Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of Exelon Corporation (Exelon) held on May 8, 2007, the term of Edgar D. Jannotta as a director of Exelon expired and he retired from the board. In addition, Richard L. Thomas and Ronald Rubin retired from the board under the terms of the Board's retirement policy.

At the annual meeting of shareholders, Don Thompson was elected as a Class I director to serve a three-year term ending in 2010. Mr. Thompson was appointed to the Energy Delivery Oversight and Generation Oversight committees. Stephen D. Steinour was elected as a Class III director to serve a two-year term ending in 2009.

Mr. Steinour was appointed to the Audit, Compensation and Generation Oversight committees.

As previously disclosed, on December 4, 2006 the Compensation Committee amended the Exelon Corporation Deferred Compensation Plan to allow participants to elect during 2006 to receive a distribution of their account balances in a lump sum in the third quarter of 2007, in a lump sum upon termination of employment prior to eligibility for retirement, or in a lump sum or annual installments upon retirement. On May 8, 2007 the Board approved a further amendment to the plan to provide that if a participant in the plan is an Executive Vice President or above and has achieved 200% of the officer's stock ownership requirement and elected to receive a lump sum distribution in 2008, the participant may elect to receive the lump sum distribution in 2008 in one of the following forms: 100% in stock, 100% in cash, or 75% in cash and 25% in stock.

On May 8, 2007, the Exelon board approved an amendment to Exelon's corporate governance principles concerning the recoupment of certain incentive compensation paid to executive officers in the event of a restatement of financial results resulting from fraud or intentional misconduct. The policy states that in the event that an executive officer's fraud or intentional misconduct causes a material misstatement, the Exelon board will seek to recoup previously paid incentive compensation that would not have been paid to that executive officer but for the restatement. Under the policy the Board would have the discretion to determine whether the conditions have been satisfied and whether recoupment would be in the best interests of Exelon and its shareholders. The revised corporate governance principles will be posted on Exelon's website, www.exeloncorp.com, on the Corporate Governance tab of the Investor Relations page.

Item 5.03 Amendments to Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws; Change in Fiscal Year.

On May 8, 2007, at Exelon's annual meeting of shareholders, the shareholders adopted amendments to the articles of incorporation to provide for the annual election of directors. Conforming amendments to Exelon's bylaws previously approved by the board took effect concurrently with the shareholders' approval of the amendments to the articles of incorporation. The text of the amendments to the articles of incorporation and the bylaws was included in the proxy statement for the annual meeting.

Item 8.01 Other Events.

On May 8, 2007 Exelon conducted its annual meeting of shareholders. All of the nominees for director received a majority of the votes cast and were elected, consistent with the majority voting provisions of Exelon's bylaws. The appointment of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLC as Exelon's independent accountants was approved with over 98% of the votes cast. The amendments to the articles of incorporation to provide for the annual election of directors were approved with over 97% of the votes cast. The shareholder proposal regarding severance benefits was not approved, receiving approximately 35.2% of the votes cast. The exact results of the voting at the meeting were as follows:
