As previously disclosed in the definitive proxy statement (Proxy Statement) filed by Phoenix Technologies Ltd. (Phoenix) on September 22, 2010 relating to the proposed merger between Phoenix and affiliates of Marlin Capital Partners (Marlin), on August 25, 2010, Phoenix received an unsolicited non-binding proposal from a third party (Competing Bidder) to acquire all of the securities of Phoenix for a cash consideration of $150 million. The non-binding proposal was subject to satisfactory completion of due diligence by the Competing Bidder and the negotiation of definitive agreements. After an extensive diligence review by the Competing Bidder, the financial advisor to Phoenix's board of directors, RBC Capital Markets Corporation (RBC), requested that the Competing Bidder submit a definitive offer to Phoenix on or prior to September 20, 2010. On September 20, 2010, the Competing Bidder advised RBC and Phoenix that it was not able to make a definitive offer until it completed its diligence review, and the Competing Bidder estimated that such diligence review would likely be completed by the end of September 2010.

In order to facilitate the Competing Bidder's completion of its diligence review, Phoenix provided additional, comprehensive information relating to its business and operations, and responded to all of the Competing Bidder's requests to provide additional diligence materials. Following the Competing Bidder's notification to Phoenix that it completed its diligence review, RBC again requested that the Competing Bidder submit a definitive offer to acquire the securities of Phoenix. As of the date hereof, the Competing Bidder has not submitted a definitive offer or a revised proposal.

There is no assurance that the Competing Bidder will make a definitive proposal or that a definitive agreement with the Competing Bidder will be executed. As permitted under its merger agreement with Marlin, the Phoenix board of directors may consider any proposals it receives prior to the time of the special stockholders' meeting, which is scheduled for October 25, 2010.

Phoenix is continuing to comply with its obligations under its merger agreement with Marlin, which remains in effect. As indicated in the Proxy Statement, the board of directors has approved the merger with Marlin and continues to support its recommendation that Phoenix's stockholders adopt the merger agreement and approve the merger with Marlin at Phoenix's special meeting of stockholders.

Important Additional Information About the Merger and Where You Can Find It.
