On June 26, 2013, Southeastern Asset Management, Inc. (“Southeastern”) provided the following letter to the Dell Inc. (“Dell”) stockholders, in connection with Southeastern’s filing of a joint definitive proxy statement:

June 26, 2013

Dear Fellow Dell Stockholder:

You may have received proxy materials soliciting your vote for a proposed transaction in which Dell would be taken private at $13.65 per share in a management buyout sponsored by Michael Dell and his partner, a private equity firm called Silver Lake Partners. Carl C. Icahn (“Icahn”) beneficially owns approximately 8.7% of the outstanding shares of Dell and Southeastern Asset Management, Inc. (“Southeastern”) beneficially owns approximately 4.1% of the outstanding shares of Dell, making us two of the largest independent investors in Dell, beneficially owning a combined 12.8% of Dell’s common stock.

Icahn and Southeastern urge you to vote the enclosed GOLD proxy card (1) “AGAINST” the Merger Agreement proposal, (2) “AGAINST” the Golden Parachute proposal, and (3) “AGAINST” the Adjournment proposal.

Evercore Partners, the advisor to the Board’s Special Committee, has reported to the board of Dell that, based on projections by the Boston Consulting Group, the advisor to Dell, Silver Lake could realize an average annualized rate of return of up to 44.7% and Michael Dell could realize an average annualized rate of return of up to 50.1%¹ during the next 4 to 5 years on their investment in the Michael Dell/Silver Lake take-private transaction now presented for stockholder consideration and action at the special meeting of Dell stockholders on July 18.

In light of the Boston Consulting Group projections and Evercore estimates, Icahn and Southeastern believe the board of directors of Dell should have acted to secure those gains for stockholders. Instead, Dell agreed to a break-up fee of up to $450 million and a protective Merger Agreement for the Michael Dell/Silver Lake transaction, which have the effect of dampening third-party interest in Dell and which Icahn and Southeastern view as highly inappropriate under the circumstances.

Icahn and Southeastern believe that it would be a sad outcome for stockholders and would reflect poorly on all who are involved in this process if, after purchasing shares at what Icahn and Southeastern perceive to be a substantially undervalued price, Michael Dell and Silver Lake earned Evercore’s estimated returns on their investment and that it would be even worse if Dell were sold (or broken up) by Michael Dell and Silver Lake in a transaction or transactions with one or more strategic acquirers in the near future and for a very large profit.

Icahn and Southeastern believe the board could have done more - much more - to afford stockholders an opportunity to achieve the very same gains now pursued by Michael Dell and Silver Lake. However, Dell instead appears to be engaging in a campaign to highlight Dell’s bleak outlook in the PC market, obscuring the robust performance and future of the ~$13 billion in acquisitions Dell has made in recent years, which were paid for by Dell’s current owners. Icahn and Southeastern believe that Dell is conducting this campaign to prompt stockholders into supporting what Icahn and Southeastern believe is a bad deal for stockholders and a very good deal for Michael Dell and Silver Lake.

Edgar Filing: DELL INC - Form DFAN14A

It is interesting to note that, in the recent past, rather than emphasize the negatives of the PC business, Dell has highlighted the strengths of the Enterprise Solutions business - accelerated growth, strong margins, and recurring revenues. We look forward to the results of the discovery in the current stockholder action against Dell to better understand the financial outlook that Michael Dell/Silver Lake are sharing with lenders in comparison to the dire picture they are now painting for stockholders.

1 Evercore Partners 2/4/13 presentation to the Dell board of directors.

Icahn and Southeastern believe that Dell's owners deserve better and can achieve more by voting against the Michael Dell/Silver Lake transaction and by subsequently electing new directors who will act to secure for stockholders the very same gains that Michael Dell and Silver Lake hope to lock in for themselves.

Icahn and Southeastern urge you to vote AGAINST all proposals at the Special Meeting.

Whether or not you plan to attend the Special Meeting, you are urged to follow the instructions on the enclosed GOLD proxy card or voting instruction form to vote by Internet or telephone, or sign, mark and date the enclosed GOLD proxy card and return it in the postage-paid envelope provided. Your latest-dated proxy is the only one that counts, so you may return the GOLD proxy card even if you have already delivered another proxy. Please do not return any proxy card sent to you by Dell. If you have already returned a proxy card sent to you by Dell, that card will be automatically revoked if you complete and return the enclosed GOLD proxy card.

If you have any questions concerning the Proxy Statement or would like additional copies, please contact D.F. King & Co., Inc. at 1-800-347-4750 or dell@dfking.com.

Sincerely,

/s/ Carl C. Icahn
