February 20, 2019

Dear Colleagues,

I wanted to provide you with an update as we continue to make good progress on our proposed acquisition of Celgene.

Today we filed an amended preliminary registration statement and joint proxy statement. We anticipate that we will file definitive proxy materials in short order and follow with a mailing of the document to shareholders. We will then begin the process of soliciting votes in favor of the transaction at a special meeting of shareholders scheduled for April 12, 2019. As I've mentioned, approval of the transaction by shareholders of both Bristol-Myers Squibb and Celgene is a condition to closing the transaction. As we continue our ongoing engagement with shareholders, we also filed an updated investor presentation on the transaction to supplement these conversations.

Consistent with a deal of this size, we continue to work diligently with government agencies to obtain regulatory approval in relevant jurisdictions. To facilitate ongoing discussions in the U.S., we implemented what is known as a 'pull-and-refile' of our antitrust filing (also called Hart-Scott-Rodino, or HSR filing). This is a common step in the regulatory review process, and it will not impact our momentum in completing the transaction. As stated previously, we expect the transaction to close in the third quarter of 2019.

We should all be proud of where we are today and the very exciting opportunities we have ahead to create the leading biopharma company. I am confident we are taking an important step to be able to deliver more innovative medicines to more patients who are waiting for new and better treatment options.

Thank you for your continued hard work and dedication to Bristol-Myers Squibb.

Sincerely,

Giovanni
