Item 1.01 Entry into Material Definitive Agreements

On January 8, 2014, Socket Mobile, Inc. (the “Company”) accepted terms of a revolving credit line with Bridge Bank, National Association to replace a similar agreement with Silicon Valley Bank. The Silicon Valley Bank agreement was initially reported in a Form 8-K dated October 12, 2011 with an initial expiration date of October 12, 2013. The Company further reported in a Form 8-K dated October 15, 2013 an extension of the expiration date of the Silicon Valley Bank line agreement to January 10, 2014. These Form 8-K’s are incorporated by reference. Silicon Valley Bank has agreed to further extend the current line until the earlier of the activation of the Bridge Bank revolving credit line or February 28, 2014.

The proposed terms of the revolving credit line with Bridge Bank are similar to the terms of the Silicon Valley Bank agreement. The Company may borrow up to $2.5 million, of which up to $1.5 million is based on qualified receivables from domestic (U.S. based) customers and up to $1.0 million is based on qualified receivables from international customers. The international portion of the line will include certain accounts receivable guarantees from the EXIM Bank. The proposed agreement will be for a two year period and will contain customary representations, warranties and covenants. The Company’s total borrowings under the line may not exceed 50% of the sum of cash plus qualified receivables. Activation of the Bridge Bank line is subject to completion of an audit of the Company’s receivables by Bridge Bank, approval by EXIM Bank of their guarantees, transfer of first security position in the Company’s assets, including intellectual property, from Silicon Valley Bank to Bridge Bank, and completion of loan and security agreements.
