Item 8.01 Other Events

American Airlines, Inc. (American), AMR Corporation's principal subsidiary, announced today that it has reached an agreement with Sabre to continue providing travel agencies with access to the same full fare and schedule content that they currently receive from American via the Sabre Global Distribution System. The agreement is effective immediately and remains in effect until 14 days after American's antitrust claims now pending against Sabre in Texas state court have been resolved. No trial date in that lawsuit has yet been set, but American expects that those legal proceedings could last well into 2012. In addition, American intends to continue to work with Sabre to define the basis of their future relationship.

Statements in this report contain various forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, which represent the Company's expectations or beliefs concerning future events. When used in this report, the words "expects," "estimates," "plans," "anticipates," "indicates," "believes," "forecast," "guidance," "outlook," "may," "will," "should," "s" similar expressions are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Similarly, statements that describe our objectives, plans or goals, or actions we may take in the future, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements include, without limitation, statements regarding the Company's intentions and expectations regarding acquisitions and financings of aircraft, and the benefits to the Company thereof. All forward-looking statements in this report are based upon information available to the Company on the date of this report. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events, or otherwise. Forward-looking statements are subject to a number of factors that could cause the Company's actual results to differ materially from the Company's expectations. Additional information concerning these and other factors is contained in the Company's Securities and Exchange Commission filings, including but not limited to the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended Dec. 31, 2010 and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2011.
