DCC upgrades to Gilat's SkyEdge platform

Company to release third quarter earnings report on November 14, 2005

Petah Tikva, Israel, November 7, 2005 Gilat Satellite Networks, Ltd. (NASDAQ: GILTF) today announced DCC Satellite Networks Ltd. of Nigeria has acquired Gilat's SkyEdge hub and VSATs. The network is already deployed and fully operational with a shared hub in Lagos and VSATs located throughout Nigeria. This system enables DCC to provide broadband services to enterprise, governmental and SME users and offer a variety of service packages tailored to specific customers, such as banks, oil companies and retail distributors.

Executive Director of DCC, Mr. Phillip Obioha, said Gilat's SkyEdge hub and VSATs provides us with the ability to present new and enhanced services, not available in other platforms, such as mesh IP data, toll quality voice, VOIP, advanced VPN offerings with embedded acceleration and optimized GSM backhaul connectivity. Having all this in one system enabled us to offer multiple services on a single platform, thus simplifying operations.

Obioha added, We have been working with Gilat equipment since 1998 and due to the excellent track record with both their products and support, we have chosen Gilat once again.

Janna Koretskaya, Gilat's Regional Vice President for Africa, said We are proud to be chosen once again by DCC in providing our SkyEdge platform. DCC is an important Gilat partner in Nigeria and we look forward to strengthening this cooperation.

Koretskaya added, Gilat views Africa as one of the main regions containing the highest growth for VSAT systems. The SkyEdge platform is perfectly suited for the needs in this area, enabling a wide range of applications, network topologies and services.
