Dear Fellow Shareholder:

During the past several months, Putnam has introduced a number of reforms for the benefit of shareholders, including increasing the amount of disclosure for our funds. We are now including additional information about your fund's management team. Following the Outlook for Your Fund, we list any changes in your fund's Portfolio Leader and Portfolio Members during the prior year period, as well as the current Portfolio Leader's and Portfolio Members' other fund management responsibilities at Putnam. We also show how much these individuals have invested in the fund (in dollar ranges). Fund ownership (in dollar ranges) is also being shown for the members of Putnam's Executive Board.

We are also pleased to announce that three new Trustees have joined your fund's Board of Trustees. Nominated by your fund's independent Trustees, these individuals have had outstanding careers as leaders in the investment management industry. Myra R. Drucker is a Vice Chair of the Board of Trustees of Sarah Lawrence College and serves as Chair of the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) Pension Managers Advisory Committee and as a Trustee of Commonfund, a not-for-profit asset management firm. Richard B. Worley is Managing Partner of Permit Capital LLC, an investment management firm. Both Ms. Drucker and Mr. Worley are independent Trustees (i.e., Trustees who are not "interested persons" of your fund or its investment advisor). Charles E. Haldeman, Jr., the third new Trustee, is President and Chief Executive Officer of Putnam Investments.

During the period covered by the following report, Putnam Managed High Yield Trust delivered respectable results. In the following pages, the fund managers discuss fund performance, strategy, and their outlook for fiscal 2005.

Report from Fund Management

Fund highlights

- * For the six months ended November 30, 2004, Putnam Managed High Yield Trust had total returns of 9.27% at net asset value (NAV) and 9.87% at market price.
- * The fund's primary benchmark, the JP Morgan Developed High Yield Index, returned 8.75% for the same period.
- * The average return for the fund's Lipper category, High Current Yield Funds (closed-end), was 9.91%.
- * The fund's monthly dividend was reduced to $0.049 per share, effective December 2004. See page 5 for more information.
- * See the Performance Summary beginning on page 9 for complete fund performance, comparative performance, and Lipper data.

Performance commentary

During the past six months, your fund benefited from a continuation of the positive environment for high-yield bonds that has existed for the past several years. As the period began, the bond market as a whole was volatile due to reports of stronger growth and the increased likelihood that the Federal Reserve Board would raise interest rates. However, as the period progressed, high-yield bonds led the market. Fund management's successful security selection and emphasis on the strong-performing, lower-quality portion of the market enabled the fund to outperform its benchmark index. Although the fund underperformed its Lipper peer group average, comparisons in this category can be misleading because it contains only eight funds, some of which use leverage to boost returns. It is important to note that a fund's performance at market price may differ from its results at NAV. Although market price performance generally reflects investment results, it may also be influenced by several other factors, including changes in investment or perceptions of the fund or its investment advisor, market conditions, fluctuations in supply and demand for the fund's shares, and changes in fund distributions.

FUND PROFILE

Putnam Managed High Yield Trust seeks high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital growth, by investing in corporate high-yield bonds. The fund is designed for investors seeking higher fixed-income returns and who are willing to accept the added risks of investing in below-investment-grade bonds.

Market overview

Over the past six months, high-yield bonds benefited from continued economic growth and declining default rates. The economy's strength was not always apparent, however, and stock and bond investors tended to overreact to economic news both positively and negatively. The high-yield market's strong performance has reflected investors' generally positive assessment of the creditworthiness of high-yield issuers. After default rates peaked in January 2002, overall credit quality for high-yield bonds steadily improved. This improved quality has been illustrated by the continued narrowing in the credit yield spread, which is the yield difference between high-yield bonds and Treasuries.

The fund's fiscal year began on a difficult note, as strong employment gains in the prior month caused a sharp sell-off in all sectors of the bond market, including high yield. Bond investors soon regained their optimism, however, and yields across the board began a steady decline that lasted through the end of the period. High-yield bonds were particularly appealing to investors because of the higher income they pay, and the continued financial improvement among many issuers. Demand for high-yield bonds remained strong throughout the period, driven both by money coming into the market as well as by reinvestment needs created by bonds being called, tendered, and upgraded. New issuance, while active, was not able to fully satisfy the demand for high-yield bonds.

Strategy overview

During the six-month period, we continued to seek bonds from a variety of sectors in our efforts to enhance the fund's performance while managing its risk exposure. Throughout much of fiscal 2003, we had increased the fund's holdings of bonds that were in the lower-quality portion of the market -- namely, those with CCC ratings. However, although the fund remains overweighted in these securities relative to its benchmark index, we have reduced this overweight because prices had increased significantly. This reduction process began during the summer months and continued through period-end.

Our allocation to the lower-rated portion of the market has provided significant benefits to the fund. First, with the strengthening of the economy, companies that issued lower-quality bonds were seeing improvements in their businesses, reducing the risk that they would be unable to make interest payments on their debt. As the business prospects and financial results of these companies have improved with the growing economy, their bonds have appreciated in price. Secondly, with interest rates in the high-yield market having declined over the past several years, we felt that the higher yields provided by the lower-rated segment of the market would attract investors, bolster demand for these securities, and contribute strongly to overall returns -- which, in fact, is what occurred during the period. Finally, higher-yielding, lower-quality bonds are typically less sensitive to interest-rate changes, which we feel positions the fund appropriately for any potential sharp rate increases in the future.

How fund holdings affected performance

As part of our team approach to managing the portfolio, we employed significant research resources to find bonds that we believed would add as much value as possible, while remaining mindful of credit risk. In the utilities and power sector, which generally performed well for the fund as the sector continued to recover from its previous overexpansion, securities issued by Edison Mission Energy, a subsidiary of Edison International, were among the fund's strongest performers. Edison, which owns California's second-largest electric utility, Southern California Edison, also owns Edison Mission Energy. After poor performance in 2002, the company sold assets and shored up its balance sheet, which drove strong returns for a number of Edison Mission securities. El Paso Corporation, a pipeline and exploration and production company, made a positive contribution. Finally, Williams Companies, a large natural gas company serving the northwestern United States, California, Rocky Mountain, Gulf Coast, and Eastern Seaboard markets, performed well on significant increases in natural gas prices. The company also benefited from management's focus on balance sheet improvements, which involved focusing on core pipeline business, selling nonproductive assets, and paying down debt. In the communications services sector, which experienced a recovery, Qwest Communications performed well. Qwest, which owns U.S. West, benefited from increases in DSL subscriptions and successful cost-cutting efforts.

Footnote reads:

The fund's holdings will change over time.

Among the detractors from performance during the period were securities issued by Icon Health & Fitness, which manufactures equipment for the fitness industry, and Paxson Communications, a large broadcast television station group and owner of PAX TV, a television channel that reaches households via broadcast, cable, and satellite networks. Icon had disappointing financial results due to higher steel costs and weak sales in some product lines, while Paxson had poor results as hoped-for asset sales did not transpire. We continue to hold Icon and Paxson because we believed as of the end of the period that the holdings were appropriately valued.

Please note that all holdings discussed in this report are subject to review in accordance with the fund's investment strategy and may vary in the future.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST

Within the high-yield universe, yields are 120 basis points lower than a year ago. As a result, your fund's monthly dividend was reduced, effective with the December 2004 payment, from $0.054 per share to $0.049 per share. Putnam Managed High Yield Trust has paid a consistently strong dividend. This adjustment keeps the fund in line with yields on other similar funds, as the portfolio tries to balance yield with overall credit quality.

The outlook for your fund

The following commentary reflects anticipated developments that could affect your fund over the next six months, as well as your management team's plans for responding to them.

The fund's returns during the past six months remained significantly higher than the historical averages for the high-yield market. Economic conditions, though somewhat variable over the past year, have remained generally favorable, with low inflation and moderate growth. While this positive environment could continue into 2005, we have become more cautious for several reasons. First, we believe the high cost of energy, driven at least in part by geopolitical turmoil, may act like a tax on both businesses and consumers, reducing the incentive and the ability for both to continue spending. Additionally, performance has been strong for high-yield bonds for the past few years and, as a result, yields are relatively low (because bond yields move in the opposite direction of bond prices). Moreover, credit yield spreads -- the difference between lower- and higher-quality bond yields -- have narrowed a great deal, and this narrowing is another sign that the market may be close to being fully valued. We therefore believe it is unlikely that high-yield bond prices will move significantly higher (and yields lower) from their current levels. We also feel that default rates will likely reach a trough in 2005, which will probably slow the momentum that high-yield bonds have enjoyed over the past few years. That being said, we do not foresee difficult times ahead for this sector in the coming year, as companies remain healthy and cash flows strong. As always, we will monitor economic and market events and make adjustments to the portfolio that we deem necessary.

The views expressed in this report are exclusively those of Putnam Management. They are not meant as investment advice. Mutual funds that invest in bonds are subject to certain risks, including interest-rate risk, credit risk, and inflation risk. As interest rates rise, the prices of bonds fall. Long-term bonds are more exposed to interest-rate risk than short-term bonds. Unlike bonds, bond funds have ongoing fees and expenses. Lower-rated bonds may offer higher yields in return for more risk.

Notes to financial statements
November 30, 2004 (Unaudited)

Note 1
Significant accounting policies

Putnam Managed High Yield Trust (the "fund"), a Massachusetts business trust, is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The fund's primary investment objective is to seek high current income. The fund intends to achieve its objective by investing in high yielding income securities. The fund invests in higher yielding, lower rated bonds that have a higher rate of default due to the nature of the investments.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The preparation of financial statements is in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in net assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

A) Security valuation Market quotations are not considered to be readily available for certain debt obligations; such investments are valued at fair value on the basis of valuations furnished by an independent pricing service or dealers, approved by the Trustees. Such services or dealers determine valuations for normal institutional-size trading units of such securities using methods based on market transactions for comparable securities and various relationships, generally recognized by institutional traders, between securities. Many securities markets and exchanges outside the U.S. close prior to the close of the New York Stock Exchange and therefore the closing prices for securities in such markets or on such exchanges may not fully reflect events that occur after such close but before the close of the New York Stock Exchange. Accordingly, on certain days, the fund will fair value foreign securities taking into account multiple factors, including movements in the U.S. securities markets. The number of days on which fair value prices will be used will depend on market activity and it is possible that fair value prices will be used by the fund to a significant extent. Securities quoted in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the current exchange rate. Short-term investments having remaining maturities of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates fair value. Other investments, including restricted securities, are valued at fair value following procedures approved by the Trustees. Such valuations and procedures are reviewed periodically by the Trustees.

B) Joint trading account Pursuant to an Exemptive Order from the Securities and Exchange Commission, the fund may transfer uninvested cash balances, including cash collateral received under security lending arrangements, into a joint trading account along with the cash of other registered investment companies and certain other accounts managed by Putnam Investment Management, LLC ("Putnam Management"), the fund's manager, an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of Putnam, LLC. These balances may be invested in issuers of high-grade short-term investments having maturities of up to 397 days for collateral received under security lending arrangements and up to 90 days for other cash investments.

C) Security transactions and related investment income Security transactions are recorded on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Gains or losses on securities sold are determined on the identified cost basis.

Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. Dividend income, net of applicable withholding taxes, is recognized on the ex-dividend date except that certain dividends from foreign securities are recognized as soon as the fund is informed of the ex-dividend date. Non-cash dividends, if any, are recorded at the fair market value of the securities received. All premiums/discounts are amortized/ accreted on a yield-to-maturity basis.

The fund earned certain fees in connection with its senior loan purchasing activities. These fees are treated as market discount and are recorded as income in the statement of operations.

D) Foreign currency translation The accounting records of the fund are maintained in U.S. dollars. The market value of foreign securities, currency holdings, and other assets and liabilities are recorded in the books and records of the fund after translation to U.S. dollars based on the exchange rates on that day. The cost of each security is determined using historical exchange rates. Income and withholding taxes are translated at prevailing exchange rates when earned or incurred. The fund does not isolate that portion of realized or unrealized gains or losses resulting from changes in the foreign exchange rate on investments from fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of the securities. Such gains and losses are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss on investments. Net realized gains and losses on foreign currency transactions represent net realized exchange gains or losses on closed forward currency contracts, disposition of foreign currencies, currency gains and losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions and the difference between the amount of investment income and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized appreciation and depreciation of assets and liabilities in foreign currencies arise from changes in the value of open forward currency contracts and assets and liabilities other than investments at the period end, resulting from changes in the exchange rate. Investments in foreign securities involve certain risks, including those related to economic instability, unfavorable political developments, and currency fluctuations, not present with domestic investments.

E) Forward currency contracts The fund may buy and sell forward currency contracts, which are agreements between two parties to buy and sell currencies at a set price on a future date. These contracts are used to protect against a decline in value relative to the U.S. dollar of the currencies in which its portfolio securities are denominated or quoted (or an increase in the value of a currency in which securities a fund intends to buy are denominated, when a fund holds cash reserves and short term investments). The U.S. dollar value of forward currency contracts is determined using current forward currency exchange rates supplied by a quotation service. The market value of the contract will fluctuate with changes in currency exchange rates. The contract is marked to market daily and the change in market value is recorded as an unrealized gain or loss. When the contract is closed, the fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. The fund could be exposed to risk if the value of the currency changes unfavorably, if the counterparties to the contracts are unable to meet the terms of their contracts or if the fund is unable to enter into a closing position. Risks may exceed amounts recognized on the statement of assets and liabilities. Forward currency contracts outstanding at period end, if any, are listed after the fund's portfolio.

F) Credit default contracts The fund may enter into credit default contracts where one party, the protection buyer, makes an upfront or periodic payment to a counterparty, the protection seller, in exchange for the right to receive a contingent payment. The maximum amount of the payment may equal the notional amount, at par, of the underlying index or security as a result of a related credit event. An upfront payment received by the fund, as the protection seller, is recorded as a liability on the fund's books. An upfront payment made by the fund, as the protection buyer, is recorded as an asset on the fund's books. Periodic payments received or paid by the fund are recorded as realized gains or losses. The credit default contracts are marked-to-market daily based upon quotations from market makers and the change, if any, is recorded as unrealized gain or loss. Payments received or made as a result of a credit event or termination of the contract are recognized, net of a proportional amount of the upfront payment, as realized gains or losses. In addition to bearing the risk that the credit event will occur, the fund could be exposed to market risk due to unfavorable changes in interest rates or in the price of the underlying security or index, the possibility that the fund may be unable to close out its position at the same time or at the same price as if it had purchased comparable publicly traded securities or that the counterparty may default on its obligation to perform. Risks of loss may exceed amounts recognized on the statement of assets and liabilities. Credit default contracts outstanding at period end, if any, are listed after the fund's portfolio.

G) Security lending The fund may lend securities, through its agents, to qualified borrowers in order to earn additional income. The loans are collateralized by cash and/or securities in an amount at least equal to the market value of the securities loaned. The market value of securities loaned is determined daily and any additional required collateral is allocated to the fund on the next business day. The risk of borrower default will be borne by the fund's agents; the fund will bear the risk of loss with respect to the investment of the cash collateral. Income from securities lending is included in investment income on the statement of operations. At November 30, 2004, the value of securities loaned amounted to $383,185. The fund received cash collateral of $393,449 which is pooled with collateral of other Putnam funds into 20 issuers of high-grade short-term investments.

H) Federal taxes It is the policy of the fund to distribute all of its taxable income within the prescribed time and otherwise comply with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code") applicable to regulated investment companies. It is also the intention of the fund to distribute an amount sufficient to avoid imposition of any excise tax under Section 4982 of the Code, as amended. Therefore, no provision has been made for federal taxes on income, capital gains or unrealized appreciation on securities held nor for excise tax on income and capital gains.

At May 31, 2004, the fund had a capital loss carryover of $32,039,053 available to the extent allowed by the Code to offset future net capital gain, if any. The amount of the carryover and the expiration dates are:

Loss Carryover	Expiration
$2,584,483	May 31, 2007
4,168,119	May 31, 2008
3,778,275	May 31, 2009
8,384,999	May 31, 2010
11,264,568	May 31, 2011
1,858,609	May 31, 2012

Pursuant to federal income tax regulations applicable to regulated investment companies, the fund has elected to defer to its fiscal year ending May 31, 2005 $1,145,185 of losses recognized during the period November 1, 2003 to May 31, 2004.

The aggregate identified cost on a tax basis is $70,917,779, resulting in gross unrealized appreciation and depreciation of $4,266,290 and $5,443,198, respectively, or net unrealized depreciation of $1,176,908.

I) Distributions to shareholders Distributions to shareholders from net investment income are recorded by the fund on the ex-dividend date. Distributions from capital gains, if any, are recorded on the ex-dividend date and paid at least annually. The amount and character of income and gains to be distributed are determined in accordance with income tax regulations, which may differ from generally accepted accounting principles. Reclassifications are made to the fund's capital accounts to reflect income and gains available for distribution (or available capital loss carryovers) under income tax regulations.

Note 2

Management fee, administrative services and other transactions

Putnam Management is paid for management and investment advisory services quarterly based on the average net assets of the fund. Such fee is based on 0.75% of the average weekly net assets.

Effective September 13, 2004, Putnam Investments Limited ("PIL"), an affiliate of Putnam Management is authorized by the Trustees to manage a separate portion of the assets of the fund as determined by Putnam Management from time to time. Putnam Management pays a quarterly sub-management fee to PIL for its services at an annual rate of 0.40% of the average net assets of the portion of the fund managed by PIL.

The fund reimburses Putnam Management an allocated amount for the compensation and related expenses of certain officers of the fund and their staff who provide administrative services to the fund. The aggregate amount of all such reimbursements is determined annually by the Trustees.

Custodial functions for the fund's assets are provided by Putnam Fiduciary Trust Company ("PFTC"), a subsidiary of Putnam, LLC. Putnam Investor Services, a division of PFTC, provides investor servicing agent functions to the fund. During the six months ended November 30, 2004, the fund paid PFTC $69,105 for these services.

Edgar Filing: PUTNAM MANAGED HIGH YIELD TRUST - Form N-CSR

The fund has entered into an arrangement with PFTC whereby credits realized as a result of uninvested cash balances are used to reduce a portion of the fund's expenses. For the six months ended November 30, 2004, the fund's expenses were reduced by $507 under these arrangements.

Each independent Trustee of the fund receives an annual Trustee fee, of which $539, as a quarterly retainer, as been allocated to the fund, and an additional fee for each Trustees meeting attended. Trustees receive additional fees for attendance at certain committee meetings.

The fund has adopted a Trustee Fee Deferral Plan (the "Deferral Plan") which allows the Trustees to defer the receipt of all or a portion of Trustees fees payable on or after July 1, 1995. The deferred fees remain invested in certain Putnam funds until distribution in accordance with the Deferral Plan.

The fund has adopted an unfunded noncontributory defined benefit pension plan (the "Pension Plan") covering all Trustees of the fund who have served as a Trustee for at least five years. Benefits under the Pension Plan are equal to 50% of the Trustee's average total retainer and meeting fees for the three years preceding retirement. Pension expense for the fund is included in Trustee compensation and expenses in the statement of operations. Accrued pension liability is included in Payable for Trustee compensation and expenses in the statement of assets and liabilities. The Trustees have terminated the Pension Plan with respect to any Trustee first elected after 2003.

Purchases and sales of securities

During the six months ended November 30, 2004, cost of purchases and proceeds from sales of investment securities other than short-term investments aggregated $20,600,706 and $20,319,035, respectively. There were no purchases or sales of U.S. government securities.

Note 4

Investment in Putnam Prime Money Market Fund

Pursuant to an Exemptive Order from the Securities and Exchange Commission, the fund invests in Putnam Prime Money Market Fund, an open-end management investment company managed by Putnam Management. Management fees paid by the fund are reduced by an amount equal to the management fees paid by Putnam Prime Money Market Fund with respect to assets invested by the fund in Putnam Prime Money Market Fund. For the period ended November 30, 2004, management fees paid were reduced by $1,529 relating to the fund's investment in Putnam Prime Money Market Fund. Income distributions earned by the fund are recorded as income in the statement of operations and totaled $14,892 for the period ended November 30, 2004.

Senior loan commitments

Senior loans are purchased or sold on a when-issued or delayed delivery basis and may be settled a month or more after the trade date; interest income is accrued based on the terms of the securities. Senior loans can be acquired through an agent, by assignment from another holder of the loan, or as a participation interest in another holder's portion of the loan. When the fund invests in a loan or participation, the fund is subject to the risk that an intermediate participant between the fund and the borrower will fail to meet its obligations to the fund, in addition to the risk that the borrower under the loan may default on its obligations.

Note 6

Regulatory matters and litigation

On April 8, 2004, Putnam Management entered into agreements with the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Massachusetts Securities Division representing a final settlement of all charges brought against Putnam Management by those agencies on October 28, 2003 in connection with excessive short-term trading by Putnam employees and, in the case of the charges brought by the Massachusetts Securities Division, by participants in some Putnam-administered 401(k) plans. The settlement with the SEC requires Putnam Management to pay $5 million in disgorgement plus a civil monetary penalty of $50 million, and the settlement with the Massachusetts Securities Division requires Putnam Management to pay $5 million in restitution and an administrative fine of $50 million. The settlements also leave intact the process established under an earlier partial settlement with the SEC under which Putnam Management agreed to pay the amount of restitution determined by an independent consultant, which may exceed the disgorgement and restitution amounts specified above, pursuant to a plan to be developed by the independent consultant.

Putnam Management, and not the investors in any Putnam fund, will bear all costs, including restitution, civil penalties and associated legal fees stemming from both of these proceedings. The SEC's and Massachusetts Securities Division's allegations and related matters also serve as the general basis for numerous lawsuits, including purported class-action lawsuits filed against Putnam Management and certain related parties, including certain Putnam funds. Putnam Management has agreed to bear any costs incurred by Putnam funds in connection with these lawsuits. Based on currently available information, Putnam Management believes that the likelihood that the pending private lawsuits and purported class-action lawsuits will have a material adverse financial impact on the fund is remote, and the pending actions are not likely to materially affect its ability to provide investment management services to its clients, including the Putnam funds.

Results of October 14, 2004 shareholder meeting (Unaudited)

An annual meeting of shareholders of the fund was held on October 14, 2004. At the meeting, each of the nominees for Trustees was elected, as follows:

About Putnam Investments

One of the largest mutual fund families in the United States, Putnam Investments has a heritage of investment leadership dating back to Judge Samuel Putnam, whose Prudent Man Rule has defined fiduciary tradition and practice since 1830. Founded over 65 years ago, Putnam Investments was built around the concept that a balance between risk and reward is the hallmark of a well-rounded financial program. We presently manage over 100 mutual funds in growth, value, blend, fixed income, and international.
