Stockholder Letter (unaudited)

May 14, 2010

Dear Stockholders:

It is our pleasure on behalf of the Board of Directors to present the Semi-Annual Report for The Japan Equity Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") for the six months ended April 30, 2010.

Comment

- During the period from November 2009 to April 2010, the NAV of the Fund increased by 9.46% in USD terms. The TOPIX Index ("TOPIX") rose 7.24% over the same period and, as a result, the Fund outperformed the benchmark by 2.22% in USD terms.
 - In JPY terms, the equity portion of the Fund increased 13.59%, while the TOPIX returned 11.43%.
- Relative to the TOPIX, the sector selection effect was +0.75%, while the stock selection contributed +1.41% (see Table 3) to the Fund's return. As shown in Table 4, the major positive contributors to the sector selection effect were the Fund's overweight position in Electrical Appliances and Wholesale Trade and underweight positions in Electric Power & Gas and Air Transportation. The Tokyo market performed well during the period, as a recovery in the global economy proved to be a factor in stock price levels. Accordingly, cyclical stocks outperformed their defensive counterparts.

- Stock selection in Chemicals, Banks and Transport Equipment contributed positively, while selection in Pharmaceuticals and Nonferrous Metals carried a negative impact, albeit a slight one. Major positive contributors for the six-month period were Hitachi, Ltd. ("Hitachi"), Asahi Glass Co., Ltd. and Ricoh Co., Ltd. ("Ricoh"), while Rohto Pharmaceutical Co. ("Rohto Pharmaceutical"), Ltd. and Shimachu Co., Ltd. ("Shimachu") contributed negatively.
- Specifically, Hitachi is likely to post positive net income in the fiscal year ending March 2011, the first time in five years, thanks to the recovery in the global economy. Burgeoning demand for liquid crystal displays ("LCDs") from emerging regions has had a positive impact on Asahi Glass, which manufactures glass used in LCDs. Ricoh, an office equipment manufacturer, has benefitted from improved demand for copiers and printers in developed countries. On the other hand, defensive companies such as Rohto Pharmaceutical and domestic demand-related names like Shimachu performed relatively poorly in the recent market rally, as investors shifted their focus from defensive stocks into cyclical names.

Market Review (November 2009 – April 2010)

In the six-month period from November 2009 to April 2010, the TOPIX returned 11.59% in JPY terms. Although the return for the period was remarkably good, the Tokyo market did not post a single-directional rally, but rather it experienced selling pressure on two separate occasions. The first occurred in November, amid a sharp appreciation in the JPY and a glut of stock offering announcements, while the second, in late January, was prompted by concerns about the U.S. economy and the sovereign debt troubles of Greece and other peripheral European countries. The stock market dipped sharply on each occasion, although it quickly digested these concerns and continued to rise, as the recoveries in corporate earnings and the Japanese economy have remained intact, thanks in part to a stabilization of the JPY/USD exchange rate.

We expect the Tokyo market to experience a bumpy ride over the next several months, as market participants will need to determine whether or not the sustainable growth demonstrated so far by Japanese companies is viable in the long term. Indeed, aggregate net income is expected to nearly double in the fiscal year ending March 2011. Our focus will, thus, shift to corporate earnings in the next fiscal year ending March 2012. However, we remain optimistic regarding the fundamentals of Japanese corporations, and below is a review of this and several other issues currently surrounding the Tokyo market:

1. Bright corporate profit outlook

Earnings announcement season kicked off in late April, and results thus far have been mostly better than expected thanks to both a recovery in demand from emerging countries and the improved profitability of Japanese companies. According to the Nikkei, the aggregate net profit of Japan-listed companies is expected to grow by more than 70% in the year ending March 2011.

2. Retail sector

Market participants' views of Japanese retail stocks have improved lately with the gradual extension of an export-driven recovery. Retailers, which have long struggled with deflationary pressure, are likely to experience a bottoming out of the declining same-store sales trend in the near future, as the Japanese people seem to be getting tired of suppressing their consumption. In addition, government cash handouts for households with children aged 15 and under are slated to commence, which will support the consumption of various goods and services, including clothing and education. At the very least, a segment of the retail sector will benefit from these subsidies.

3. Sovereign debt crisis

A logical conclusion to be drawn from the sovereign debt crisis in Europe is that any economic recovery in European countries will likely lag behind that of other nations, including Asian emerging countries, the United States and Japan. The financial burden from the Greek bailout and indications of further delays in Europe's disengagement from its monetary policy will continue to exert pressure on the euro, and that currency is likely to depreciate against both the USD and JPY going forward. Asian currencies are expected to be the strongest, followed by the USD, the JPY and the euro. A primary concern is the negative impact that a weaker euro may have on Japanese corporate profits, although it should prove less significant than a comparable decline of the USD. In the long term, the Greek sovereign debt crisis will lend momentum to calls for greater fiscal discipline in Japan, despite the fact that the country's status as one of the world's largest creditors implies that it is in no position to face a near-term debt crisis of its own.

4. Chinese credit tightening

Economic growth in China, backed by enormous fiscal stimuli after the Lehman bankruptcy, has fuelled a rapid economic recovery, at least in the Far East. There is reason to worry, at this point, about the potential negative impact of tighter credit in China and, to a lesser extent, in other emerging countries such as India and Brazil. In fact, the Chinese equity market has fallen into a correction, owing to fears of tighter credit. Although there has been a lot of froth in the property markets, the same cannot be said of the Chinese stock market, especially as the Shanghai market stands at roughly half of its October 2007 peak, and is trading at an average P/E ratio of 16. Chinese equities, having recovered quickly from the Lehman bankruptcy, are now experiencing a normal correction, one that can be attributed to the move to tighten credit. Chinese authorities, having studied Japan's mistake of fostering and then bursting bubbles in the late 1980's and early 1990's, will not induce a hard landing for the Chinese economy.

With regard to sector strategy, we remain overweight in cyclical sectors such as Materials, Industrials and Consumer Discretionary, and underweight in defensive sectors such as Utilities, Health Care and Consumer Staples. We will maintain neutral weights in Financials and Telecom, and will continue to focus on the beneficiaries of higher private consumption growth and infrastructure developments in Asia.

Notes to Financial Statements

Organization and Significant Accounting Policies

The Japan Equity Fund, Inc. (the "Fund") was incorporated in Maryland on July 12, 1990 under its former name "The Japan Emerging Equity Fund, Inc." and commenced operations on July 24, 1992. It is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as a closed-end, diversified management investment company.

The following significant accounting policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP") for investment companies. Such policies are consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements in accordance with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Actual reporting results could differ from those estimates.

Valuation of Investments—Securities which are listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange, or listed on the over-the-counter market in Japan, or listed on other exchanges in Japan and for which market quotations are readily available, are valued at the last reported sales price available to the Fund at the close of business on the day the securities are being valued or, lacking any such sales, at the last available bid price. In instances where quotations are not readily available or where the price as determined by the above procedures is deemed not to represent fair market value, fair value will be determined in such manner as the Board of Directors (the "Board") may prescribe. Short-term investments having a maturity of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, except where the Board determines that such valuation does not represent the fair value of the investment. All other securities and assets are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by, or under the direction of, the Board.

Foreign Currency Translation—The books and records of the Fund are maintained in U.S. dollars as follows: (1) the foreign currency market value of investment securities and other assets and liabilities stated in Japanese yen are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the period; and (2) purchases, sales, income and expenses are translated at the rate of exchange prevailing on the respective dates of such transactions. The resulting exchange gains and losses are included in the Statement of Operations. The Fund does not isolate the effect of fluctuations in foreign exchange rates from the effect of fluctuations in the market price of securities. The Fund intends to determine net asset value based on valuations made as of 5:00 p.m. Tokyo time, on each day.

Tax Status—The Fund intends to continue to distribute substantially all of its taxable income and to comply with the minimum distribution and other requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 applicable to regulated investment companies. Accordingly, no provision for federal income taxes is required. The Fund is not aware of any tax position for which it is reasonably possible that the total amount of unrecognized tax benefits will significantly change in the next twelve months. The Fund's federal tax returns for the prior three fiscal years remain subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service.

The Fund is not subject to any Japanese income, capital gains or other taxes except for withholding taxes on certain income, generally imposed at rates of 7% on interest and dividends, paid to the Fund by Japanese corporations.

Investment Transactions and Investment Income—Investment transactions are recorded on the trade date (the date upon which the order to buy or sell is executed). Realized and unrealized gains and losses from security and foreign currency transactions are calculated on the identified cost basis. Dividend income and corporate actions are recorded generally on the ex-date, except for certain dividends and corporate actions from Japanese securities which may be recorded after the ex-date, as soon as the Fund acquires information regarding such dividends or corporate actions. Interest income is recorded on an accrual basis.

Dividends and Distributions to Stockholders—The Fund records dividends and distributions payable to its stockholders on the ex-dividend date. The amount of dividends and distributions from net investment income and net realized capital gains are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from GAAP. These book basis/tax basis ("book/tax") differences are either considered temporary or permanent in nature. To the extent these differences are permanent in nature, such amounts are reclassified within the capital accounts based on their federal tax basis treatment; temporary differences do not require reclassifications. Dividends and distributions which exceed net investment income and net realized capital gains for tax purposes are reported as distributions of paid-in-capital.

Fair Value Measurements—In accordance with the authoritative guidance on fair value measurements and disclosures under GAAP, the Fund discloses the fair value of its investments in a hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure the fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to valuations based upon unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to valuations based upon unobservable inputs that are significant to the valuation (level 3 measurements). The guidance establishes three levels of fair value hierarchy as follows:

Level 1—Inputs that reflect unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access at the measurement date;

Level 2—Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability either directly or indirectly, including inputs in markets that are not considered to be active;

Level 3—Inputs that are unobservable.

A financial instrument's level within the fair value hierarchy is based upon the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. However, the determination of what constitutes "observable" requires significant judgment by Daiwa SB Investments (U.S.A.) Ltd. (the "Manager"). The Manager considers observable data to be market data which is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of April 30, 2010 in valuing the Fund's investments carried at value:

Valuation Inputs	Investments in Securities
Level 1—Quoted Prices	$92,725,627
Level 2—Other Significant Observable Inputs	—
Level 3—Significant Unobservable Inputs	—
Total	$92,725,627

As all assets of the Fund are classified as Level 1, no reconciliation of Level 3 assets as of April 30, 2010 is presented.

All portfolio holdings designated as Level 1 are disclosed individually in the Portfolio of Investments (POI). Please refer to the POI for industry specifics of the portfolio holdings.

Investment Manager and Investment Adviser

The Fund has an Investment Management Agreement with the Manager. Daiwa SB Investments Ltd. ("DSBI" or the "Adviser"), an affiliate of the Manager, acts as the Fund's investment adviser pursuant to an Investment Advisory Agreement between the Manager and DSBI. For such investment services, the Fund is obligated to pay the Manager a monthly fee at an annual rate of 0.60% of the first $20 million, 0.40% of the next $30 million, and 0.20% of the excess over $50 million of the Fund's average weekly net assets, of which 60% of this fee is paid by the Manager to DSBI. In addition, the Fund has agreed to reimburse the Manager and the Adviser for all out-of-pocket expenses related to the Fund. For the six months ended April 30, 2010, no such expenses were paid to the Manager or the Adviser.

At April 30, 2010, the Fund owed $27,045 to both the Manager and the Adviser.

Administrator and Custodian and Other Related Parties

Daiwa Securities Trust Company ("DSTC"), an affiliate of the Adviser, provides certain administrative services to the Fund, for which the Fund pays to DSTC a monthly fee at an annual rate of 0.20% of the first $60 million of the Fund's average weekly net assets, 0.15% of the next $40 million and 0.10% of the excess over $100 million, with a minimum annual fee of $120,000. In addition, as permitted by the Administration Agreement, the Fund reimburses the Administrator for its out-of-pocket expenses related to the Fund. For the six months ended April 30, 2010, no such expenses were paid to the Administrator.

The Board of Directors of the Fund has also approved the payment of the administrative compliance expense for the Fund in the amount of $75,000 per annum to DSTC, for services provided by DSTC staff in implementing the Fund's compliance management system and the Fund's compliance review program. DSTC also acts as custodian for the Fund's assets and has appointed Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation (the "Sub-Custodian"), an indirect affiliate of the Manager, to act as the sub-custodian for all of the cash and securities of the Fund held in Japan.
