Item 8.01. Other Events.

As previously disclosed, in April 2015, Shuffle Tech International, LLC, Aces Up Gaming, Inc. and Poydras-Talrick Holdings LLC brought a civil action in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois against Scientific Games Corporation (the “Company”), Bally Technologies, Inc., and Bally Gaming, Inc., alleging monopolization of the market for card shufflers in violation of federal antitrust laws, fraudulent procurement of patents on card shufflers, unfair competition and deceptive trade practices. Specifically, the plaintiffs claimed that the defendants used certain shuffler patents in a predatory manner to create and maintain a monopoly in the relevant shuffler market. In October 2015, the district court dismissed all of the plaintiffs’ claims with prejudice, except for the claims of violation of antitrust laws related to the fraudulent procurement of patents on card shufflers. A jury trial began on July 16, 2018 and ended on August 7, 2018.

On August 7, 2018, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiffs. The jury awarded plaintiffs $105 million in compensatory damages, which is subject to trebling, as well as attorneys fees and costs. The Company believes the jury reached the wrong result and will seek review of both the finding of liability and the damages award, both before the trial court and, if necessary, on appeal.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward Looking Statements

This Report includes “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements describe future expectations, plans, results or strategies and can often be identified by the use of terminology such as “may,” “will,” “estimate,” “intend,” “believe,” “should,” “could,” or similar terminology. These statements are based upon management’s current expectations, beliefs, assumptions and estimates and are not guarantees of timing, future results or performance. Similarly, statements herein that describe the Shuffle Tech verdict and the next stages of the matter are forward-looking statements. We caution readers that they should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which reflect management’s opinion only as of the date on which they were made.
