effective for Citi as of January 1, 2020. Early adoption is permitted for interim and annual goodwill impairment testing dates after January 1, 2017. The impact of the ASU will depend upon the performance of the reporting units and the market conditions impacting the fair value of each reporting unit going forward.

Clarifying the Definition of a Business

In January 2017, the FASB issued ASU No. 2017-01, Business Combinations (Topic 805): Clarifying the Definition of a Business. The definition of a business directly and indirectly affects many areas of accounting (e.g., acquisitions, disposals, goodwill and consolidation). The ASU narrows the definition of a business by introducing a quantitative screen as the first step, such that if substantially all of the fair value of the gross assets acquired is concentrated in a single identifiable asset or a group of similar identifiable assets, the set of transferred assets and activities is not a business. If the set is not scoped out from the quantitative screen, the entity then evaluates whether the set meets the requirement that a business include, at a minimum, an input and a substantive process that together significantly contribute to the ability to create outputs.

The ASU is effective for Citi as of January 1, 2018. The ASU will be applied prospectively, with early adoption permitted. The impact of the ASU will depend upon the acquisition and disposal activities of Citi. If fewer transactions qualify as a business, there could be less initial recognition of goodwill, but also less goodwill allocated to disposals.

Changes in Accounting for Pension and Postretirement (Benefit) Expense

In March 2017, the FASB issued ASU 2017-07, Compensation—Retirement Benefits (Topic 715): Improving the Presentation of Net Periodic Pension Cost and Net Periodic Postretirement Benefit Cost, which changes the income statement presentation of net benefit expense and requires restating the Company’s financial statements for each of the earlier periods presented in Citi’s annual and interim financial statements. The change in presentation is effective for annual and interim periods starting January 1, 2018. The ASU requires that only the service cost component of net benefit expense be included in the Compensation and benefits line on the income statement. The other components of net benefit expense will be required to be presented outside of the Compensation and benefits line and will be presented in Other operating expense. Since both of these income statement line items are part of Operating expenses, total Operating expenses will not change, nor will there be any change in Net income. This change in presentation is not expected to have a material effect on the Compensation and benefits and on Other operating lines in the income statement. The components of the net benefit expense are currently disclosed in Note 7 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

The new standard also changes the components of net benefit expense that are eligible for capitalization when employee costs are capitalized in connection with various activities, such as internally developed software, construction-in-progress, and loan origination costs. Prospectively from January 1, 2018, only the service cost component of net benefit expense may be capitalized. Existing capitalized balances are not affected. The Company is currently evaluating the portion of net benefits cost that continues to be eligible for capitalization and the portion that is not eligible.

Hedging

In August 2017, the FASB issued ASU No. 2017-12, Targeted Improvements to Accounting for Hedging Activities, which will better align an entity's risk management activities and financial reporting for hedging relationships through changes to the designation and measurement guidance for qualifying hedging relationships and the presentation of hedge results. The mandatory effective date for calendar year-end public companies is January 1, 2019 but the amendments may be early adopted in any interim or annual period after issuance. The targeted improvements in the ASU will allow Citi increased flexibility to structure hedges of fixed rate instruments and floating rate instruments. Application of the ASU is expected to reduce the amount of ineffectiveness as the revised accounting guidance will better reflect the economics of our risk management activities and will also reduce the volatility associated with foreign currency hedging. The ASU requires the hedging instrument to be presented in the same line item as the hedged item and also requires expanded disclosures. Citi is in the process of evaluating whether to early adopt the standard before the mandatory effective date.

2. DISCONTINUED OPERATIONS AND SIGNIFICANT DISPOSALS

Discontinued Operations
The following sales are reported as Discontinued operations within Corporate/Other.

Sale of Egg Banking plc Credit Card Business
Citi sold the Egg Banking plc credit card business in 2011. Residual items from the disposal resulted in losses from Discontinued operations, net of taxes, of $5 million and $24 million for the three months ended September 30, 2017 and 2016, respectively, and $2 million and $46 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

Combined Results for Discontinued Operations
The following summarizes financial information for all Discontinued operations for which Citi continues to have minimal residual impact associated with the sold operations:

Cash flows for Discontinued operations were not material for the periods presented.

Significant Disposals
The transactions during 2017 and 2016 described below were identified as significant disposals. The major classes of assets and liabilities that are derecognized from the Consolidated Balance Sheet at closing and the income related to each business until the disposal date are presented below.

Novation of the 80% Primerica Coinsurance Agreement
Effective January 1, 2016, Citi completed a novation (an arrangement that extinguishes Citi's rights and obligations under a contract) of the Primerica 80% coinsurance agreement, which was part of Corporate/Other, to a third-party re-insurer. The novation resulted in revenues of $404 million recorded in Other revenue ($263 million after-tax) during the first quarter of 2016. Furthermore, the novation resulted in derecognition of $1.5 billion of available-for-sale securities and cash, $0.95 billion of deferred acquisition costs and $2.7 billion of insurance liabilities.

Exit of U.S. Mortgage Service Operations
As previously disclosed, Citigroup signed agreements during the first quarter of 2017 to effectively exit its direct U.S. mortgage servicing operations by the end of 2018 to intensify focus on originations. The exit of the mortgage servicing operations included the sale of mortgage servicing rights and execution of a subservicing agreement for the remaining Citi-owned loans and certain other mortgage servicing rights. As part of this transaction, Citi is also transferring certain employees.

This transaction, which was part of Corporate/Other, resulted in a pretax loss of $331 million ($207 million after-tax) recorded in Other revenue during the first quarter of 2017. The loss on sale did not include certain other costs and charges related to the disposed operation recorded primarily in Operating expenses in the first quarter of 2017, resulting in a total pretax loss of $382 million. As part of the completed sale, during the first quarter of 2017, Citi derecognized a total of $1,162 million of servicing-related assets, including $1,046 million of mortgage servicing rights, related to approximately 750,000 Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac held loans with outstanding balances of approximately $93 billion. Excluding the loss on sale and the additional charges, income before taxes for the disposed operation was immaterial for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 and 2016.

Sale of CitiFinancial Canada Consumer Finance Business

On March 31, 2017, Citi completed the sale of CitiFinancial Canada (CitiFinancial), which was part of Corporate/Other and included 220 retail branches and approximately 1,400 employees. As part of the sale, Citi derecognized total assets of approximately $1.9 billion, including $1.7 billion in consumer loans (net of allowance), and total liabilities of approximately $1.5 billion related to intercompany borrowings, which were settled at closing of the transaction. Separately, during the first quarter of 2017, CitiFinancial settled $0.4 billion of debt issued through loan securitizations. The sale of CitiFinancial generated a pretax gain on sale of $350 million recorded in Other revenue ($178 million after-tax) during the first quarter of 2017.

Income before taxes, excluding the pretax gain on sale, was as follows:

	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
In millions of dollars	2017	2016	2017	2016
Income before taxes	$ —	$ 43	$ 41	$ 121

Sale of a Fixed Income Analytics Business and an Index Business

On August 31, 2017, Citi completed the sale of a fixed income analytics (Yield Book) and a fixed income index business that were part of Markets and Securities Services within Institutional Clients Group (ICG). As part of the sale, Citi derecognized total assets of approximately $112 million, including goodwill of $72 million, while the derecognized liabilities were approximately $18 million. The transaction generated a pretax gain on sale of $580 million ($355 million after-tax) recorded in Other revenue during the third quarter of 2017.

Income before taxes for the divested businesses is as follows:

	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
In millions of dollars	2017	2016	2017	2016
Income before taxes	$ 13	$ 12	$ 31	$ 43

3. BUSINESS SEGMENTS

Citigroup's activities are conducted through the Global Consumer Banking (GCB) and ICG business segments. In addition, Corporate/Other includes activities not assigned to a specific business segment, as well as certain North America and international loan portfolios, discontinued operations and other legacy assets.

The prior-period balances reflect reclassifications to conform the presentation for all periods to the current period's presentation. Effective January 1, 2017, financial data was reclassified to reflect:

- the reporting of the remaining businesses and portfolios of assets of Citi Holdings as part of Corporate/Other which, prior to the first quarter of 2017, was a separately reported business segment;
- the re-attribution of certain treasury-related costs between Corporate/Other, GCB and ICG;
- the re-attribution of regional revenues within ICG; and
- certain other immaterial reclassifications.

Citi's consolidated results remain unchanged for all periods presented as a result of the changes and reclassifications discussed above.

For additional information regarding Citigroup's business segments, see Note 3 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

The following table presents certain information regarding the Company's continuing operations by segment:

Plan Assumptions

The discount rates utilized during the period in determining the pension and postretirement net (benefit) expense for the Significant Plans are as follows:

Net benefit (expense) assumed discount rates during the period	Three Months Ended
	Sept. 30, 2017	Jun. 30, 2017
U.S. plans
Qualified pension	3.80%	4.05%
Nonqualified pension	3.75	3.95
Postretirement	3.60	3.85
Non-U.S. plans
Pension	0.65-10.90	0.55-10.45
Weighted average	4.87	4.83
Postretirement	9.05	9.25

The discount rates utilized at period-end in determining the pension and postretirement benefit obligations for the Significant Plans are as follows:

Plan obligations assumed discount rates at period ended	Sept. 30, 2017	June 30, 2017	Mar. 31, 2017
U.S. plans
Qualified pension	3.75%	3.80%	4.05%
Nonqualified pension	3.65	3.75	3.95
Postretirement	3.55	3.60	3.85
Non-U.S. plans
Pension	0.65-10.35	0.65-10.90	0.55-10.45
Weighted average	4.86	4.87	4.83
Postretirement	8.95	9.05	9.25

Sensitivities of Certain Key Assumptions

The following table summarizes the estimated effect on the Company’s Significant Plans quarterly expense of a one-percentage-point change in the discount rate:

In millions of dollars	Three Months Ended September 30, 2017 One-percentage-point increase	One-percentage-point decrease

(1) As of September 30, 2017, Citi estimates it will distribute preferred dividends of approximately $320 million during the remainder of 2017, assuming such dividends are declared by the Citi Board of Directors.

(2) Warrants issued to the U.S. Treasury as part of the Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP) and the loss-sharing agreement (all of which were subsequently sold to the public in January 2011), with exercise prices of $178.50 and $105.27 per share for approximately 21.0 million and 25.5 million shares of Citigroup common stock, respectively. Both warrants were not included in the computation of earnings per share in the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 and 2016 because they were anti-dilutive.

(3) During the third quarters of 2017 and 2016, weighted-average options to purchase 0.8 million and 3.6 million shares of common stock, respectively, were outstanding, but not included in the computation of earnings per share because the weighted-average exercise prices of $206.70 and $85.92 per share, respectively, were anti-dilutive.

(4) Due to rounding, common shares outstanding applicable to basic EPS and the effect of dilutive securities may not sum to common shares outstanding applicable to diluted EPS.

(5) Due to rounding, earnings per share on continuing operations and discontinued operations may not sum to earnings per share on net income.

10. FEDERAL FUNDS, SECURITIES BORROWED, LOANED AND SUBJECT TO REPURCHASE AGREEMENTS

For additional information on the Company's resale and repurchase agreements and securities borrowing and lending agreements, see Note 11 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.
Federal funds sold and securities borrowed or purchased under agreements to resell, at their respective carrying values, consisted of the following:

In millions of dollars	September 30, 2017	December 31, 2016
Federal funds sold	$ 20	$ —
Securities purchased under agreements to resell	139,203	131,473
Deposits paid for securities borrowed	113,385	105,340
Total[(1)]	$ 252,608	$ 236,813

Federal funds purchased and securities loaned or sold under agreements to repurchase, at their respective carrying values, consisted of the following:

In millions of dollars	September 30, 2017	December 31, 2016
Federal funds purchased	$ 388	$ 178
Securities sold under agreements to repurchase	145,280	125,685
Deposits received for securities loaned	15,614	15,958
Total[(1)]	$ 161,282	$ 141,821

(1) The above tables do not include securities-for-securities lending transactions of $14.4 billion and $9.3 billion at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively, where the Company acts as lender and receives securities that can be sold or pledged as collateral. In these transactions, the Company recognizes the securities received at fair value within Other assets and the obligation to return those securities as a liability within Brokerage payables.

It is the Company's policy to take possession of the underlying collateral, monitor its market value relative to the amounts due under the agreements and, when necessary, require prompt transfer of additional collateral in order to maintain contractual margin protection. For resale and repurchase agreements, when necessary, the Company posts additional collateral in order to maintain contractual margin protection.
A substantial portion of the resale and repurchase agreements is recorded at fair value, as described in Notes 20 and 21 to the Consolidated Financial Statements. The remaining portion is carried at the amount of cash initially advanced or received, plus accrued interest, as specified in the respective agreements.
A substantial portion of securities borrowing and lending agreements is recorded at the amount of cash advanced or received. The remaining portion is recorded at fair value as the Company elected the fair value option for certain securities borrowed and loaned portfolios, as described in Note 21 to the Consolidated Financial Statements. With respect to securities loaned, the Company receives cash collateral in an amount generally in excess of the market value of the securities loaned. The Company monitors the market value of securities borrowed and securities loaned on a daily basis and obtains or posts additional collateral in order to maintain contractual margin protection.
The following tables present the gross and net resale and repurchase agreements and securities borrowing and lending agreements and the related offsetting amount permitted under ASC-210-20-45. The tables also include amounts related to financial instruments that are not permitted to be offset under ASC-210-20-45, but would be eligible for offsetting to the extent that an event of default occurred and a legal opinion supporting enforceability of the offsetting rights has been obtained. Remaining exposures continue to be secured by financial collateral, but the Company may not have sought or been able to obtain a legal opinion evidencing enforceability of the offsetting right.

(1) The Company invests in mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities. These securitizations are generally considered VIEs. The Company's maximum exposure to loss from these VIEs is equal to the carrying amount of the securities, which is reflected in the table above. For mortgage-backed and asset-backed securitizations in which the Company has other involvement, see Note 18 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(2) In the second quarter of 2017, Citi early adopted ASU 2017-08, Receivables-Nonrefundable Fees and Other Costs (Subtopic 310-20): Premium Amortization on Purchased Callable Debt Securities. Upon adoption, a cumulative effect adjustment was recorded to reduce retained earnings, effective January 1, 2017, for the incremental amortization of purchase premiums and cumulative fair value hedge adjustments on callable state and municipal debt securities. For additional information, see Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(1) For securities transferred to HTM from Trading account assets, amortized cost basis is defined as the fair value of the securities at the date of transfer plus any accretion income and less any impairments recognized in earnings subsequent to transfer. For securities transferred to HTM from AFS, amortized cost is defined as the original purchase cost, adjusted for the cumulative accretion or amortization of any purchase discount or premium, plus or minus any cumulative fair value hedge adjustments, net of accretion or amortization, and less any other-than-temporary impairment recognized in earnings.

(2) HTM securities are carried on the Consolidated Balance Sheet at amortized cost basis, plus or minus any unamortized unrealized gains and losses and fair value hedge adjustments recognized in AOCI prior to reclassifying the securities from AFS to HTM. Changes in the values of these securities are not reported in the financial statements, except for the amortization of any difference between the carrying value at the transfer date and par value of the securities, and the recognition of any non-credit fair value adjustments in AOCI in connection with the recognition of any credit impairment in earnings related to securities the Company continues to intend to hold until maturity.

(3) The Company invests in mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities. These securitizations are generally considered VIEs. The Company's maximum exposure to loss from these VIEs is equal to the carrying amount of the securities, which is reflected in the table above. For mortgage-backed and asset-backed securitizations in which the Company has other involvement, see Note 18 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(4) In the second quarter of 2017, Citi early adopted ASU 2017-08, Receivables-Nonrefundable Fees and Other Costs (Subtopic 310-20): Premium Amortization on Purchased Callable Debt Securities. Upon adoption, a cumulative effect adjustment was recorded to reduce retained earnings, effective January 1, 2017, for the incremental amortization of purchase premiums and cumulative fair value hedge adjustments on callable state and municipal debt securities. For additional information, see Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(5) During the fourth quarter of 2016, securities with a total fair value of approximately $5.8 billion were transferred from AFS to HTM, composed of $5 billion of U.S. government agency mortgage-backed securities and $830 million of municipal securities. The transfer reflects the Company's intent to hold these securities to maturity or to issuer call, in part, in order to reduce the impact of price volatility on AOCI and certain capital measures under Basel III. While these securities were transferred to HTM at fair value as of the transfer date, no subsequent changes in value may be recorded, other than in connection with the recognition of any subsequent other-than-temporary impairment and the amortization of differences between the carrying values at the transfer date and the par values of each security as an adjustment of yield over the remaining contractual life of each security. Any net unrealized holding losses within AOCI related to the respective securities at the date of transfer, inclusive of any cumulative fair value hedge adjustments, will be amortized over the remaining contractual life of each security as an adjustment of yield in a manner consistent with the amortization of any premium or discount.

The table below shows the fair value of debt securities HTM that have been in an unrecognized loss position:

Note: Excluded from the gross unrecognized losses presented in the table above are $(67) million and $(496) million of net unrealized losses recorded in AOCI as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively, primarily related to the difference between the amortized cost and carrying value of HTM securities that were reclassified from AFS. Substantially all of these net unrecognized losses relate to securities that have been in a loss position for 12 months or longer at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016.

The following table presents the carrying value and fair value of HTM debt securities by contractual maturity dates:

Evaluating Investments for Other-Than-Temporary Impairment

Overview
The Company conducts periodic reviews of all securities with unrealized losses to evaluate whether the impairment is other-than-temporary.
An unrealized loss exists when the current fair value of an individual security is less than its amortized cost basis. Unrealized losses that are determined to be temporary in nature are recorded, net of tax, in AOCI for AFS securities. Losses related to HTM securities generally are not recorded, as these investments are carried at adjusted amortized cost basis. However, for HTM securities with credit-related impairment, the credit loss is recognized in earnings as OTTI and any difference between the cost basis adjusted for the OTTI and fair value is recognized in AOCI and amortized as an adjustment of yield over the remaining contractual life of the security. For securities transferred to HTM from Trading account assets, amortized cost is defined as the fair value of the securities at the date of transfer, plus any accretion income and less any impairment recognized in earnings subsequent to transfer. For securities transferred to HTM from AFS, amortized cost is defined as the original purchase cost, adjusted for the cumulative accretion or amortization of any purchase discount or premium, plus or minus any cumulative fair value hedge adjustments, net of accretion or amortization, and less any impairment recognized in earnings.
Regardless of the classification of the securities as AFS or HTM, the Company assesses each position with an unrealized loss for OTTI. Factors considered in determining whether a loss is temporary include:

- the length of time and the extent to which fair value has been below cost;
- the severity of the impairment;
- the cause of the impairment and the financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer;
- activity in the market of the issuer that may indicate adverse credit conditions; and
- the Company’s ability and intent to hold the investment for a period of time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovery.

The Company’s review for impairment generally entails:

- identification and evaluation of impaired investments;
- analysis of individual investments that have fair values less than amortized cost, including consideration of the length of time the investment has been in an unrealized loss position and the expected recovery period;
- consideration of evidential matter, including an evaluation of factors or triggers that could cause individual investments to qualify as having other-than-temporary impairment and those that would not support other-than-temporary impairment; and
- documentation of the results of these analyses, as required under business policies.

Debt Securities
The entire difference between amortized cost basis and fair value is recognized in earnings as OTTI for impaired debt securities that the Company has an intent to sell or for which the Company believes it will more-likely-than-not be required to sell prior to recovery of the amortized cost basis. However, for those securities that the Company does not intend to sell and is not likely to be required to sell, only the credit-related impairment is recognized in earnings and any non-credit-related impairment is recorded in AOCI.
For debt securities, credit impairment exists where management does not expect to receive contractual principal and interest cash flows sufficient to recover the entire amortized cost basis of a security.

Equity Securities
For equity securities, management considers the various factors described above, including its intent and ability to hold the equity security for a period of time sufficient for recovery to cost or whether it is more-likely-than-not that the Company will be required to sell the security prior to recovery of its cost basis. Where management lacks that intent or ability, the security's decline in fair value is deemed to be other-than-temporary and is recorded in earnings. AFS equity securities deemed to be other-than-temporarily impaired are written down to fair value, with the full difference between fair value and cost recognized in earnings.

Management assesses equity method investments that have fair values that are less than their respective carrying values for OTTI. Fair value is measured as price multiplied by quantity if the investee has publicly listed securities. If the investee is not publicly listed, other methods are used (see Note 22 to the Consolidated Financial Statements).

For impaired equity method investments that Citi plans to sell prior to recovery of value or would likely be required to sell, with no expectation that the fair value will recover prior to the expected sale date, the full impairment is recognized in earnings as OTTI regardless of severity and duration. The measurement of the OTTI does not include partial projected recoveries subsequent to the balance sheet date.

For impaired equity method investments that management does not plan to sell and is not likely to be required to sell prior to recovery of value, the evaluation of whether an impairment is other-than-temporary is based on (i) whether and when an equity method investment will recover in value and (ii) whether the investor has the intent and ability to hold that investment for a period of time sufficient to recover the value. The determination of whether the impairment is considered other-than-temporary considers the following indicators, regardless of the time and extent of impairment:

- the cause of the impairment and the financial condition and near-term prospects of the issuer, including any specific events that may influence the operations of the issuer;
- the intent and ability to hold the investment for a period of time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovery in market value; and
- the length of time and extent to which fair value has been less than the carrying value.

The sections below describe the Company’s process for identifying credit-related impairments for security types that have the most significant unrealized losses as of September 30, 2017.

Mortgage-Backed Securities

For U.S. mortgage-backed securities (and in particular for Alt-A and other mortgage-backed securities that have significant unrealized losses as a percentage of amortized cost), credit impairment is assessed using a cash flow model that estimates the principal and interest cash flows on the underlying mortgages using the security-specific collateral and transaction structure. The model distributes the estimated cash flows to the various tranches of securities, considering the transaction structure and any subordination and credit enhancements that exist in that structure. The cash flow model incorporates actual cash flows on the mortgage-backed securities through the current period and then estimates the remaining cash flows using a number of assumptions, including default rates, prepayment rates, recovery rates (on foreclosed properties) and loss severity rates (on non-agency mortgage-backed securities).

Management develops specific assumptions using market data, internal estimates and estimates published by rating agencies and other third-party sources. Default rates are projected by considering current underlying mortgage loan performance, generally assuming the default of (i) 10% of current loans, (ii) 25% of 30–59 day delinquent loans, (iii) 70% of 60–90 day delinquent loans and (iv) 100% of 91+ day delinquent loans. These estimates are extrapolated along a default timing curve to estimate the total lifetime pool default rate. Other assumptions contemplate the actual collateral attributes, including geographic concentrations, rating actions and current market prices.

Cash flow projections are developed using different stress test scenarios. Management evaluates the results of those stress tests (including the severity of any cash shortfall indicated and the likelihood of the stress scenarios actually occurring based on the underlying pool’s characteristics and performance) to assess whether management expects to recover the amortized cost basis of the security. If cash flow projections indicate that the Company does not expect to recover its amortized cost basis, the Company recognizes the estimated credit loss in earnings.

State and Municipal Securities

The process for identifying credit impairments in Citigroup’s AFS and HTM state and municipal bonds is primarily based on a credit analysis that incorporates third-party credit ratings. Citigroup monitors the bond issuers and any insurers providing default protection in the form of financial guarantee insurance. The average external credit rating, ignoring any insurance, is Aa3/AA-. In the event of an external rating downgrade or other indicator of credit impairment (i.e., based on instrument-specific estimates of cash flows or probability of issuer default), the subject bond is specifically reviewed for adverse changes in the amount or timing of expected contractual principal and interest payments.

For state and municipal bonds with unrealized losses that Citigroup plans to sell, or would be more-likely-than-not required to sell, the full impairment is recognized in earnings.

Investments in Alternative Investment Funds That Calculate Net Asset Value

The Company holds investments in certain alternative investment funds that calculate net asset value (NAV), or its equivalent, including hedge funds, private equity funds, funds of funds and real estate funds, as provided by third-party asset managers. Investments in such funds are generally classified as non-marketable equity securities carried at fair value. The fair values of these investments are estimated using the NAV of the Company's ownership interest in the funds. Some of these investments are in "covered funds" for purposes of the Volcker

Rule, which prohibits certain proprietary investment activities and limits the ownership of, and relationships with, covered funds. On April 21, 2017, Citi's request for extension of the permitted holding period under the Volcker Rule for certain of its investments in illiquid funds was approved, allowing the Company to hold such investments until the earlier of 5 years from the July 21, 2017 expiration date of the general conformance period, or the date such investments mature or are otherwise conformed with the Volcker Rule.

(1) Private equity funds include funds that invest in infrastructure, emerging markets and venture capital.

(2) With respect to the Company's investments in private equity funds and real estate funds, distributions from each fund will be received as the underlying assets held by these funds are liquidated. It is estimated that the underlying assets of these funds will be liquidated over a period of several years as market conditions allow. Private equity and real estate funds do not allow redemption of investments by their investors. Investors are permitted to sell or transfer their investments, subject to the approval of the general partner or investment manager of these funds, which generally may not be unreasonably withheld.

(3) Includes several real estate funds that invest primarily in commercial real estate in the U.S., Europe and Asia.

13. LOANS

Citigroup loans are reported in two categories—consumer and corporate. These categories are classified primarily according to the segment and subsegment that manage the loans. For additional information regarding Citi's consumer and corporate loans, including related accounting policies, see Note 14 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Consumer Loans

Consumer loans represent loans and leases managed primarily by GCB and Corporate/Other. The following table provides Citi's consumer loans by loan type:

Consumer Credit Scores (FICO)

The following tables provide details on the FICO scores for Citi's U.S. consumer loan portfolio based on end-of-period receivables (commercial banking loans are excluded from the table since they are business based and FICO scores are not a primary driver in their credit evaluation). FICO scores are updated monthly for substantially all of the portfolio or, otherwise, on a quarterly basis for the remaining portfolio.

Loan to Value (LTV) Ratios

The following tables provide details on the LTV ratios for Citi's U.S. consumer mortgage portfolios. LTV ratios are updated monthly using the most recent Core Logic Home Price Index data available for substantially all of the portfolio applied at the Metropolitan Statistical Area level, if available, or the state level if not. The remainder of the portfolio is updated in a similar manner using the Federal Housing Finance Agency indices.

(1) TDRs involving changes in the amount or timing of principal payments may involve principal forgiveness or deferral of periodic and/or final principal payments. Because forgiveness of principal is rare for corporate loans, modifications typically have little to no impact on the loans' projected cash flows and thus little to no impact on the allowance established for the loans. Charge-offs for amounts deemed uncollectable may be recorded at the time of the restructuring or may have already been recorded in prior periods such that no charge-off is required at the time of the modification.

(2) TDRs involving changes in the amount or timing of interest payments may involve a below-market interest rate.

The following table presents total corporate loans modified in a TDR as well as those TDRs that defaulted and for which the payment default occurred within one year of a permanent modification. Default is defined as 60 days past due, except for classifiably managed commercial banking loans, where default is defined as 90 days past due.

(1) Full impairment of the allocated goodwill related to the transferred mortgage servicing business upon transfer from North America GCB to Citi Holdings—REL effective January 1, 2017.

(2) Goodwill allocated to the sale of the Fixed Income Analytics and Index businesses classified as held-for-sale during the second quarter of 2017. The sale was completed during the third quarter of 2017. See Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

For additional information on transfer of goodwill and results of interim testing performed during the first half of 2017, see Note 15 in Citi's Second Quarter of 2017 Form 10-Q.

The Company performed its annual goodwill impairment test as of July 1, 2017. The fair values of the Company's reporting units exceeded their carrying values and did not indicate a risk of impairment, except for Citi Holdings—Consumer Latin America reporting unit.

Citi Holdings—Consumer Latin America reporting unit only marginally exceeded its carrying value. While there was no indication of impairment, the $16 million of goodwill present in Citi Holdings—Consumer Latin America may be particularly sensitive to further deterioration in economic conditions. The fair value as a percentage of allocated book value as of September 30, 2017 was 103%. There were no other triggering events identified during the third quarter of 2017.

The following table shows reporting units with goodwill balances as of September 30, 2017 and the fair value as a percentage of allocated book value as of the 2017 annual goodwill impairment test:

(1) Primarily driven by Citigroup's pay fixed/receive floating interest rate swap programs that hedge the floating rates on liabilities.

(2) Primarily reflects adjustments based on the quarterly actuarial valuations of the Company's Significant pension and postretirement plans, annual actuarial valuations of all other plans, and amortization of amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income.

(3) Primarily reflects the movements in (by order of impact) the Euro, British pound, Chilean peso, and Brazilian real against the U.S. dollar, and changes in related tax effects and hedges for the quarter ended September 30, 2017. Primarily reflects the movements in (by order of impact) the Mexican peso, Euro, Korean won, and Polish zloty against the U.S. dollar, and changes in related tax effects and hedges for the quarter nine months ended September 30, 2017. Primarily reflects the movements in (by order of impact) the Mexican peso, Korean won, Japanese yen, and Australian dollar for the quarter ended September 30, 2016. Primarily reflects the movements in (by order of impact) the Mexican peso, Japanese yen, Brazilian real and Korean won against the U.S. dollar, and changes in related tax effects and hedges for the quarter and nine months ended September 30, 2016.

(4) In the second quarter of 2017, Citi early adopted ASU 2017-08, Receivables-Nonrefundable Fees and Other Costs (Subtopic 310-20): Premium Amortization on Purchased Callable Debt Securities. Upon adoption, a cumulative effect adjustment was recorded to reduce retained earnings, effective January 1, 2017, for the incremental amortization of cumulative fair value hedge adjustments on callable state and municipal debt securities. For additional information, see Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(5) Beginning in the first quarter of 2016, changes in DVA are reflected as a component of AOCI, pursuant to the early adoption of only the provisions of ASU 2016-01 relating to the presentation of DVA on fair value option liabilities. See Note 1 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for further information regarding this change.

The pretax and after-tax changes in each component of Accumulated other comprehensive income (loss) were as follows:

(1) The definition of maximum exposure to loss is included in the text that follows this table.

(2) Included on Citigroup's September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016 Consolidated Balance Sheet.

(3) A significant unconsolidated VIE is an entity where the Company has any variable interest or continuing involvement considered to be significant, regardless of the likelihood of loss.

(4) Citigroup mortgage securitizations also include agency and non-agency (private-label) re-securitization activities. These SPEs are not consolidated. See "Re-securitizations" below for further discussion.

(5) See Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements for more information on the exit of the U.S. mortgage servicing operations and sale of MSRs.

The previous tables do not include:

- certain venture capital investments made by some of the Company's private equity subsidiaries, as the Company accounts for these investments in accordance with the Investment Company Audit Guide (codified in ASC 946);
- certain investment funds for which the Company provides investment management services and personal estate trusts for which the Company provides administrative, trustee and/or investment management services;
- certain VIEs structured by third parties where the Company holds securities in inventory, as these investments are made on arm's-length terms;
- certain positions in mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities held by the Company, which are classified as Trading account assets or Investments, where the Company has no other involvement with the related securitization entity deemed to be significant (for more information on these positions, see Notes 12 and 20 to the Consolidated Financial Statements);
- certain representations and warranties exposures in legacy ICG-sponsored mortgage-backed and asset-backed securitizations, where the Company has no variable interest or continuing involvement as servicer. The outstanding balance of mortgage loans securitized during 2005 to 2008 where the Company has no variable interest or continuing involvement as servicer was approximately $9 billion and $10 billion at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively;
- certain representations and warranties exposures in Citigroup residential mortgage securitizations, where the original mortgage loan balances are no longer outstanding; and
- VIEs such as trust preferred securities trusts used in connection with the Company's funding activities. The Company does not have a variable interest in these trusts.

The asset balances for consolidated VIEs represent the carrying amounts of the assets consolidated by the Company. The carrying amount may represent the amortized cost or the current fair value of the assets depending on the legal form of the asset (e.g., loan or security) and the Company's standard accounting policies for the asset type and line of business.

The asset balances for unconsolidated VIEs where the Company has significant involvement represent the most current information available to the Company. In most cases, the asset balances represent an amortized cost basis without regard to impairments, unless fair value information is readily available to the Company.

The maximum funded exposure represents the balance sheet carrying amount of the Company's investment in the VIE. It reflects the initial amount of cash invested in the VIE adjusted for any accrued interest and cash principal payments received. The carrying amount may also be adjusted for increases or declines in fair value or any impairment in value recognized in earnings. The maximum exposure of unfunded positions represents the remaining undrawn committed amount, including liquidity and credit facilities provided by the Company, or the notional amount of a derivative instrument considered to be a variable interest. In certain transactions, the Company has entered into derivative instruments or other arrangements that are not considered variable interests in the VIE (e.g., interest rate swaps, cross-currency swaps or where the Company is the purchaser of credit protection under a credit default swap or total return swap where the Company pays the total return on certain assets to the SPE). Receivables under such arrangements are not included in the maximum exposure amounts.

Funding Commitments for Significant Unconsolidated VIEs—Liquidity Facilities and Loan Commitments

The following table presents the notional amount of liquidity facilities and loan commitments that are classified as funding commitments in the VIE tables above:

In millions of dollars	September 30, 2017		December 31, 2016
	Liquidity facilities	Loan/equity commitments	Liquidity facilities	Loan/equity commitments

Credit Card Securitizations

Substantially all of the Company's credit card securitization activity is through two trusts—Citibank Credit Card Master Trust (Master Trust) and Citibank Omni Master Trust (Omni Trust), with the substantial majority through the Master Trust. These trusts are consolidated entities.

The following table reflects amounts related to the Company's securitized credit card receivables:

In billions of dollars	September 30, 2017	December 31, 2016
Ownership interests in principal amount of trust credit card receivables
Sold to investors via trust-issued securities	$ 28.0	$ 22.7

Contractual servicing fees received	0.2	—	0.3	—

(1) The proceeds from new securitizations in 2016 include $0.5 billion related to personal loan securitizations.

Gains recognized on the securitization of U.S. agency-sponsored mortgages were $14 million and $61 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, respectively. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, gains recognized on the securitization of non-agency sponsored mortgages were $29 million and $75 million, respectively.

Gains recognized on the securitization of U.S. agency-sponsored mortgages were $36 million and $81 million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2016, respectively. For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2016, gains recognized on the securitization of non-agency sponsored mortgages were $37 million and $65 million, respectively.

Key assumptions used in measuring the fair value of retained interests at the date of sale or securitization of mortgage receivables were as follows:

	Three Months Ended September 30, 2017
		Non-agency-sponsored mortgages[1]
	U.S. agency-sponsored mortgages	Senior interests	Subordinated interests

Weighted average life	0.5 to 17.5 years	—

(1) Disclosure of non-agency-sponsored mortgages as senior and subordinated interests is indicative of the interests' position in the capital structure of the securitization.

(2) Anticipated net credit losses represent estimated loss severity associated with defaulted mortgage loans underlying the mortgage securitizations disclosed above. Anticipated net credit losses, in this instance, do not represent total credit losses incurred to date, nor do they represent credit losses expected on retained interests in mortgage securitizations.

NM Anticipated net credit losses are not meaningful due to U.S. agency guarantees.

The interests retained by the Company range from highly rated and/or senior in the capital structure to unrated and/or residual interests.

The key assumptions used to value retained interests, and the sensitivity of the fair value to adverse changes of 10% and 20% in each of the key assumptions, are set forth in the tables below. The negative effect of each change is calculated independently, holding all other assumptions constant. Because the key assumptions may not be independent, the net effect of simultaneous adverse changes in the key assumptions may be less than the sum of the individual effects shown below.

Mortgage Servicing Rights (MSRs)

The fair value of Citi's capitalized MSRs was $553 million and $1.3 billion at September 30, 2017 and 2016, respectively. The MSRs correspond to principal loan balances of $68 billion and $173 billion as of September 30, 2017 and 2016, respectively. The following table summarizes the changes in capitalized MSRs:

The Company receives fees during the course of servicing previously securitized mortgages. The amounts of these fees were as follows:

	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
In millions of dollars	2017	2016	2017	2016

In the Consolidated Statement of Income these fees are primarily classified as Commissions and fees and changes in MSR fair values are classified as Other revenue.

Re-securitizations

The Company engages in re-securitization transactions in which debt securities are transferred to a VIE in exchange for new beneficial interests. Citi did not transfer non-agency (private-label) securities to re-securitization entities during the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 and 2016. These securities are backed by either residential or commercial mortgages and are often structured on behalf of clients.

As of September 30, 2017, the fair value of Citi-retained interests in private-label re-securitization transactions structured by Citi totaled approximately $75 million (all related to re-securitization transactions executed prior to 2017), which has been recorded in Trading account assets. Of this amount, substantially all was related to subordinated beneficial interests. As of December 31, 2016, the fair value of Citi-retained interests in private-label re-securitization transactions structured by Citi totaled approximately $126 million (all related to re-securitization transactions executed prior to 2016). Of this amount, substantially all was related to subordinated beneficial interests. The original par value of private-label re-securitization transactions in which Citi holds a retained interest as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016 was approximately $954 million and $1.3 billion, respectively.

The Company also re-securitizes U.S. government-agency guaranteed mortgage-backed (agency) securities. During the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017, Citi transferred agency securities with a fair value of approximately $9.9 billion and $20.0 billion, respectively, to re-securitization entities compared to approximately $7.1 billion and $21.3 billion for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2016.

As of September 30, 2017, the fair value of Citi-retained interests in agency re-securitization transactions structured by Citi totaled approximately $2.0 billion (including $713 million related to re-securitization transactions executed in 2017) compared to $2.3 billion as of December 31, 2016 (including $741 million related to re-securitization transactions executed in 2016), which is recorded in Trading account assets. The original fair value of agency re-securitization transactions in which Citi holds a retained interest as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016 was approximately $67.6 billion and $71.8 billion, respectively.

As of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, the Company did not consolidate any private-label or agency re-securitization entities.

Citi-Administered Asset-Backed Commercial Paper Conduits

At September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, the commercial paper conduits administered by Citi had approximately $19.3 billion and $19.7 billion of purchased assets outstanding, respectively, and had incremental funding commitments with clients of approximately $14.3 billion and $12.8 billion, respectively.

Substantially all of the funding of the conduits is in the form of short-term commercial paper. At September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, the weighted average remaining lives of the commercial paper issued by the conduits were approximately 53 and 55 days, respectively.

The primary credit enhancement provided to the conduit investors is in the form of transaction-specific credit enhancements described above. In addition to the transaction-specific credit enhancements, the conduits, other than the government guaranteed loan conduit, have obtained a letter of credit from the Company, which is equal to at least 8% to 10% of the conduit's assets with a minimum of $200 million. The letters of credit provided by the Company to the conduits total approximately $1.8 billion as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016. The net result across multi-seller conduits administered by the Company is that, in the event defaulted assets exceed the transaction-specific credit enhancements described above, any losses in each conduit are allocated first to the Company and then the commercial paper investors.

At September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, the Company owned $9.3 billion and $9.7 billion, respectively, of the commercial paper issued by its administered conduits. The Company's investments were not driven by market illiquidity and the Company is not obligated under any agreement to purchase the commercial paper issued by the conduits.

Municipal Securities Tender Option Bond (TOB) Trusts

At September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, approximately $56 million and $82 million, respectively, of the municipal bonds owned by non-customer TOB trusts were subject to a credit guarantee provided by the Company.

At September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, liquidity agreements provided with respect to customer TOB trusts totaled $3.1 billion and $2.9 billion, respectively, of which $2.0 billion and $2.1 billion, respectively, were offset by reimbursement agreements. For the remaining exposure related to TOB transactions, where the residual owned by the customer was at least 25% of the bond value at the inception of the transaction, no reimbursement agreement was executed.

The Company also provides other liquidity agreements or letters of credit to customer-sponsored municipal investment funds, which are not variable interest entities, and municipality-related issuers that totaled $6.1 billion and $7.4 billion as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively. These liquidity agreements and letters of credit are offset by reimbursement agreements with various term-out provisions.

Client Intermediation

The proceeds from new securitizations related to the Company's client intermediation transactions for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 totaled approximately $0.2 billion and $0.9 billion, respectively, compared to $0.5 billion and $1.9 billion for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2016.

19. DERIVATIVES ACTIVITIES

In the ordinary course of business, Citigroup enters into various types of derivative transactions. For additional information regarding Citi's use of and accounting for derivatives, see Note 22 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Information pertaining to Citigroup's derivative activities, based on notional amounts, is presented in the table below. Derivative notional amounts are reference amounts from which contractual payments are derived and do not represent a complete and accurate measure of Citi's exposure to derivative transactions. Rather, Citi's derivative exposure arises primarily from market fluctuations (i.e., market risk), counterparty failure (i.e., credit risk) and/or periods of high volatility or financial stress (i.e., liquidity risk), as well as any market valuation adjustments that may be required on the transactions. Moreover, notional amounts do not reflect the netting of offsetting trades. For example, if Citi enters into a receive-fixed interest rate swap with $100 million notional, and offsets this risk with an identical but opposite pay-fixed position with a different counterparty, $200 million in derivative notionals is reported, although these offsetting positions may result in de minimis overall market risk. Aggregate derivative notional amounts can fluctuate from period to period in the normal course of business based on Citi's market share, levels of client activity and other factors.

(1) The notional amounts presented in this table do not include hedge accounting relationships under ASC 815 where Citigroup is hedging the foreign currency risk of a net investment in a foreign operation by issuing a foreign-currency-denominated debt instrument. The notional amount of such debt was $63 million and $1,825 million at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively.

(2) Derivatives in hedge accounting relationships accounted for under ASC 815 are recorded in either Other assets/Other liabilities or Trading account assets/Trading account liabilities on the Consolidated Balance Sheet.

(3) Management hedges represent derivative instruments used to mitigate certain economic risks, but for which hedge accounting is not applied. These derivatives are recorded in either Other assets/Other liabilities or Trading account assets/Trading account liabilities on the Consolidated Balance Sheet.

(4) Credit derivatives are arrangements designed to allow one party (protection buyer) to transfer the credit risk of a "reference asset" to another party (protection seller). These arrangements allow a protection seller to assume the credit risk associated with the reference asset without directly purchasing that asset. The Company enters into credit derivative positions for purposes such as risk management, yield enhancement, reduction of credit concentrations and diversification of overall risk.

The following tables present the gross and net fair values of the Company’s derivative transactions and the related offsetting amounts as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016. Gross positive fair values are offset against gross negative fair values by counterparty pursuant to enforceable master netting agreements. Under ASC 815-10-45, payables and receivables in respect of cash collateral received from or paid to a given counterparty pursuant to a credit support annex are included in the offsetting amount if a legal opinion supporting the enforceability of netting and collateral rights has been obtained. GAAP does not permit similar offsetting for security collateral.
In addition, the table for September 30, 2017 reflects rule changes adopted by clearing organizations that require or allow entities to elect to treat derivative assets, liabilities and the related variation margin as settlement of the related derivative fair values for legal and accounting purposes, as opposed to presenting gross derivative assets and liabilities that are subject to collateral, whereby the counterparties would record a related collateral payable or receivable. As a result, the table for September 30, 2017 reflects a reduction of approximately $100 billion of derivative assets and derivative liabilities that previously would have been reported on a gross basis, but are now settled and not subject to collateral. The table for December 31, 2016 presents derivative assets and liabilities as gross amounts subject to variation margin collateral that were netted under enforceable master netting agreements. Therefore the net presentation of the affected items on the consolidated balance sheet is consistent for all periods. The tables also present amounts that are not permitted to be offset, such as security collateral or cash collateral posted at third-party custodians, but which would be eligible for offsetting to the extent an event of default occurred and a legal opinion supporting enforceability of the netting and collateral rights has been obtained.

(1) The trading derivatives fair values are presented in Note 20 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(2) Derivative mark-to-market receivables/payables related to management hedges are recorded in either Other assets/Other liabilities or Trading account assets/Trading account liabilities.

(3) Over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives are derivatives executed and settled bilaterally with counterparties without the use of an organized exchange or central clearing house. Cleared derivatives include derivatives executed bilaterally with a counterparty in the OTC market, but then novated to a central clearing house, whereby the central clearing house becomes the counterparty to both of the original counterparties. Exchange traded derivatives include derivatives executed directly on an organized exchange that provides pre-trade price transparency.

(4) The credit derivatives assets comprise $5,076 million related to protection purchased and $18,180 million related to protection sold as of September 30, 2017. The credit derivatives liabilities comprise $20,616 million related to protection purchased and $4,934 million related to protection sold as of September 30, 2017.

(5) For the trading account assets/liabilities, reflects the net amount of the $46,381 million and $53,724 million of gross cash collateral paid and received, respectively. Of the gross cash collateral paid, $32,390 million was used to offset trading derivative liabilities and, of the gross cash collateral received, $37,876 million was used to offset trading derivative assets.

(6) For cash collateral paid with respect to non-trading derivative assets, reflects the net amount of $17 million of gross cash collateral paid, of which $17 million is netted against non-trading derivative positions within Other liabilities. For cash collateral received with respect to non-trading derivative liabilities, reflects the net amount of $1,014 million of gross cash collateral received, of which $1,005 million is netted against non-trading derivative positions within Other assets.

(7) Represents the netting of derivative receivable and payable balances with the same counterparty under enforceable netting agreements. Approximately $301 billion, $15 billion and $9 billion of the netting against trading account asset/liability balances is attributable to each of the OTC, cleared and exchange-traded derivatives, respectively.

(8) Represents the netting of cash collateral paid and received by counterparty under enforceable credit support agreements. Substantially all cash collateral received and paid is netted against OTC derivative assets and liabilities, respectively.

(9) The net receivables/payables include approximately $5 billion of derivative asset and $6 billion of derivative liability fair values not subject to enforceable master netting agreements, respectively.

(1) The trading derivatives fair values are presented in Note 20 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

(2) Derivative mark-to-market receivables/payables related to management hedges are recorded in either Other assets/Other liabilities or Trading account assets/Trading account liabilities.

(3) Over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives are derivatives executed and settled bilaterally with counterparties without the use of an organized exchange or central clearing house. Cleared derivatives include derivatives executed bilaterally with a counterparty in the OTC market, but then novated to a central clearing house, whereby the central clearing house becomes the counterparty to both of the original counterparties. Exchange traded derivatives include derivatives executed directly on an organized exchange that provides pre-trade price transparency.

(4) The credit derivatives trading assets comprise $8,871 million related to protection purchased and $15,744 million related to protection sold as of December 31, 2016. The credit derivatives trading liabilities comprise $16,722 million related to protection purchased and $8,715 million related to protection sold as of December 31, 2016.

(5) For the trading account assets/liabilities, reflects the net amount of the $60,999 million and $61,643 million of gross cash collateral paid and received, respectively. Of the gross cash collateral paid, $49,811 million was used to offset trading derivative liabilities and, of the gross cash collateral received, $45,912 million was used to offset trading derivative assets.

(6) For cash collateral paid with respect to non-trading derivative assets, reflects the net amount of $61 million of gross cash collateral paid, of which $53 million is netted against non-trading derivative positions within Other liabilities. For cash collateral received with respect to non-trading derivative liabilities, reflects the net amount of $1,346 million of gross cash collateral received, of which $1,345 million is netted against OTC non-trading derivative positions within Other assets.

(7) Represents the netting of derivative receivable and payable balances with the same counterparty under enforceable netting agreements. Approximately $383 billion, $128 billion and $8 billion of the netting against trading account asset/liability balances is attributable to each of the OTC, cleared and exchange-traded derivatives, respectively.

(8) Represents the netting of cash collateral paid and received by counterparty under enforceable credit support agreements. Substantially all cash collateral received and paid is netted against OTC derivative assets and liabilities, respectively.

(9) The net receivables/payables include approximately $7 billion of derivative asset and $9 billion of derivative liability fair values not subject to enforceable master netting agreements, respectively.

For the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 and 2016, the amounts recognized in Principal transactions in the Consolidated Statement of Income related to derivatives not designated in a qualifying hedging relationship, as well as the underlying non-derivative instruments, are presented in Note 6 to the Consolidated Financial Statements. Citigroup presents this disclosure by business classification, showing derivative gains and losses related to its trading activities together with gains and losses related to non-derivative instruments within the same trading portfolios, as this represents how these portfolios are risk managed.

The amounts recognized in Other revenue in the Consolidated Statement of Income related to derivatives not designated in a qualifying hedging relationship are shown below. The table below does not include any offsetting gains/losses on the economically hedged items to the extent such amounts are also recorded in Other revenue.

(1) Amounts are included in Other revenue on the Consolidated Statement of Income. The accrued interest income on fair value hedges is recorded in Net interest revenue and is excluded from this table.

(2) Amounts relate to the premium associated with forward contracts (differential between spot and contractual forward rates). These amounts are excluded from the assessment of hedge effectiveness and are reflected directly in earnings.

Cash Flow Hedges

The amount of hedge ineffectiveness on the cash flow hedges recognized in earnings for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 and 2016 is not significant. The pretax change in AOCI from cash flow hedges is presented below:

	Three Months Ended September 30,		Nine Months Ended September 30,
In millions of dollars	2017	2016	2017	2016
Effective portion of cash flow hedges included in AOCI
Interest rate contracts	$ (36)	$ (187)	$ 103	$ 448
Foreign exchange contracts	(7)	(29)	(7)	(26)
Total effective portion of cash flow hedges included in AOCI	$ (43)	$ (216)	$ 96	$ 422
Effective portion of cash flow hedges reclassified from AOCI to earnings
Interest rate contracts	$ (48)	$ (39)	$ (94)	$ (96)
Foreign exchange contracts	(7)	(46)	(8)	(89)
Total effective portion of cash flow hedges reclassified from AOCI to earnings(1)	$ (55)	$ (85)	$ (102)	$ (185)

(1) Included primarily in Other revenue and Net interest revenue on the Consolidated Income Statement.

For cash flow hedges, the changes in the fair value of the hedging derivative remain in AOCI on the Consolidated Balance Sheet and will be included in the earnings of future periods to offset the variability of the hedged cash flows when such cash flows affect earnings. The net gain (loss) associated with cash flow hedges expected to be reclassified from AOCI within 12 months of September 30, 2017 is approximately $(277) million. The maximum length of time over which forecasted cash flows are hedged is 10 years.

The after-tax impact of cash flow hedges on AOCI is shown in Note 17 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

Net Investment Hedges

The pretax gain (loss) recorded in the Foreign currency translation adjustment account within AOCI, related to the effective portion of the net investment hedges, is $(245) million and $(1,993) million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2017 and $(371) million and $(1,791) million for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2016, respectively.

Credit-Risk-Related Contingent Features in Derivatives

Certain derivative instruments contain provisions that require the Company to either post additional collateral or immediately settle any outstanding liability balances upon the occurrence of a specified event related to the credit risk of the Company. These events, which are defined by the existing derivative contracts, are primarily downgrades in the credit ratings of the Company and its affiliates. The fair value (excluding CVA) of all derivative instruments with credit-risk-related contingent features that were in a net liability position at both September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016 was $28 billion and $26 billion, respectively. The Company posted $25 billion and $26 billion as collateral for this exposure in the normal course of business as of September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016, respectively.

A downgrade could trigger additional collateral or cash settlement requirements for the Company and certain affiliates. In the event that Citigroup and Citibank were downgraded a single notch by all three major rating agencies as of September 30, 2017, the Company could be required to post an additional $1.2 billion as either collateral or settlement of the derivative transactions. Additionally, the Company could be required to segregate with third-party custodians collateral previously received from existing derivative counterparties in the amount of $0.3 billion upon the single notch downgrade, resulting in aggregate cash obligations and collateral requirements of approximately $1.5 billion.

Derivatives Accompanied by Financial Asset Transfers

For transfers of financial assets accounted for as a sale by the Company, where the Company has retained substantially all of the economic exposure to the transferred asset through a total return swap executed in contemplation of the initial sale with the same counterparty and still outstanding as of September 30, 2017, both the asset carrying amounts derecognized and gross cash proceeds received as of the date of derecognition were $2.4 billion. At September 30, 2017, the fair value of these previously derecognized assets was $2.4 billion. The fair value of the total return swaps was $28 million, recorded as gross derivative assets, and $47 million, recorded as gross derivative liabilities. The balances for the total return swaps are on a gross basis, before the application of counterparty and cash collateral netting, and are included primarily as equity derivatives in the tabular disclosures in this Note.

20. FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENT

For additional information regarding fair value measurement at Citi, see Note 24 to the Consolidated Financial Statements in Citi's 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K.

Market Valuation Adjustments

The table below summarizes the credit valuation adjustments (CVA) and funding valuation adjustments (FVA) applied to the fair value of derivative instruments at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016:

	Credit and funding valuation adjustments contra-liability (contra-asset)

Items Measured at Fair Value on a Recurring Basis
The following tables present for each of the fair value hierarchy levels the Company’s assets and liabilities that are measured at fair value on a recurring basis at September 30, 2017 and December 31, 2016. The Company may hedge positions that have been classified in the Level 3 category with other financial instruments (hedging instruments) that may be classified as Level 3, but also with financial instruments classified as Level 1 or Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy. The effects of these hedges are presented gross in the following tables:
